Egyptians Charge British Troops With Slaying Sentry At Port Said

By Fred Zusy

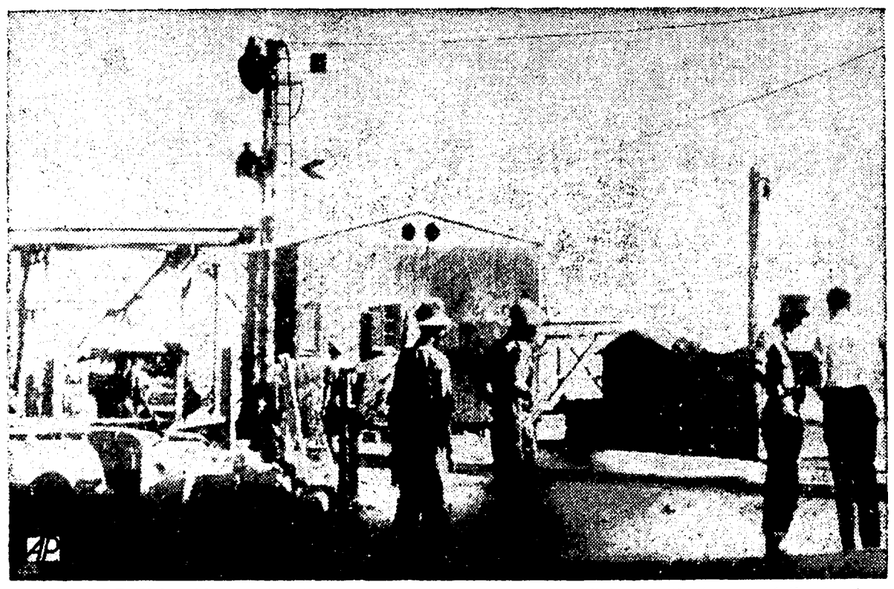

Cairo, Egypt, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Two more shootings shattered the uneasy calm of the canal garrison area today and Britain rushed new reinforcements, including anti-aircraft units, to ward off any surprise bombing raids and protect her Suez lifeline.

At the same time a strong police detachment unceremoniously deported from the Sudan an Egyptian education official who had ignored a British order to stay out of the country.

Western diplomats did not believe the Egyptian army would wage war to enforce the government's scrapping of the 1936 alliance with Britain and the 52 years of Anglo-Egyp-

Senate, House End Year's Work With Passage On Three Major Appropriation Bills; President Wants Higher Tax Bill

Washington, Oct. 20. —(AP— The 82nd congress quit for the year tonight, voting $13,133,150,952 in appropriations as its swan song.

In the sometimes busy and sometimes idle final day, congress completed action on:

A $7,328,903,976 bill to finance military and economic aid for non-Communist nations.

A $4,128,000,000 military construction bill.

And a $1,676,246,976 supplemental bill to help run the economic controls agencies and various defense activities.

In the meantime, President Truman signed the $5,691,000,000 tax increase bill that congress sent him yesterday, but said it wasn't enough. He said he would ask congress in January to come up with better tax legislation.

Most congressmen have been figuring that this was a $91,000,000,000 session of congress. The freest spending of any year when the country was not formally at war. Senator Ferguson came up today, however, with an estimate of $97,678,326,891. Ferguson told the senate that the smaller estimate did not include more than $6,000,000,000 of "fixed" appropriations, mostly interest on the public debt.

This kind of heavy appropriations has got to stop, Ferguson said.

Today saw little of the hoopla and high jinks that marked other final adjournment days, but there was plenty of speech making. However, after almost 10 hours of oratory, the house became speechless—there were no speakers at all wanting the floor at 5:30 p. m. and the members sat around waiting for the senate to clean up some final details.

Finally, the house members got tired and adjourned at 5:46 p. m.

The senate lingered on, with Senator Neely (D.-W. Va.) scolding senatorial "windbags."

The great overshadowing subject of debate during the year was how to strengthen the United States and its Allies against Russian communism.

In addition to the huge defense and foreign aid appropriations, the session lowered the minimum draft age to 18½, provided for a system of universal military training in the future and extended price-wage and other controls on the home front.

However, the control bill was far from what Mr. Truman wanted, and congress left town without

Boggs, Spaht Conduct Political Meets Here

By Yvonne Brett

Ouachita parish voters were urged by gubernatorial candidate Carlos Spaht here Saturday to weigh the qualifications of all candidates before making a decision.

Spaht, supported by Governor Earl K. Long, spoke to a large crowd at Five Points.

The administration candidate stated that when elected to the governorship it would be his aim upon leaving office to see hard surfaced roads to every school and church in the state.

"I am proud to have the support of the state administration in the forthcoming election and I plan if elected to office, to continue the program which has already been instituted," Spaht said.

Editor's Note:
Serving as master of ceremonies Saturday afternoon at a political rally for Judge Carlos Spaht in Monroe, Otto "Chameleon" Passman, fifth district congressman, dared a newspaper reporter to print his statement. The Morning World does not think Mr. Passman's statement was worth quoting, since it was a mass of figures which most people would not care to read through. The congressman's dare has nothing to do with our printing or not printing the statement.
Mr. Passman has changed his choice in the governor's race so often that every time he speaks he has to refer to notes to see which candidate he is supporting that day. Before the first primary election on January 15, he probably will have given his support in turn to all the 10 different gubernatorial candidates. Mr. Passman first intended to support himself in the governor's race but couldn't do even that for longer than 10 days.

Spaht explained to the assembled group that Governor Long would not take the platform because the sun was too hot and he wasn't well.

Candidate for Lt. governor, John McKeithen of Columbia, stated that he would put up no defense for the state administration because every candidate in the race had attempted to gain its support.

Senator Ernest S. Clements, seeking the post of commissioner of wildlife and fisheries, told the people that Russell Long should

REVENUE CHIEFS CALLED TO MEET

Session Will Be To Acquaint Heads With Bureau Policies

Washington, Oct. 20.—(AP)—The bureau of internal revenue, under heavy fire in a congressional investigation of tax-gathering scandals, today called in all its field office heads for a three-day conference.

An announcement by Commissioner John B. Dunlap said the purpose of the meeting "is to enable the new commissioner to acquaint the field officials with his policies and his plans for the treatment of the operational problems of the bureau." The conference begins next Monday.

Dunlap became head of the big federal tax agency after the retirement recently of George J. Schoeneman.

The announcement did not mention the current investigation of a house subcommittee which has resulted in the dismissal of several bureau agents in some major cities. The probe turned up testimony of alleged tax fixes, large race track winnings and multiple bank accounts in the names of some bureau agents.

Dunlap has promised the committee headed by Representative King (D.-Cal.) the full cooperation of the bureau. Several times in recent days he quickly suspended or dismissed agents who refused

ACTION AGAINST BOGGS IN COURT

Miss Grace Takes Fight To Court To Stop Boggs In Election

Baton Rouge, La., Oct. 20.—(AP)—Miss Lucille May Grace went to court today in her fight to knock U. S. Rep. Hale Boggs out of Louisiana's race for governor.

Miss Grace, register of the state land office, and Boggs, congressman from New Orleans, are among ten Democratic candidates for the state's top office. She contends he is ineligible because he still is a member of congress and once joined a Communist front organization.

Yesterday, the Democratic state central committee dismissed Miss Grace's charges. By a 68-24 vote, the 100-member party governing body ruled they were improperly filed — with the secretary instead of the chairman.

Today, Miss Grace filed suit in district court here.

Her petition asks that the committee decision "be annulled and set aside" and her objections to Boggs' candidacy be maintained. It also asks that Boggs "be decreed to be ineligible" and the committee ordered to leave his name off the official ballot in its Jan. 15 gubernatorial primary election.

District Judge Coleman Lindsay received the suit, filed by Charles Rivet of New Orleans, counsel for

City Council, Land Owners Slate Meet

West Monroe property owners affected by the city council's action to force all residents living within 300 feet of a main sewer to tie in, will meet with Mayor C. C. Bell, Jr. and the councilmen Monday night at 7:30 in city hall.

The purpose of the meeting is to seek adjustments to the council's ruling due to the expense involved.

One alderman said the property owners were mostly those who rent houses to Negroes. There are about 300 such homes without sanitary sewers in the city.

Cost of installation and tieing in will be around $300 for each home.

At the last council meeting, Alderman Jack Bagwell stated the property owners he had talked to were ready to begin tieing in. It was considered at that time to call in the property owners and see how fast the tieing-in process could be carried out.

About eight property owners are expected to attend.

AGED MAN SAVED IN SNAKE BITE

Timely First Aid Prevents Poison From Taking Full Effect

Timely application of first aid by an expert and assistance by a second young woman who summoned an ambulance undoubtedly saved the life of Windsor Pipes, 80, of Bastrop, well known in Monroe, when all three were on a hunting trip and when the aged man had been bitten by a venomous snake.

Miss Ada Bess Hart, director of physical education for women in Northeast Louisiana State College; Miss Frances Kelso, assistant director of home economics in the college here, and Windsor Pipes, venerable man who is still as active as a man far younger, left to go on a squirrel hunt on the Pipes plantation near Bastrop.

The three decided that if one should need help in any emergency that three shots would be fired quickly from a gun as a warning signal.

The trio then separated and for a short time all was well. When in a thicket, in some unexplained manner, Mr. Windsor was confronted by a cotton mouth moccasin, that made a soring at his hand and buried his fangs deeply into the flesh.

As soon as Mr. Pipes could recover his shocked senses, he fired

ODD FELLOWS WILL BE HOSTS

With Rebekahs Will Entertain Ark. And Miss. Lodge Delegations

October 27, 1951, Ouachita Lodge No. 2 and Monroe Rebekah Lodge No. 66 of Monroe will be host to the Louisiana state conclave of Oddfellows and Rebekahs with Arkansas and Mississippi participating, sponsored by the Grand Lodge of Louisiana.

The Grand Lodges and Rebekah Assemblies will be represented by their respective grand masters, presidents and various other grand officers. Among the very distinguished personalities to attend this meeting will be Sovereign Grand Master Joe Looney of Oklahoma who is the grand master of the Sovereign Grand Lodge of the world.

This meeting is attracting widespread attention as it is the first of its kind to be held in the south and if successful will be the precedent for forming a permanent tri-state conclave to meet annually.

The host lodges take pleasure in extending to all members of the order as well as the general public a very cordial invitation to attend.

Concert Banquet

The Twin City Concerts, Inc., affiliated with Community Concerts, will have their kick-off banquet of the membership drive at the Virginia Hotel, Monday evening at eight o'clock. Herb Fox, of Chicago, field representative, will give final instructions for the one-week campaign scheduled from October 22-27. Slade Brown, who is directing the local association, will preside at the meeting which will be informal.

Truman Move Stirs Baptist Protests

President Appoints General Mark Clark To Vatican Ambassador Post

By J. W. Davis

Washington, Oct. 20.—(AP)—President Truman appointed Gen Mark Clark to be a full-fledged ambassador to the pope today, and stirred up immediate protests from his own Baptist and other protestant churches.

Mr. Truman said he acted in the interests of "diplomacy and humanitarianism" and to coordinate the struggle against communism. His clerical critics denounced the appointment as violating the concept that church and state should be kept separate.

Dr. J. M. Dawson, executive secretary of the Baptist public affairs committee, called it "perhaps a frantic bid for holding machine-ridden big cities in the approaching hot presidential race." He said it was "disruptive of national unity."

Pope Pius issued no statement but the vatican was reported unofficially to be delighted at the appointment.

Francis Cardinal Spellman, a leading spokesman for the Roman Catholic Church in the United states, said in New York that he was very pleased. He said that the vatican and the U. S. held "identical objectives of peace" and it was logical to have a practical exchange on how to achieve it.

The United States had consuls or ministers to the papacy from 1798 until 1868, when congress cut off funds for the mission. It has never had a full ambassador there, although Myron C. Taylor served as personal representative of Presidents Roosevelt and Truman from 1940 until last January 18. He had a personal rank as ambassador but his presence at Rome never constituted formal diplomatic relations.

Taylor, a New York financier, and Clark, who commanded in Italy during World War II, are both Episcopalians. Clark is now commander of the army field forces, with headquarters at Fort Monroe, Va.

Clark's nomination went to the senate only a few hours before the expected adjournment of congress. There appeared no possibility the senate would act at this session on whether to confirm him.

Officials of the senate foreign relations committee said the president would have to give Clark a recess appointment if he is to go to Rome before congress reconvenes in January.

Most senators were so wary of getting into the dispute that they wouldn't even be quoted as having "no comment." However, Senator McCarran (D.-Nev.), a Catholic, said Mr. Truman "is to be complimented" and Senator H. Alexander Smith (R.-N. J.) said he was "happy to have a direct contact between the vatican and the president" es-

The boy was described as being five years of age, blond, with blue eyes. He left Winnfield Sunday morning, Oct. 15, with his mother, Mrs. Lucy Lovell Neal, 24, and W. B. Kraft, 33, and has not been seen since then.

The bodies of both Mrs. Neal and Kraft were found side by side in a parked automobile about nine miles north of Natchitoches, La. last Thursday. Coroner W. H. Pierson said Kraft shot Mrs. Neal and then killed himself with the same weapon.

A $500 reward has been offered for the return of the child, dead or alive, since Sheriff Robinson fears that the child might also have been murdered.

West Monroe property owners affected by the city council's action to force all residents living within 300 feet of a main sewer to ite in, will meet with Mayor C. C. Bell, Jr. and the councilmen Monday night at 7:30 in city hall.

The purpose of the meeting is to seek adjustments to the council's ruling due to the expense involved.

One alderman said the property owners were mostly those who rent houses to Negroes. There are about 500 such homes without sanitary sewers in the city.

Cost of installation and tieing in will be around $300 for each home.

At the last council meeting, Alderman Jack Bagwell stated the property owners he had talked to were ready to begin tieing in. It was considered at that time to call in the property owners and see how fast the tieing-in process could be carried out.

About eight property owners are expected to attend.

Truman Move Stirs Baptist Protests

President Appoints General Mark Clark To Vatican Ambassador Post

By J. W. Davis

Washington, Oct. 20.—(AP)—President Truman appointed Gen Mark Clark to be a full-fledged ambassador to the pope today, and stirred up immediate protests from his own Baptist and other protestant churches.

Mr. Truman said he acted in the interests of "diplomacy and humanitarianism" and to coordinate the struggle against communism. His clerical critics denounced the appointment as violating the concept that church and state should be kept separate.

Dr. J. M. Dawson, executive secretary of the Baptist public affairs committee, called it "perhaps a frantic bid for holding machine-ridden big cities in the approaching hot presidential race." He said it was "disruptive of national unity."

Pope Pius issued no statement but the vatican was reported unofficially to be delighted at the appointment.

Francis Cardinal Spellman, a leading spokesman for the Roman Catholic Church in the United states, said in New York that he was very pleased. He said that the vatican and the U. S. held "identical objectives of peace" and it was logical to have a practical exchange on how to achieve it.

The United States had consuls or ministers to the papacy from 1798 until 1868, when congress cut off funds for the mission. It has never had a full ambassador there, although Myron C. Taylor served as personal representative of Presidents Roosevelt and Truman from 1940 until last January 18. He had a personal rank as ambassador but his presence at Rome never constituted formal diplomatic relations.

Taylor, a New York financier, and Clark, who commanded in Italy during World War II, are both Episcopalians. Clark is now commander of the army field forces, with headquarters at Fort Monroe, Va.

Clark's nomination went to the senate only a few hours before the expected adjournment of congress. There appeared no possibility the senate would act at this session on whether to confirm him.

Officials of the senate foreign relations committee said the president would have to give Clark a recess appointment if he is to go to Rome before congress reconvenes in January.

Most senators were so wary of getting into the dispute that they wouldn't even be quoted as having "no comment." However, Senator McCarran (D.-Nev.), a Catholic, said Mr. Truman "is to be complimented" and Senator H. Alexander Smith (R.-N. J.) said he was "happy to have a direct contact between the vatican and the president" es-

ODD FELLOWS WILL BE HOSTS

With Rebekahs Will Entertain Ark. And Miss. Lodge Delegations

October 27, 1951, Ouachita Lodge No. 2 and Monroe Rebekah Lodge No. 66 of Monroe will be host to the Louisiana state conclave of Oddfellows and Rebekahs with Arkansas and Mississippi participating, sponsored by the Grand Lodge of Louisiana.

The Grand Lodges and Rebekah Assemblies will be represented by their respective grand masters, presidents and various other grand officers. Among the very distinguished personalities to attend this meeting will be Sovereign Grand Master Joe Looney of Oklahoma who is the grand master of the Sovereign Grand Lodge of the world.

This meeting is attracting widespread attention as it is the first of its kind to be held in the south and if successful will be the precedent for forming a permanent tri-state conclave to meet annually.

The host lodges take pleasure in extending to all members of the order as well as the general public a very cordial invitation to attend.

Concert Banquet

The Twin City Concerts, Inc., affiliated with Community Concerts, will have their kick-off banquet of the membership drive at the Virginia Hotel, Monday evening at eight o'clock. Herb Fox, of Chicago, field representative, will give final instructions for the one-week campaign scheduled from October 22-27. Slade Brown, who is directing the local association, will preside at the meeting which will be informal.

Wants Prisoners For Army, Navy

Chicago, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson said today that the nation should consider swelling its armed forces from the ranks of penitentiary prisoners and youthful offenders.

Manpower needs and Illinois experience in paroling 3,000 prisoners for military service during World War Two supports this conclusion, he said in a speech prepared for the National Conference of Juvenile Agencies.

Stevenson said a study of what happened to the Illinois parolles shows that 87 per cent received honorable discharges and that many distinguished themselves in uniform.

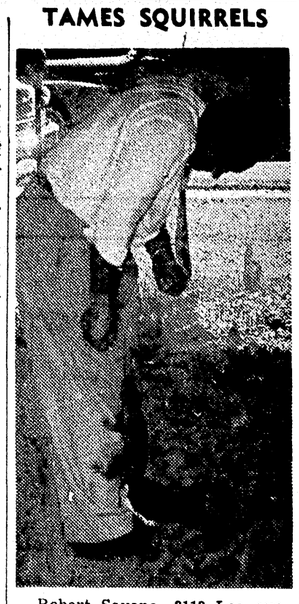

He cautioned that he did not propose making the armed forces a "dumping ground for intractable offenders from correctional institutions."

Only carefully screened men should be selected, he said.

Stevenson noted that federal selective service authorities expect to reach the bottom of the regular manpower pool in 1953.

The governor said the country's felon population, between the ages of 18 and 35, is about 375,000, with at least half meeting armed forces mental, physical and education standards.

TAMES SQUIRRELS

Robert Savana, 3113 Lee avenue, has made pets of the squirrels on the courthouse lawn. They will go to him when he calls from across the street. Savana is shown with one of the pets climbing his trouser leg.

Youth Cuts Off Hand At Wrist

Gaylord, Minn., Oct. 20. —(AP)— A 20 year old Gaylord farm youth cut off his left hand at the wrist with a pocket knife when the member became caught in a corn picking machine.

After the emergency amputation, Leo Messner worked himself out of his coat and sweater which also were tangled in the machine, and then walked to a nearby field where his father was working.

Messner is in fair condition in a Gaylord hospital.

Once during the ordeal, Messner dropped the pocket knife, but worked it up his leg with one foot until he could reach it with his free hand.

SWEETEST WOMAN

Chicago, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Mrs. William J. Heydrict 4807 Garden St., Philadelphia, was called "The Sweetest Woman of the Year" today by a National Sweetest Day committee.

Sidney Nielfield, head of the committee, said Mrs. Heydrick was chosen for 30 years' outstanding work in family relations and community service. She is an active clubwoman and speaker for civic groups.

Federal law prohibits the destructive giant African land snail from being brought into the country.

MAKE PLANS FOR MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

Chairmen of the Twin City Concerts, Inc., affiliated with the Community Concerts, met with executive board members and other officers Wednesday night at the Bayou DeSiard Country Club to map out plans for the one-week membership drive which gets underway Monday, October 22. LA. CONFERENCE SCHEDULED HERE

Monroe District Of Methodist Women To Be Well-Represented

The Monroe District of the Methodist Woman's Society of Christian Service will be well-represented at the annual Louisiana Conference which will be held at First Church Monroe Tuesday, October 23rd through noon Thursday, October 25th. Delegates from each of the churches will be in attendance and, in addition, many unofficial representatives will take advantage of the nearness of the annual meeting to attend part or all of the sessions.

District officers will have a part in the three-day program. These include Mrs. Harvey Moak, president; Mrs. H. F. Boyd, vice-pres.; Miss Juanita Porter, treasurer; Mrs. R. G. Taylor, recording secretary. Secretaries of the various departments of work corresponding with conference classifications are: Mrs. M.A. DeFreese, Mrs. Nell Chennault, Mrs. Harold Hunt, Mrs. W.C. McKay, Mrs. C. L. Taylor, Mrs. Don Alverson, Mrs. W. A. Cotton, Mrs. C. R. Brown, Mrs. R. L. Clayton, and Mrs. Henry Williams.

Local Methodist church societies are lending their assistance in the entertaining of the conference, one of their contributions being the serving of coffee during the hours of registration on Tuesday. Mrs. Harvey Moak is chairman of this group.

LAKE PROVIDENCE

Mrs. A. S. Hill left Monday for Little Rock, Ark., where she will visit with her son and daughter-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Alex Hill, while in the care of an osteopath.

Casper M. Lensing is in Houma, where is is employed by the Texas Oil Co., and is to be joined there soon by Mrs. Lensing and their young daughter Madeleine. Lake Providence friends regret their moving elsewhere but wish them health and happiness in their new location.

Mrs. J. P. Davis and Mrs. Bessle B. Powell enjoyed lunch with Mrs. John Lewis and Mrs. C. E. McKenzie of Monroe, guests of the East Carroll Garden club, at Hotel Maben on Tuesday.

Mrs. Wilson Lepine of Laureal Valley, Thibodeaux, on a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Gross, and brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Elmus Coleman, is to be joined this week end by Mr. Lepine for the trip back home.

Mrs. R. N. Amacker, fifth district parliamentarian of the Louisiana Federation of Women's clubs, a member of the Carroll Woman's Club of Lake Providence, was in Monroe for attendance at the recent fifth district convention.

Mrs. Leota Hagel, Oklahoma City, is in Lake Providence for a visit with her son and daughter-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hagel, and son-in-law and daughter Mr. and Mrs. Hardy O'Steen.

Most unique and appealing in cowboy theme were the decorations for the fifth birthday party of James Henry Gilfoil, IV. given by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Gilfoil, III, on Monday afternoon at 3:30.

Wearing a bright red plaid shirt, Hop-A-Long Cassiday outfit young Jim received the 60 guests invited to add to the happiness of the birthday celebration.

Favors were cowboy color books. In serving the refreshments the birthday cake was a spell binder, as it was topped with a corral fence enclosing bucking broncos and cowboys. The napkins and plates were decorated in the western motif.

Refreshments were served and games were enjoyed on the range at the Gilfoil home grounds.

Miss Carolyn Rentz, attending Newcomb and George Trieschmann at Tulane, plan to come home to spend this week end with their respective parents.

James Green, secretary of National Farm Loan, was speaker at the Wednesday meeting of the Lake Providence Rotary club and held the members attention in reviewing the history of "Rotary Foundation.' In the absence of the president, Charles S. Perry, the vice president William W. Ward conducted a short business session.

Mrs. W. D. Brown, so critically ill at St. Francis, Monroe, is kept under close observation by her sons and daughters-in-law, who commute daily to be at her bedside with one remaining constantly at her bedside. Mrs. Brown's many friends throughout this area regret her serious illness.

WOUNDED

A West Monroe soldier was "seriously wounded in action in Korea Oct. 4," according to a telegram disclosed here yesterday by his parents.

He is Sgt. Francis R. Richardson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Prince Richardson, 600 Jonesboro Road, West Monroe.

The message said that Sgt. Richardson was hit by 22 pieces of shrapnel from the burst of a mortar shell. His injuries were reported in his back, legs and arms.

In a letter to his parents, Richardson said that he was being evacuated from Korea to a hospital in Japan where it was expected that he would undergo operations.

Richardson served with the first cavalry division, 5th regiment and saw seven months of action in the Korean conflict. He went into service about one year ago.

Vatican Pleased With Nomination

Vatican City, Oct. 20.—(AP)—The Vatican unofficially expressed delight tonight over President Truman's nomination of General Mark W. Clark to be the first U. S. ambassador to the Holy See.

Spokesman Msgr. Joseph McHugh said official comment would be withheld until the Vatican receives formal notification of the president's action from the United States.

The pope's private residence at Castel Gandolfo said "the only one here is the holy father. Any comment must come from the Vatican."

One American diplomat described the nomination as "a bolt from the blue."

Another usually informed American source said the decision "apparently was taken entirely in the White House." This informant said that as far as he knew there had been no advance notice to the U.S. embassy in Rome.

The immediate reaction in informed American circles was that the selection of General Clark might ease the way for senate confirmation since he is a popular military figure. His personal prestige and wartime record should win support from some senators who otherwise might have opposed having an official American representative to the Vatican, these informants felt.

The reaction in Italy also is expected to be favorable. Troops led by Clark, first 5th army commander and later commander of the 15th army group, drove the Germans out of Italy. He personally led the liberating army into Rome, within whose environs the Holy See is located.

Man Jailed For Sitting On Flag

Detroit, Oct. 20. —(AP)— A man whom police said sat on the American flag to keep his clothes from getting dirty was sitting in jail today.

Police arrested Orville Wallace, 29, of Detroit, after they saw him in his parked car with the flag carefully tucked beneath him as a seat cover. He was charged with defaming and desecrating the flag.

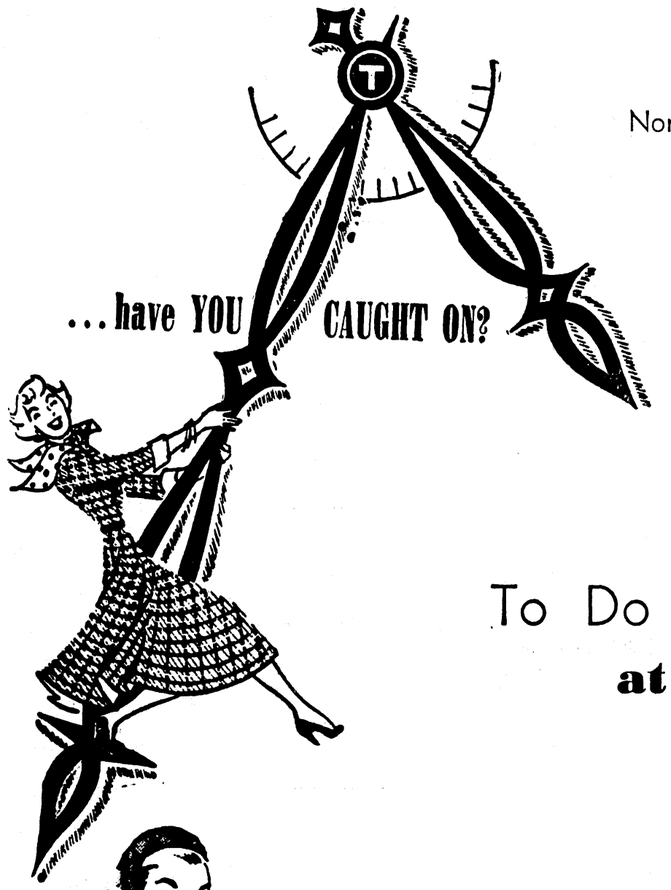

Police said Wallace explained he used the 4 by 8 foot flag to keep his clothes from getting stained from the dirty car cushions.

TROOPS FOR IKE

Montreal, Oct. 20. —(AP)— Canada today sent off the first of its ground forces for General Dwight Eisenhower's European defense force, with 330 officers and men sailing aboard the S. S. Columbia.

This advance party of the infantry brigade will land at Rotterdam and move to the British sector of Germany by train.

Good Officeholders

Three holders of important offices in Ouachita parish are being returned to their positions without opposition in the coming elections and we believe the people will be generally pleased and benefited. These office holders are R. Dean Farr, clerk of court; Bert Coverdale, tax assessor, and Dr. J. T. French, coroner.

No doubt there are many who would gladly have run for these positions but those who had such ambitions realized that their chances of success were so slight that it would have been useless to enter the races.

All of these men give courteous and attentive service to anyone who has occasion to go into their offices. In the offices of Mr. Farr and Mr. Coverdale all members of the personnel are friendly and willing to oblige. People seeking information on property or other matters with which these offices are concerned receive ready, courteous and adequate assistance and those who are not pleased with the treatment received in these offices are few and far between.

Dr. French gives personal attention to practically all cases that come within his jurisdiction and acts promptly on all matters brought before him. He is friendly, likeable and cooperative and fills his position well.

We feel that when an officeholder has filled his job so capably and satisfactorily that no one feels it worthwhile to enter an election against him that officeholder is entitled to special praise and commendation.

This is especially true when the officeholder does not belong to any particular clique and runs strictly on his own merits and those of the members of his staff. In the cases of Dr. French, Mr. Coverdale and Mr. Farr we believe that this situation existed. Each of these men has made it a point not to get tied up with any particular clique or ring, either among parish or state politicians.

Ouachita parish has almost always shown that it likes to take its parish politics separate from state politics so that it will be free to elect men of its own choosing within the parish, without having to consider any alignment with state politicians.

We feel that Mr. Coverdale, Mr. Farr and Dr. French have done well in their offices and will continue to do so.

We congratulate these men on their unopposed victories.

Movies At Fifty

The American motion picture industry, now at its fiftieth milestone, is one of the most influential factors in shaping American life and thought, and a leader in interpreting America to the peoples of other lands. If for a period communistic influences had infiltrated Hollywood, progress has been made in eliminating them.

Since the first flickering shows, based upon the Edison invention, were presented, the movies have gained steadily in technique and in appeal to the public. They went from silent to talkie to color and are still making progress in the art of transferring a story or a news event to the screen for the entertainment of millions.

The general tendency of Hollywood, after an interlude of propaganda films, is again to present constructive lessons through its art. The good in life is extolled and the bad gets its comeuppance. If there are moral degenerates among the working personnel of Hollywood, so are there in other walks of American life, including the political. It is a custom to overplay the didoes of high-salaried movie stars, thus distorting the true picture.

The movies continue to be a bulwark of American civilization, to spread the word of the American way of life to other peoples, to make America the shining acme of achievement and to bring cheer and encouragement into the lives of millions. No other mode of entertainment has ever made such an impress upon the human family.

The movies, at 50 years of age, can boast of their accomplishments and look forward to other achievements to come.

Paying The Price

It has been the policy of the administration to help the countries outside the Communist zone to become self-supporting by subsidizing their economies. Billions of dollars have been "loaned" to various nations to help them rebuild factories and speed industrial progress. To date not much progress has been made in Europe for various reasons.

Japanese industry has recovered more rapidly, and now that a peace has been negotiated that country should make greater strides toward industrial recovery.

Under present-day conditions military and economic strength are inseparable. To be sufficient unto themselves nations must have basic resources which make them independent of outside aid. Nations of western Europe would offer a stronger barrier to communism if economically strong. This is the theory which has been acted upon by Washington since the end of the last war.

In the case of Japan, however, American markets already are feeling the impact of low-cost Japanese goods, produced by labor working for wages one-fifteenth of those paid in this country in similar industries. Chinese markets, formerly the leading outlet for Japanese products, are not available now.

The result is that Japanese goods are flooding American markets, to compete with American products. Eventually the United States will learn that its paternalistic interest in other nations entails an indirect cost which will be difficult to meet.

Sea And Air Defenses

Those who have been living in fear of Russian invasion, either by land or air, should feel easier as a result of statements by top military men.

Admiral W. M. Fechteler, chief of naval operations, says there is "no possibility whatever" of Russian armies invading this country so long as the U. S. Navy retains control of the sea. This superiority would not only keep Russia or any other enemy away from the home shores, but would enable the United States to successfully invade Russian territory if the need ever arose.

There has been much speculation about Russian submarine strength. Admiral Fechteler says the U. S. Navy is prepared to meet and defeat any underwater force the Reds can muster. The navy is ready in case Red submarines enter the fighting in Korean waters, he says. Nor can Russia seriously jeopardize the United States through air raids, the admiral declares, speaking for another branch of the service.

If war comes in the next 20 to 30 years the Allies will win it, although a third world war is too horrible to contemplate, the admiral continues. If Russian leaders arrive at the same conclusions as Admiral Fechteler they will avoid all out war with the United States.

Tons of dirt circulate in the air of big cities, And think of the gossip lovers who enjoy letting it go into their ears.

A man's vacation flirtations always lead to something—when his wife hears about them.

George E. Sokolsky:

THESE DAYS

THE EMPIRE FADES

If the Moslems succeed in forcing Great Britain out of the middle east, little of importance will be left to the empire but the self-governing dominions. To Disraeli India was the richest jewel in Victoria's crown — and when India was lost, the empire moved on its march of death.

From Elizabeth to Victoria, the British builded an amazing world out of sea power. They pushed Spain and Holland aside, defeated France and combining military zeal with commercial skill brought the continents together by ships and goods and the movement of men and money. Truthfully, it could be said that the sun never set on the Union Jack or for that matter on British trade.

It was England's German king, George III, and his stupid ministers who lost the thirteen American colonies. Such British statesmen as Burke and Pitt understood the error in their day and fought hard against the king's and Lord North's lack of statesmanship. The United States of American came into being, but the northern colonies, Nova Scotia, Newfoundland, and other areas taken from France eventually became Canada and remained loyal.

British policy in Europe and Asia had ever been to permit no power to overwhelm either continent. In the balance of power, Great Britain played the middleman's role and profitably survived most wars.

However, the balance of power could not maintain the peace of Europe as long as the pressure of nationalism burst forth like geysers. British policy has generally been to discourage nationalism such as Joan of Arc or the French revolution or the Germany of Bismarck produced. Even the Italy of Mazzini frightened the British, as did, in time, the Italy of Mussolini. If only the world would stay put, the British could always keep open the avenues of commerce.

But the world would not stay put and always so-called weak and backward nations pressed their claims upon the strong and decaying powers. The Crimean war saved Turkey from an emerging Russia but it did not save Turkey from its own decay, just as all the agreements and treaties defining colonial spheres of influence in Asia and Africa staved off war in the first decade of the 20th century but not in the second decade, nor in the third and fourth.

It is Moslem nationalism which now faces Britain in Egypt, Iran, Iraq, and, it is to be assumed, everywhere in Asi aas far as Pakistan. It is not only that the Moslems feel the growing pains of resurrected nationalism, but as a practical matter, it no longer pays to be tied in with British policy or British trade. This is the price that Great Britain is having to pay for two wars out of which she came politically victorious and economically damaged.

Since World War I, what remained of the Turkish empire in the middle east was carved up among the great Moslem families into Iraq, Saudi Arabia, Jordan. Persia was changed into Iran; Palestine became Israel; Syria and Lebanon became sovereign; forgotten Yemen emerged. And oil made the Moslems rich — richer than they had been in all their history since Mohammed went on the Hegira from Mecca to Medina.

Egypt is the heart of the Moslem world. It is historically the oldest existent nation in the human story. It is rich becase of the Nile and the Suez Canal. It is rich because the British rescued it from the Osmanli — from the Turkish empire.

But nations have no gratitude as Americans have learned in two wars. The Egyptians seek to become wholly independent, wholly sovereign with no strings attached.

The stakes are enormous, not only for Egypt, but also for Soviet Russia. The dangers are now greatest for the United States that has assumed the responsibility of maintaining the status quo of 1945, which means that the Nationalistic impulses of such countries as Egypt, Iran, Iraq, India, Pakistan or any other nation are to restrained in the interest of Great Britain.

But the Moslem world does not want to be restrained. It is on the march from Pakistan to North Africa. It is a world that can no longer be ignored. It has the will to establish itself as the third great power — the United States, Soviet Russia and Islam. A powerful nationalistic leaven moves all of Asia —east Asia and west Asia, from the Pacific to the Mediterranean. Not Russia, Britain or America will stop this movement.

BASCOM TIMMONS

Resignation of William M. Boyle, Jr., as Democratic national chairman and the clamor among more vocal Republicans for similar action by their national chairman, Guy Gabrielson brings to mind a frequent assertion here—that neither party has had a first class politician to head up its national committee since James A. Farley resigned as Democratic party chief in 1940.

Had they been politically smart, it is said, neither Boyle nor Gabrielson would have let themselves become embroiled in the RFC situation in any way. Boyle could have made a public declaration at the time he became chairman in August 1949 that he was severing all connection with his legal clients and backed it up with details, instead of merely announcing that he was withdrawing as a partner in his law firm.

Gabrielson could have hired any lawyer in Washington to carry on his business with R. F. C., which apparently consisted only of a request that a large loan to his company be extended. The request made by Gabrielson was denied and the company — Carthage Hydrocol Inc., with a plant at Brownsville, Tex.—met the payment due on the loan.

But Gabrielson has not resigned and may stay on until the Taft-Eisenhower factions in the GOP can reconcile their differences to a point where they are able to agree on a replacement. The national committee, of course, could oust him, but things just aren't done that way in the Republican party. Meanwhile, Democrats who sighed with relief when Boyle quit. —they say that in view of his poor health, which has been known to his close friends for some time, he should have resigned months ago — are now reminding Republicans that Gabrielson is a millstone which they must carry, during a period when the whole political situation is jumpy.

Some executives of the Republican national committee loyal to Gabrielson, are betting that he will still be chairman when the Republican national convention meets at Chicago next June.

What annoys both the White House and Gabrielson's Republican critics is that not within the memory of the oldest living political historian has either chairman or both, been involved in any questionable conduct with the federal government. Some of them like Edward J. Flynn, Democratic boss of the Bronx, who served as national chairman during the later years of the New Deal, were charged with various errors of judgment (he used city paving blocks to make some improvements on his estate) but not with dealings to their own advantage with a federal agency.

National party chairman as presidential campaign directors and leaders of party organization date back to 1856 when the Republican party presented its first candidate, James Fremont, against James Buchanan, the Democratic nominee, who was elected. The rival offices have been occupied by big and little men, a few of whom were able political leaders, though soon forgotten by the public and by their parties. Tops were Farley, outstanding in the modern era; Republican Senator Mark Hanna of Ohio, President McKinley's chairman and Vance McCormick of Pennsylvania, the Democratic chairman who helped President Wilson win reelection in 1916 by an eyelash.

Boyle's successor will of course be President Truman's selection. Washington speculation favors John L. Sullivan Washington attorney and former Secretary of the Navy, who resigned that office in 1949 in a sharp disagreement over the building of a super carrier, construction of which has now been resumed after a two years delay and with a huge increase in cost, due to the higher price of materials.

Sullivan whose home is in New Hampshire has told at least one inquirer he could not afford to take the chairmanship, because of his prosperous law business. He has pointed out that he spent 10 years as a government official and is now 52 years old, with about 10 years in which to improve his fortunes.

Former Senator Francis W. Myers of Pennsylvania is another possibility but it has been pointed out that both he and Sullivan are now Washington attorneys doing business with the government, and thus subject to the same general objection raised against Boyle.

Mrs. India Edwards, vice chairman of the committee, may carry on as acting chairman for several months, while the president makes up his mind.

IN MOVIELAND

Hollywood, Oct. 20. —AP— Most of Hollywood's ambassadors - at - large returned home this week and added fuel to the great debate about the worth of Movietime USA.

The week - long tour of movie makers in all parts of the nation has been called both "the greatest public relations stunt in the history of the industry" and "a dismal flop." The celebrations appear to have attracted much interest in some regions, particularly Texas, where a number of big-name stars showed up.

But other areas were bitterly disappointed by small - fry personalities who appeared for the events. There were other evidences of mismanagement, such as that which angered a Boston crowd and provoked the tossing of a lime at Dorothy Lamour.

Many theater men complained that the big stars who promised to appear never showed up. Now there is talk of a tour next year and the necessity to cajole, force or whip the major stars into hitting the road for dear old Hollywood.

Meanwhile the town returns to its normal functions of making pictures and one wonders if the errors of the past are ever studied for profit in the future. This week I heard of a musical in color which had been filmed at a major studio in 28 days. To meet this airtight schedule, the director seldom permitted more than one take. When the finished product was assembled, the producer was horrified and returned the film for expensive retakes.

There's another picture at a big studio which was shot in 40 days. The results were so poor that the film went back for 50 days of retakes! It's an Oriental adventure yarn with two top stars.

I visited one movie queen recently on the set of her new picture. As she came out of a scene, she confided, "This is the worst picture I have ever made. If audiences can take this, they can take anything."

And so it would seem that Hollywood should worry less about tours and train schedules and more about scripts and shooting schedules. . .

Among the best entries in the fall television sweepstakes are Red Skelton, Bob Hope and Lucille Ball. All three have produced entertaining shows that seem well suited to their talents.

Note that each of these shows lasts a half-hour. That seems to be a much better time for a personality to impose upon the living rooms of their viewers. Too many of the comics appear lost in an hour spread (sole exception: Jimmy Durante). Most of them stay on-camera too long or else pad out their shows with those endless dance numbers. I say hooray for the half-hour. . .

HOLLYWOOD

Hollywood, October 20. — Time out, please, while I indulge my propensity for "viewing with alarm."

A movie trade paper editor, while admitting the flop of the current "Movietime U. S. A." campaign, undertaken by Hollywood in an effort to repair its damaged "public relations," is tub-thumping for a greatly expanded version of the same idea, suggested for next year. This super-colossal proposal contemplates nothing less than a two-week shutdown of all the major studios, with all of their stars and most of their top executives taking the road to meet the people of the U. S. A. (Gee whiz, aren't we "people" becoming important?) The whole program would be planned far in advance, everyone would work together (it says in the trade paper) in complete, Utopian co-operation, every city in the United States would be privileged to see a bevy of top-flight stars, and, presto, the public and the folks of the movie industry would inevitably fall into one another's arms and exchange pledges of eternal love.

Well, maybe . . .

But a guy who's spent the better part of a lifetime watching stars feud over "billing," and studio bosses "co-operating" like Stalin and Trotsky, can't help nursing a few mental reservations. Heaven help the poor wight who finds himself in charge of, say, ten big stars, recruited from three or four different studios, as they sally forth to woo the citizens of Metropolis, U. S. A.! I consider myself reasonably courageous, but I'd rather enter an arena filled with untamed lions, and try to teach the beasts to tap dance. Courage and foolhardiness are two different things.

Since America always responds to an exciting show, it just might be that such a tremendous, colossal, gigantic, unprecedented, etc., etc. junket would do something for Hollywood's public relations, but I hate to think what it's apt to do to our internal relations. Things are bad enough in movie business as they are, without everyone hating everyone else.

Honestly, don't you agree that it would be smarter for the picture folks to stay home, make better pictures, revise their trashy advertising, and try to do something about those scandals?

Idol Chatter: Don't think I've ever seen anyone look as nude as Adolphe Menjou does without his mustache! . . . Add cultural notes: A report from Hollywood's No. 1 beauty parlor that many blondes are now asking to have their hair done a la Barbara Payton. . . . Didjuh know that Artie Auerback, radio's "Mr. Kitzel," is an ex newspaper photog, and that he's been on leave of absence from the New York Daily News for 15 years? . . . That expression, "Drop Dead," must have been coined to fit the screen career of Actor Warren Stevens, who was drowned in "The Frogmen," burned in "Red Skies of Montana," and killed in a plane crash in "Phone Call From A Stranger." . . . Ode to swank: The radio phone in Errol Flynn's new Jaguar sportster.

With the "boy-meets-girl" theme having been so overworked on the screen, the scenarist who's conscientious enough to look for a new "gimmick" whereby the hero and the heroine achieve a first meeting faces a difficult problem. Dudley Nichols solved it in doing the script for "Return of the Texan," but, being honest, has to give Lady Luck credit for an important assist. While writing the story, he took time out to attend a studio preview, and, in making his way to a seat, managed to get the belt

Memos of a Girl Friday.

Dear Mr. W: Senator Wiley's warm reply to the Mr. and Mrs. U. S. piece is too long for one col'm. He planned a complete statement on the matter for The Cong. Record and is sending you a copy. I haven't had a chance to type our reply to him but will do so today. Senator Lehman inserted that col'm into the Record on Wed., stating that "the shameful rider should be eliminated". . .Ralph Branca, the pitcher (off whom Bobby Thomson homer'd and ended the Nat'l League pennant race) and Ann Mulvey will be married tomorrow. . .The Gen. Eisenhowers become grandkin again in Dec. . . Elsa Maxwell tells chums the Duke and Duchess will "never separate" . . .The Roosevelt katzenjammer kids (Elliott and John) may start their own after-midnight deejay program!. . .And Joan Fontaine and Peg Rutledge will motor (together to H'wood. What a spot for a hitch - hike.

I checked the El Morocco-Dan Topping-society writer thing again and what we said was correct. The journalist never knew it was happening (and Perona didn't want a fuss), but if it weren't for Joe Cronin, Bob Ritchie and others, Topping (and the almost-victim) might have lost their heads. . .The George Schraffts, who have kissed and made up many times, are reconciled as of this edition . . . It is positively not true that when Eleanor (and detectives) busted in—Billy Rose said: "Now is the time to heave a wife!"

You - know - who - left these memos: One reason Willie Moretti's murder may never be solved is that the first cops on the scene picked up all the cups and glasses on the table and spoiled the fingerprints. Accidentally, no doubt. . . That one waitress allegedly got $150 per week to take calls, etc. That his slaying had nothing to do with mobs or talking too much. For all his blabbing Willie never implicated others. That he was up to his neck in hock to some of the biggest bookies in the East. That ment pronto but was months tardy in paying when he lost.

You had Edith Piaf being stuck on her doctor in Paris, which could be. But pals just back from France tell me her new heart attack is Chas. Aznavour, a top lyricist. She keeps him locked up (incommunicado yet!) at her Montmarte home. . .The "Song of Autumn" col'm is now in the cornerstone (with that copy of The New Haven Register) of the Memorial Unit of the Grace-New Haven Hospital. Great response from readers in the 48 over it, by the way. . .The Ladies' Home Journal invites you among others to send a paragraph or two answering a child's query: "Why Was I Born?"

Collier's remarkable issue frightened me. I just skimmed through all of the fantastic articles by famed American authors — and it gave me a big scare. . .Do you think Stalin and his gang will ever see it? Can't we send planes to drop some copies over the Kremlin? It might bring them to their senses. Collier's editors rate a medal. . . Wonder if Acme Photos will hire the Trans-Canada hostess who was fired on the spot? When they discovered she was delivering the Queen Elizabeth-Prince Philip photos direct—skipping waybills, custom clearances, etc, thereby scooping other services by 2 hrs . . "Show Biz," the new book, just came in. You get over 25 mentions.

Reader's Digest has a picturesquote credited to Nunnally Johnson. About someone having the look of a dog that'd just been kicked by Albert Payson Terhune. Several readers say you used it as a sound-in-the-night in late 30s or early 40s. But I'll be dam'd if I'll go through all those files. . .Geo. Harrad reminds you that in Woollcott's "While Rome Burns" he credits La Parker with: "That woman speaks 7 languages and can't say No in any of them," which you thawt came from Gertie Lawrence's song, Jenny. . . . I did hear Edmund Lowe's program use "debutramps" (for debutantes) as tho' they just made it up!

At the end of each night's broadcast day NBC lulls you to sleep with a dreamy poem (with slumber music background) and suddenly pulls you out of bed with The National Anthem. Shouldn't it be the other way around? . . . .I hear Sally Benson and director Windust will surprise the first-nighters tonight at Ginger Rogers' new play—with a new miracle revising job. . .Kaye Ballard heads the new Blue Angel show. She's a clever girl. . .Got a funny line out of Bob Garrity's note. He's doing a new WINS soft music program (the kind you enjoy) from 12 to 3 (besides news) "because I have to help pay Harry's yachting expenses."

Do Mrs. FDR and the U. S. Dept. of Parks and Bldgs. know that FDR's home at Hyde Park (now a money-maker museum) needs a paint job badly? "The Moon is Blue" will turn over the Sunday night premiere in Washington (plus author F. Hugh Herbert's royalties that week) to the Runyon Fund. . .Newsweek's foreign dep't is going oof'ly hi-brow on the distaff side. For replacements only Vassar and Welzleh girls are hired. (Oops parm me!). . .Navy Dep't. says someone spread a fib on why it refused to okay the film version of "The Caine Mutiny." The navy never said they'd okay it if the Capt. psychopath "was made a Naval Reserve Man," etc. Would you help stifle the bunk as a long-time USN Reservist?

Dog medicos and owners of pets are thankful for your tip recently about the virus epidemic that killed so many puppies. They report that it brought in thousands of people with their Winipoos and Tippy-Toes, whose lives were saved. . . . If Janis Paige's Mr. Big is Dick Stabile (like you said), howcum Jackie Cooper's moved out of his wife's house and is romancing La Paige all over town?. . .There's a nice success story for you. Jackie got the lead in "Remains to Be Seen" (or as the wags say: Arsenic and Old Crouse) and Mrs. Cooper (Hildy Parks) won a juicy part in the British play, "To Dorothy a Son." $ucce$$ seems to have split them. . .Co-author H. Lindsay gets $80 per wk acting in "Remains." His dressing room valet gets $75.

British Information Services' Major Wm. Ormerod just returned from London. Called to say he only just heard about the signoff hoping His Majesty recovers. He added: "Tell WW I've always felt that regardless of occasional criticisms, he is at heart a good friend of Britain". . .Remember Walter Benton, who did that beautiful book of poetry "This Is My Beloved"? He says he still gets the most erotic fan mail from folks everywhere. . Mary Small has a honey of a recording (King) called, "If I Can Love You in the Morning." Her husband wrote it. . . I hope you will make a must-read out of Lloyd Morton's "Incredible New York," due soon. It's a 100-year history of the New Yorkers who made The Big Town big. . .If you get a big complaint about me hanging up on a bore—who just wouldn't get to a period — do me somting! Oh, your father's clavicle!!!

Morning World
Monroe, La.

Will you please allow me a little space in your paper. I would like to say a few words about the "school cafeteria." First I would like to say they are a grand thing. They not only provide hot noon day lunches, for the children, but it is a great help to the busy mothers. As it is quite a job to get up and get several children ready for school and prepare their lunch.

But this is what I would like to see done; get the politics out of the schools and give these jobs in the cafeteria to people who need them. My husband hasn't been able to work a day in five and a half years and I have tried every way possible to get a job in the "school cafeteria" and for no reason except politics they will not give me a job. I am just as well qualified for the job as the ones that are working up there. I even told our school board member two years ago that I would work up there for $2 per day if the others would. He said everything was so high you couldn't buy much for $2. That is true, but you can buy more for $2 than you can without it.

I also have a friend and neighbor, Mrs. Rowena Roan, who has tried to get a job and for no reason whatsoever except politics they will not give her a job and she has a young son that she is trying to educate. She is a widow and I know she is one of the best qualified ladies in ward 6 for the job, as she and her husband, the late T. J. Roan, owned and operated a cafe here in Calhoun for a number of years. Mrs. Roan not only knows how to prepare the meals, but she knows how to serve them as well.

Three of the ladies that work in the school cafeteria have able-bodied husbands and they all have jobs. One of them also drives a school bus. I can't see where there is anything right in drawing two checks when other people need work. When she began driving the school bus and working in the school cafeteria our school board, member told me that she said if they would give her a bus to drive that she would work in the cafeteria free. I didn't say anything, but I thought, "Well, I didn't know we had any people in ward 6 that dumb." But a short time later I found out that she didn't live in ward 6 and that she wasn't working in the cafeteria free either. I made remarks not long ago that I didn't think it was right for her to be holding two jobs and someone said she didn't want to sit in the bus while school was in progress. I said, "Let her stay at home and give both jobs to people who need them."

I think it is time for the good people of ward 6 to come together and get politics out of the school and give the jobs to people who need them and have a better community to live in.

I agree with a politician I heard talking a few years ago. He said there wasn't but on place this side of heaven where we are all equal and that is when we go to the polls to cast our vote, and I thank God for that privilege.

"Politics are all right in their place, but I sure don't think they have any place in the schools.

I would like to hear what some of the other voters of ward 6 or any other ward think about the situation.

Good Officeholders

Three holders of important offices in Ouachita parish are being returned to their positions without opposition in the coming elections and we believe the people will be generally pleased and benefited. These office holders are R. Dean Farr, clerk of court; Bert Coverdale, tax assessor, and Dr. J. T. French, coroner.

No doubt there are many who would gladly have run for these positions but those who had such ambitions realized that their chances of success were so slight that it would have been useless to enter the races.

All of these men give courteous and attentive service to anyone who has occasion to go into their offices. In the offices of Mr. Farr and Mr. Coverdale all members of the personnel are friendly and willing to oblige. People seeking information on property or other matters with which these offices are concerned receive ready, courteous and adequate assistance and those who are not pleased with the treatment received in these offices are few and far between.

Dr. French gives personal attention to practically all cases that come within his jurisdiction and acts promptly on all matters brought before him. He is friendly, likeable and cooperative and fills his position well.

We feel that when an officeholder has filled his job so capably and satisfactorily that no one feels it worthwhile to enter an election against him that officeholder is entitled to special praise and commendation.

This is especially true when the officeholder does not belong to any particular clique and runs strictly on his own merits and those of the members of his staff. In the cases of Dr. French, Mr. Coverdale and Mr. Farr we believe that this situation existed. Each of these men has made it a point not to get tied up with any particular clique or ring, either among parish or state politicians.

Ouachita parish has almost always shown that it likes to take its parish politics separate from state politics so that it will be free to elect men of its own choosing within the parish, without having to consider any alignment with state politicians.

We feel that Mr. Coverdale, Mr. Farr and Dr. French have done well in their offices and will continue to do so.

We congratulate these men on their unopposed victories.

Movies At Fifty

The American motion picture industry, now at its fiftieth milestone, is one of the most influential factors in shaping American life and thought, and a leader in interpreting America to the peoples of other lands. If for a period communistic influences had infiltrated Hollywood, progress has been made in eliminating them.

Since the first flickering shows, based upon the Edison invention, were presented, the movies have gained steadily in technique and in appeal to the public. They went from silent to talkie to color and are still making progress in the art of transferring a story or a news event to the screen for the entertainment of millions.

The general tendency of Hollywood, after an interlude of propaganda films, is again to present constructive lessons through its art. The good in life is extolled and the bad gets its comeuppance. If there are moral degenerates among the working personnel of Hollywood, so are there in other walks of American life, including the political. It is a custom to overplay the didoes of high-salaried movie stars, thus distorting the true picture.

The movies continue to be a bulwark of American civilization, to spread the word of the American way of life to other peoples, to make America the shining acme of achievement and to bring cheer and encouragement into the lives of millions. No other mode of entertainment has ever made such an impress upon the human family.

The movies, at 50 years of age, can boast of their accomplishments and look forward to other achievements to come.

Paying The Price

It has been the policy of the administration to help the countries outside the Communist zone to become self-supporting by subsidizing their economies. Billions of dollars have been "loaned" to various nations to help them rebuild factories and speed industrial progress. To date not much progress has been made in Europe for various reasons.

Japanese industry has recovered more rapidly, and now that a peace has been negotiated that country should make greater strides toward industrial recovery.

Under present-day conditions military and economic strength are inseparable. To be sufficient unto themselves nations must have basic resources which make them independent of outside aid. Nations of western Europe would offer a stronger barrier to communism if economically strong. This is the theory which has been acted upon by Washington since the end of the last war.

In the case of Japan, however, American markets already are feeling the impact of low-cost Japanese goods, produced by labor working for wages one-fifteenth of those paid in this country in similar industries. Chinese markets, formerly the leading outlet for Japanese products, are not available now.

The result is that Japanese goods are flooding American markets, to compete with American products. Eventually the United States will learn that its paternalistic interest in other nations entails an indirect cost which will be difficult to meet.

Sea And Air Defenses

Those who have been living in fear of Russian invasion, either by land or air, should feel easier as a result of statements by top military men.

Admiral W. M. Fechteler, chief of naval operations, says there is "no possibility whatever" of Russian armies invading this country so long as the U. S. Navy retains control of the sea. This superiority would not only keep Russia or any other enemy away from the home shores, but would enable the United States to successfully invade Russian territory if the need ever arose.

There has been much speculation about Russian submarine strength. Admiral Fechteler says the U. S. Navy is prepared to meet and defeat any underwater force the Reds can muster. The navy is ready in case Red submarines enter the fighting in Korean waters, he says. Nor can Russia seriously jeopardize the United States through air raids, the admiral declares, speaking for another branch of the service.

If war comes in the next 20 to 30 years the Allies will win it, although a third world war is too horrible to contemplate, the admiral continues. If Russian leaders arrive at the same conclusions as Admiral Fechteler they will avoid all out war with the United States.

George E. Sokolsky:

THESE DAYS

THE EMPIRE FADES

If the Moslems succeed in forcing Great Britain out of the middle east, little of importance will be left to the empire but the self-governing dominions. To Disraeli India was the richest jewel in Victoria's crown — and when India was lost, the empire moved on its march of death.

From Elizabeth to Victoria, the British builded an amazing world out of sea power. They pushed Spain and Holland aside, defeated France and combining military zeal with commercial skill brought the continents together by ships and goods and the movement of men and money. Truthfully, it could be said that the sun never set on the Union Jack or for that matter on British trade.

It was England's German king, George III, and his stupid ministers who lost the thirteen American colonies. Such British statesmen as Burke and Pitt understood the error in their day and fought hard against the king's and Lord North's lack of statesmanship. The United States of American came into being, but the northern colonies, Nova Scotia, Newfoundland, and other areas taken from France eventually became Canada and remained loyal.

British policy in Europe and Asia had ever been to permit no power to overwhelm either continent. In the balance of power, Great Britain played the middleman's role and profitably survived most wars.

However, the balance of power could not maintain the peace of Europe as long as the pressure of nationalism burst forth like geysers. British policy has generally been to discourage nationalism such as Joan of Arc or the French revolution or the Germany of Bismarck produced. Even the Italy of Mazzini frightened the British, as did, in time, the Italy of Mussolini. If only the world would stay put, the British could always keep open the avenues of commerce.

But the world would not stay put and always so-called weak and backward nations pressed their claims upon the strong and decaying powers. The Crimean war saved Turkey from an emerging Russia but it did not save Turkey from its own decay, just as all the agreements and treaties defining colonial spheres of influence in Asia and Africa staved off war in the first decade of the 20th century but not in the second decade, nor in the third and fourth.

It is Moslem nationalism which now faces Britain in Egypt, Iran, Iraq, and, it is to be assumed, everywhere in Asi aas far as Pakistan. It is not only that the Moslems feel the growing pains of resurrected nationalism, but as a practical matter, it no longer pays to be tied in with British policy or British trade. This is the price that Great Britain is having to pay for two wars out of which she came politically victorious and economically damaged.

Since World War I, what remained of the Turkish empire in the middle east was carved up among the great Moslem families into Iraq, Saudi Arabia, Jordan. Persia was changed into Iran; Palestine became Israel; Syria and Lebanon became sovereign; forgotten Yemen emerged. And oil made the Moslems rich — richer than they had been in all their history since Mohammed went on the Hegira from Mecca to Medina.

Egypt is the heart of the Moslem world. It is historically the oldest existent nation in the human story. It is rich becase of the Nile and the Suez Canal. It is rich because the British rescued it from the Osmanli — from the Turkish empire.

But nations have no gratitude as Americans have learned in two wars. The Egyptians seek to become wholly independent, wholly sovereign with no strings attached.

The stakes are enormous, not only for Egypt, but also for Soviet Russia. The dangers are now greatest for the United States that has assumed the responsibility of maintaining the status quo of 1945, which means that the Nationalistic impulses of such countries as Egypt, Iran, Iraq, India, Pakistan or any other nation are to restrained in the interest of Great Britain.

But the Moslem world does not want to be restrained. It is on the march from Pakistan to North Africa. It is a world that can no longer be ignored. It has the will to establish itself as the third great power — the United States, Soviet Russia and Islam. A powerful nationalistic leaven moves all of Asia —east Asia and west Asia, from the Pacific to the Mediterranean. Not Russia, Britain or America will stop this movement.

BASCOM TIMMONS

Resignation of William M. Boyle, Jr., as Democratic national chairman and the clamor among more vocal Republicans for similar action by their national chairman, Guy Gabrielson brings to mind a frequent assertion here—that neither party has had a first class politician to head up its national committee since James A. Farley resigned as Democratic party chief in 1940.

Had they been politically smart, it is said, neither Boyle nor Gabrielson would have let themselves become embroiled in the RFC situation in any way. Boyle could have made a public declaration at the time he became chairman in August 1949 that he was severing all connection with his legal clients and backed it up with details, instead of merely announcing that he was withdrawing as a partner in his law firm.

Gabrielson could have hired any lawyer in Washington to carry on his business with R. F. C., which apparently consisted only of a request that a large loan to his company be extended. The request made by Gabrielson was denied and the company — Carthage Hydrocol Inc., with a plant at Brownsville, Tex.—met the payment due on the loan.

But Gabrielson has not resigned and may stay on until the Taft-Eisenhower factions in the GOP can reconcile their differences to a point where they are able to agree on a replacement. The national committee, of course, could oust him, but things just aren't done that way in the Republican party. Meanwhile, Democrats who sighed with relief when Boyle quit. —they say that in view of his poor health, which has been known to his close friends for some time, he should have resigned months ago — are now reminding Republicans that Gabrielson is a millstone which they must carry, during a period when the whole political situation is jumpy.

Some executives of the Republican national committee loyal to Gabrielson, are betting that he will still be chairman when the Republican national convention meets at Chicago next June.

What annoys both the White House and Gabrielson's Republican critics is that not within the memory of the oldest living political historian has either chairman or both, been involved in any questionable conduct with the federal government. Some of them like Edward J. Flynn, Democratic boss of the Bronx, who served as national chairman during the later years of the New Deal, were charged with various errors of judgment (he used city paving blocks to make some improvements on his estate) but not with dealings to their own advantage with a federal agency.

National party chairman as presidential campaign directors and leaders of party organization date back to 1856 when the Republican party presented its first candidate, James Fremont, against James Buchanan, the Democratic nominee, who was elected. The rival offices have been occupied by big and little men, a few of whom were able political leaders, though soon forgotten by the public and by their parties. Tops were Farley, outstanding in the modern era; Republican Senator Mark Hanna of Ohio, President McKinley's chairman and Vance McCormick of Pennsylvania, the Democratic chairman who helped President Wilson win reelection in 1916 by an eyelash.

Boyle's successor will of course be President Truman's selection. Washington speculation favors John L. Sullivan Washington attorney and former Secretary of the Navy, who resigned that office in 1949 in a sharp disagreement over the building of a super carrier, construction of which has now been resumed after a two years delay and with a huge increase in cost, due to the higher price of materials.

Sullivan whose home is in New Hampshire has told at least one inquirer he could not afford to take the chairmanship, because of his prosperous law business. He has pointed out that he spent 10 years as a government official and is now 52 years old, with about 10 years in which to improve his fortunes.

Former Senator Francis W. Myers of Pennsylvania is another possibility but it has been pointed out that both he and Sullivan are now Washington attorneys doing business with the government, and thus subject to the same general objection raised against Boyle.

Mrs. India Edwards, vice chairman of the committee, may carry on as acting chairman for several months, while the president makes up his mind.

IN MOVIELAND

Hollywood, Oct. 20. —(AP)— Most of Hollywood's ambassadors - at - large returned home this week and added fuel to the great debate about the worth of Movietime USA.

The week - long tour of movie makers in all parts of the nation has been called both "the greatest public relations stunt in the history of the industry" and "a dismal flop." The celebrations appear to have attracted much interest in some regions, particularly Texas, where a number of big-name stars showed up.

But other areas were bitterly disappointed by small - fry personalities who appeared for the events. There were other evidences of mismanagement, such as that which angered a Boston crowd and provoked the tossing of a lime at Dorothy Lamour.

Many theater men complained that the big stars who promised to appear never showed up. Now there is talk of a tour next year and the necessity to cajole, force or whip the major stars into hitting the road for dear old Hollywood.

Meanwhile the town returns to its normal functions of making pictures and one wonders if the errors of the past are ever studied for profit in the future. This week I heard of a musical in color which had been filmed at a major studio in 28 days. To meet this airtight schedule, the director seldom permitted more than one take. When the finished product was assembled, the producer was horrified and returned the film for expensive retakes.

There's another picture at a big studio which was shot in 40 days. The results were so poor that the film went back for 50 days of retakes! It's an Oriental adventure yarn with two top stars.

I visited one movie queen recently on the set of her new picture. As she came out of a scene, she confided, "This is the worst picture I have ever made. If audiences can take this, they can take anything."

And so it would seem that Hollywood should worry less about tours and train schedules and more about scripts and shooting schedules. . .

Among the best entries in the fall television sweepstakes are Red Skelton, Bob Hope and Lucille Ball. All three have produced entertaining shows that seem well suited to their talents.

Note that each of these shows lasts a half-hour. That seems to be a much better time for a personality to impose upon the living rooms of their viewers. Too many of the comics appear lost in an hour spread (sole exception: Jimmy Durante). Most of them stay on-camera too long or else pad out their shows with those endless dance numbers. I say hooray for the half-hour. . .

HOLLYWOOD

Hollywood, October 20. — Time out, please, while I indulge my propensity for "viewing with alarm."

A movie trade paper editor, while admitting the flop of the current "Movietime U. S. A." campaign, undertaken by Hollywood in an effort to repair its damaged "public relations," is tub-thumping for a greatly expanded version of the same idea, suggested for next year. This super-colossal proposal contemplates nothing less than a two-week shutdown of all the major studios, with all of their stars and most of their top executives taking the road to meet the people of the U. S. A. (Gee whiz, aren't we "people" becoming important?) The whole program would be planned far in advance, everyone would work together (it says in the trade paper) in complete, Utopian co-operation, every city in the United States would be privileged to see a bevy of top-flight stars, and, presto, the public and the folks of the movie industry would inevitably fall into one another's arms and exchange pledges of eternal love.

Well, maybe . . .

But a guy who's spent the better part of a lifetime watching stars feud over "billing," and studio bosses "co-operating" like Stalin and Trotsky, can't help nursing a few mental reservations. Heaven help the poor wight who finds himself in charge of, say, ten big stars, recruited from three or four different studios, as they sally forth to woo the citizens of Metropolis, U. S. A.! I consider myself reasonably courageous, but I'd rather enter an arena filled with untamed lions, and try to teach the beasts to tap dance. Courage and foolhardiness are two different things.

Since America always responds to an exciting show, it just might be that such a tremendous, colossal, gigantic, unprecedented, etc., etc. junket would do something for Hollywood's public relations, but I hate to think what it's apt to do to our internal relations. Things are bad enough in movie business as they are, without everyone hating everyone else.

Honestly, don't you agree that it would be smarter for the picture folks to stay home, make better pictures, revise their trashy advertising, and try to do something about those scandals?

Idol Chatter: Don't think I've ever seen anyone look as nude as Adolphe Menjou does without his mustache! . . . Add cultural notes: A report from Hollywood's No. 1 beauty parlor that many blondes are now asking to have their hair done a la Barbara Payton. . . . Didjuh know that Artie Auerback, radio's "Mr. Kitzel," is an ex newspaper photog, and that he's been on leave of absence from the New York Daily News for 15 years? . . . That expression, "Drop Dead," must have been coined to fit the screen career of Actor Warren Stevens, who was drowned in "The Frogmen," burned in "Red Skies of Montana," and killed in a plane crash in "Phone Call From A Stranger." . . . Ode to swank: The radio phone in Errol Flynn's new Jaguar sportster.

With the "boy-meets-girl" theme having been so overworked on the screen, the scenarist who's conscientious enough to look for a new "gimmick" whereby the hero and the heroine achieve a first meeting faces a difficult problem. Dudley Nichols solved it in doing the script for "Return of the Texan," but, being honest, has to give Lady Luck credit for an important assist. While writing the story, he took time out to attend a studio preview, and, in making his way to a seat, managed to get the belt

Memos of a Girl Friday.

Dear Mr. W: Senator Wiley's warm reply to the Mr. and Mrs. U. S. piece is too long for one col'm. He planned a complete statement on the matter for The Cong. Record and is sending you a copy. I haven't had a chance to type our reply to him but will do so today. Senator Lehman inserted that col'm into the Record on Wed., stating that "the shameful rider should be eliminated". . .Ralph Branca, the pitcher (off whom Bobby Thomson homer'd and ended the Nat'l League pennant race) and Ann Mulvey will be married tomorrow. . .The Gen. Eisenhowers become grandkin again in Dec. . . Elsa Maxwell tells chums the Duke and Duchess will "never separate" . . .The Roosevelt katzenjammer kids (Elliott and John) may start their own after-midnight deejay program!. . .And Joan Fontaine and Peg Rutledge will motor (together to H'wood. What a spot for a hitch - hike.

I checked the El Morocco-Dan Topping-society writer thing again and what we said was correct. The journalist never knew it was happening (and Perona didn't want a fuss), but if it weren't for Joe Cronin, Bob Ritchie and others, Topping (and the almost-victim) might have lost their heads. . .The George Schraffts, who have kissed and made up many times, are reconciled as of this edition . . . It is positively not true that when Eleanor (and detectives) busted in—Billy Rose said: "Now is the time to heave a wife!"

You - know - who - left these memos: One reason Willie Moretti's murder may never be solved is that the first cops on the scene picked up all the cups and glasses on the table and spoiled the fingerprints. Accidentally, no doubt. . . That one waitress allegedly got $150 per week to take calls, etc. That his slaying had nothing to do with mobs or talking too much. For all his blabbing Willie never implicated others. That he was up to his neck in hock to some of the biggest bookies in the East. That ment pronto but was months tardy in paying when he lost.

You had Edith Piaf being stuck on her doctor in Paris, which could be. But pals just back from France tell me her new heart attack is Chas. Aznavour, a top lyricist. She keeps him locked up (incommunicado yet!) at her Montmarte home. . .The "Song of Autumn" col'm is now in the cornerstone (with that copy of The New Haven Register) of the Memorial Unit of the Grace-New Haven Hospital. Great response from readers in the 48 over it, by the way. . .The Ladies' Home Journal invites you among others to send a paragraph or two answering a child's query: "Why Was I Born?"

Collier's remarkable issue frightened me. I just skimmed through all of the fantastic articles by famed American authors — and it gave me a big scare. . .Do you think Stalin and his gang will ever see it? Can't we send planes to drop some copies over the Kremlin? It might bring them to their senses. Collier's editors rate a medal. . . Wonder if Acme Photos will hire the Trans-Canada hostess who was fired on the spot? When they discovered she was delivering the Queen Elizabeth-Prince Philip photos direct—skipping waybills, custom clearances, etc, thereby scooping other services by 2 hrs . . "Show Biz," the new book, just came in. You get over 25 mentions.

Reader's Digest has a picturesquote credited to Nunnally Johnson. About someone having the look of a dog that'd just been kicked by Albert Payson Terhune. Several readers say you used it as a sound-in-the-night in late 30s or early 40s. But I'll be dam'd if I'll go through all those files. . .Geo. Harrad reminds you that in Woolcott's "While Rome Burns" he credits La Parker with: "That woman speaks 7 languages and can't say No in any of them," which you thawt came from Gertie Lawrence's song, Jenny. . . . I did hear Edmund Lowe's program use "debutramps" (for debutantes) as tho' they just made it up!

At the end of each night's broadcast day NBC lulls you to sleep with a dreamy poem (with slumber music background) and suddenly pulls you out of bed with The National Anthem. Shouldn't it be the other way around? . . . .I hear Sally Benson and director Windust will surprise the first-nighters tonight at Ginger Rogers' new play—with a new miracle revising job. . .Kaye Ballard heads the new Blue Angel show. She's a clever girl. . .Got a funny line out of Bob Garrity's note. He's doing a new WINS soft music program (the kind you enjoy) from 12 to 3 (besides news) "because I have to help pay Harry's yachting expenses."

Do Mrs. FDR and the U. S. Dept. of Parks and Bldgs. know that FDR's home at Hyde Park (now a money-maker museum) needs a paint job badly? "The Moon is Blue" will turn over the Sunday night premiere in Washington (plus author F. Hugh Herbert's royalties that week) to the Runyon Fund. . .Newsweek's foreign dep't is going oof'ly hibrow on the distaff side. For replacements only Vassar and Welzleh girls are hired. (Oops parm me!). . .Navy Dep't. says someone spread a fib on why it refused to okay the film version of "The Caine Mutiny." The navy never said they'd okay it if the Capt. psychopath "was made a Naval Reserve Man," etc. Would you help stifle the bunk as a long-time USN Reservist?

Dog medicos and owners of pets are thankful for your tip recently about the virus epidemic that killed so many puppies. They report that it brought in thousands of people with their Winipoos and Tippy-Toes, whose lives were saved. . . . If Janis Paige's Mr. Big is Dick Stabile (like you said), howcum Jackie Cooper's moved out of his wife's house and is romancing La Paige all over town?. . .There's a nice success story for you. Jackie got the lead in "Remains to Be Seen" (or as the wags say: Arsenic and Old Crouse) and Mrs. Cooper (Hildy Parks) won a juicy part in the British play, "To Dorothy a Son." $ucce$$ seems to have split them. . .Co-author H. Lindsay gets $80 per wk acting in "Remains." His dressing room valet gets $75.

British Information Services' Major Wm. Ormerod just returned from London. Called to say he only just heard about the signoff hoping His Majesty recovers. He added: "Tell WW I've always felt that regardless of occasional criticisms, he is at heart a good friend of Britain". . .Remember Walter Benton, who did that beautiful book of poetry "This Is My Beloved"? He says he still gets the most erotic fan mail from folks everywhere. . Mary Small has a honey of a recording (King) called, "If I Can Love You in the Morning." Her husband wrote it. . . I hope you will make a must-read out of Lloyd Morton's "Incredible New York," due soon. It's a 100-year history of the New Yorkers who made The Big Town big. . .If you get a big complaint about me hanging up on a bore—who just wouldn't get to a period — do me somting! Oh, your father's clavicle!!!

Monroe, La.

Will you please allow me a little space in your paper. I would like to say a few words about the "school cafeteria." First I would like to say they are a grand thing. They not only provide hot noon day lunches, for the children, but it is a great help to the busy mothers. As it is quite a job to get up and get several children ready for school and prepare their lunch.

But this is what I would like to see done; get the politics out of the schools and give these jobs in the cafeteria to people who need them. My husband hasn't been able to work a day in five and a half years and I have tried every way possible to get a job in the "school cafeteria" and for no reason except politics they will not give me a job. I am just as well qualified for the job as the ones that are working up there. I even told our school board member two years ago that I would work up there for $2 per day if the others would. He said everything was so high you couldn't buy much for $2. That is true, but you can buy more for $2 than you can without it.

I also have a friend and neighbor, Mrs. Rowena Roan, who has tried to get a job and for no reason whatsoever except politics they will not give her a job and she has a young son that she is trying to educate. She is a widow and I know she is one of the best qualified ladies in ward 6 for the job, as she and her husband, the late T. J. Roan, owned and operated a cafe here in Calhoun for a number of years. Mrs. Roan not only knows how to prepare the meals, but she knows how to serve them as well.

Three of the ladies that work in the school cafeteria have able-bodied husbands and they all have jobs. One of them also drives a school bus. I can't see where there is anything right in drawing two checks when other people need work. When she began driving the school bus and working in the school cafeteria our school board member told me that she said if they would give her a bus to drive that she would work in the cafeteria free. I didn't say anything, but I thought, "Well, I didn't know we had any people in ward 6 that dumb." But a short time later I found out that she didn't live in ward 6 and that she wasn't working in the cafeteria free either. I made remarks not long ago that I didn't think it was right for her to be holding two jobs and someone said she didn't want to sit in the bus while school was in progress. I said, "Let her stay at home and give both jobs to people who need them."

I think it is time for the good people of ward 6 to come together and get politics out of the school and give the jobs to people who need them and have a better community to live in.

I agree with a politician I heard talking a few years ago. He said there wasn't but on place this side of heaven where we are all equal and that is when we go to the polls to cast our vote, and I thank God for that privilege.

"Politics are all right in their place, but I sure don't think they have any place in the schools.

I would like to hear what some of the other voters of ward 6 or any other ward think about the situation.

Our Children

TEACHERS NEED HELP

We depend so much on the school people, and for good reason, that we send our children to them automatically and forget about the whole business until report card day comes around. If there is a red mark on the card we respond to it fully and speedily. "How come? What do you mean by bringing home such a card? I won't sign it. It's a disgrace."

What good does that do? Next morning the card is signed, with mutterings, threats of, "You'll stay in, young man, until I know your work is done. No more movies for you until you show a better report," and the whole matter is forgotten until next month's card appears, perhaps with the same red mark.

No child, no teacher, can do his best without the cooperation of the father and mother concerned. The teacher needs to know that the home people are participating in the effort, the child needs to know that both parents and the teacher are together in this matter of his learning and development. When the child's progress, or lack of it, is known then the partners, including the pupil, can work together intelligently, know where they stand and where they go from there.

To let the teacher struggle along, unaided by home and the pupil, is not going to enable the failing child to make good, nor the teacher to do effective work with him. It takes the combined effort of all concerned to get the best for a child out of his school experiences.

The home background is a great force in the education of any child because it sets his attitudes. If father takes an interest in the boy's school life, asks about things that go on there, makes it a matter of importance to be present at the critical games, at the high points of the school term, the boy will be more likely to take his school life seriously and do his best to shine in it.

A month is too long a period for a child to make a sustained effort. He has to be aided by the interest and encouragement of his parents from day to day. Scholing him each report card day will be no good at all. The thing to do is the day by day, lesson by lesson job. That way the child is prevented from falling into a rut of failure. He is helped when he needs it, encouraged always, supervised so that he never fails without receiving the needed instruction and guidance. To keep step with him one keeps ahead of him.

"Not only did I get the situation," he says, "I also got, from the lady, some of the most colorful dialogue I've ever heard."

Jean Arthur, as you may have gathered from stories written about her temperament, is a lady who knows her own mind. Having tired of the dressing room in which she's lived while working in Paramount's "Shane," she announced her intention of moving to other quarters. Studio execs suggested an apartment house, immediately adjoining the lot, which Paramount owns and maintains for the use of non-resident players. Miss Arthur looked at the de luxe apartment offered her and opined that she liked neither the furniture, the color of the walls, the rugs or the draperies.

"Come back in three hours," suggested the big boss, and placed a hurry up call to the studio's art department. Within the stipulated time the apartment was completely redecorated and the hard-to-please Miss Arthur admitted her complete satisfaction.

STATE POLICE

Fourteen persons were arrested by state police of troop "F" during the past week including four for drunk driving and six for reckless driving. Those charged are:

Joseph A. Pace, 44, route 1, Epps; Eddie Thomas, Jr., 29, Negro, 413 North Twelfth street, Monroe; Dock Johnson, 48, Negro, route 3, Rayville; Willie Jines, 35, Negro, Delhi; drunk driving.

Shelley Wilhite, 31, Negro, Archibald; negligent homicide.

Walter Cooper, 20, Manny; John E. Oberg, 56, 1102 West First street, Wichita, Kan.; reckless driving.

Saul G. Fuentes, 22, Eagle Pass, Tex.; Herbert W. Jones, 27, route 1, Rayville; Thurlow Merrison, 21, Negro, route 1, Lake Providence; Frank L. Washington, 31, Negro, Crowville; reckless driving and causing an accident.

O. L. Dearing, 28, Star route, Winnsboro; no driver's license.

Mrs. John E. Oberg, 43, 1102 West First street, Wichita, Kan.; disturbing the peace and resisting arrest.

Frank E. Peters, 52, 617 Bellerive boulevard; St. Louis, Mo., disturbing the peace.

CHOUDRANT

Up to date there has been ginned 935 bales of cotton this season. E. J. Hines, manager of the Union Oil Co., says he has ginned twice as much as he did a year ago.

Choudrant O. E. S. observed past matron and past patron nights at their regular meeting the past week. A fine program was given and each past officer was presented with a handsome gift. Refreshments were served.

pecially in view of "the creeping menace of communism."

Here is the way the White House explained the appointment:

"The president has decided that it is in the national interest for the United States to maintain diplomatic representation at the vatican.

"He has therefore nominated Gen. Mark W. Clark to be ambassador to the state of Vatican City.

"During the war, the late President Roosevelt appointed Mr. Myron Taylor as the personal representative of the president to his holiness, the pope.

"During and after the war the Taylor mission performed an extremely useful service not only in the field of diplomacy but in the amelioration of human suffering. That service is set forth in official correspondence published from time to time.

"The president feels that the purposes of diplomacy and humanitarianism will be served by this appointment.

"It is well known that the vatican is vigorously engaged in the struggle against communism. Direct diplomatic relations will assist in coordinating the effort to combat the Communist menace.

"Thirty-seven other nations have for a great many years maintained at the vatican diplomatic representatives."

Dr. Edward Hughes Pruden of the First Baptist Church here, which Mr. Truman attends, said he was "very sorry" about the appointment.

"I would equally oppose a like appointment to the World Baptist headquarters or the headquarters of any other religious body," he said.

"It is my conviction that this is entirely contrary to our historic American position regarding the separation of church and state."

Dr. Pruden, noting that he and Mr. Truman are Baptists, added that Baptists "have a perfect right to differ among themselves" but can do so without any loss of mutual esteem.

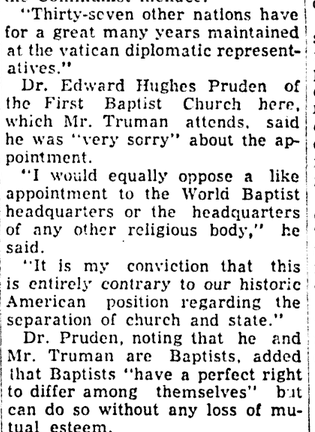

Dr. Dawson, of the Baptist public affairs committee, called the appointment "a blundering policy for combatting communism."

Dr. Dawson said protestant countries are making the most effective stand against communism and added:

"The best way to lose the battle against totalitarian Russia is for the free countries to form a coalition with the pope under a totalitarian church."

Glenn L. Archer, executive secretary of protestants and other Americans united for separation of church and state, said his organization will ask the senate not to confirm Clark's nomination.

In today's announcement, Dunlap said he and Secretary of the Treasury Snyder would address the field personnel at the opening conference. Participants will include all revenue collectors, agents - in - charge, alcohol tax unit supervisors, division counsel and officer in charge of other bureau field organizations.

Chief among the matters to be discussed, Dunlap said, will be "the organization and operation of the newly-created inspection service, which supervises the conduct of all offices in the bureau."

Also scheduled for discussion were the new tax bill, and "progress of the special tax bill, fraud drive against racketeers."

Police Here Are Holding Negroes

Two Monroe Negroes were being held in the Monroe city jail last night for being drunk and disorderly and drawing and displaying dangerous weapons.

George Morris, 58, was arrested at 1600 Grammont street for the two charges plus carrying a concealed weapon. His bond was set at $365.

Also in jail was Anderson Massey, 44, 1118 Powell street, who drew a knife, and caused damage to property. His bond was set at $240.

Joe A. Sims, candidate for attorney general, and T. A. Thompson, candidate for state auditor outlined their qualifications for the positions which they are seeking.

Miss Mary Evelyn Dickerson, candidate for register of state land office, stressed the fact that if elected to office she would attempt to bring more industry to Louisiana. She further outlined the progress which had been made by the present state administration in obtaining industry for Louisiana.

The candidates Saturday also spoke in Oak Grove, Delhi, Farmerville, Marion, Bastrop, and Columbia.

tian rule of Sudan, on the upper Nile.

But they believed it possible the Moslem brotherhood, extremist religious organization which once boasted 2,000,000 members, might wage a kind of guerrilla warfare such as eventually harassed the British out of Palestine.

Strong precautions were being taken in view of reports by Egyptian informants that the brotherhood was threatening to "blow up" the Suez canal and set fire to British camps.

There were two conflicting versions of what appeared to be one shooting incident today.

Badawi Khalifa Pasha, undersecretary of interior, said a sentry at an Egyptian army camp in Port Said was shot and killed by 10 British soldiers patrolling a street in an armored car.

A British report told of Port Said violence more in the guerilla pattern.

Near the Casino Palace Hotel at Port Said, where six Egyptians were killed in rioting and clashes Tuesday, attackers using automatic weapons fired 15 shots at a truck patrol, the British announced.

The shots apparently came from a crowd of Egyptians at the edge of an Egyptian army camp, a spokesman said. None of the six British soldiers on the truck was hurt and none returned the fire, it was said.

On the Tel El Kebir-Kassassin road west of Ismailia, a British canteen truck was ambushed and the Egyptian driver wounded five times.

Mohammed Abdel Hadi, Egyptian controller-general of education over 8,000,000 Sudanese, was the official ousted from the Sudan by the British.

British Governor-General Sir Robert Howe yesterday ordered him and Brig. Gen. Abdel Fattah Bishari, Chief Egyptian staff officer in the Sudan, to stay in Cairo on "grounds of public order."

General Bishari, on instructions of Egyptian army headquarters, obeyed the order, but Abdel Hadi took an early morning plane for Khartoum, the capital.

He said he had not received the order, but a Cairo newspaper quoted him as saying he was obeying no orders except those of his own government.

A British-commanded police detachment met him when he arrived at the airport tonight and immediately put him on another plane headed back for Cairo.

Police also blocked Ismail El Azhari, cheif of the Sudanese Ashigga party and other pro-Egyptian political leaders, from seeing Abdel Hadi. The British have accused General Bishari and Abdel Hadi of helping finance Ashigga.

War office announcement in London said 4,000 men of the 19th infantry brigade in Britain were being alerted for airlifting to the canal zone and the middle east, presumably the Island of Cyprus.

Cyprus was left garrisonless today when the airlift of the 16th parachute brigade and the 33rd airborne regiment—possibly 5,000 men—to Egypt was completed.

An RAF spokesman disclosed that two light anti-aircraft squadrons had debarked in the canal zone from the troopship Empress of Australia and that two more squadrons were being flown in tonight from London.

46 CATAHOULANS SEEK ELECTION

List Of Those Qualified Made Known; Two Offices Not Contested

Jonesville, Oct. 20.—(Special)—Forty-six candidates have qualified for election to parish and ward offices in Catahoula.

For parish offices, incumbents qualified in all except the representative's race. For the police jury, all except one of the incumbents qualified. There is no opposition in two parish offices, for assessor and coroner, and for police juror in two wards.

Qualified for parish offices are:

For sheriff, Fred V. Fairbanks, incumbent, and George McGee, now representative.

For clerk of court, W. R. Richardson, incumbent, and John Z. Stutson.

For assessor, G. O. McGuffee, incumbent.

For coroner, Dr. N. G. Nasif, incumbent.

For representative, G. D. Babin, Earl E. Bradford, and Grover C. Womack, who has formerly held that office.

Qualified for offices in various wards are:

Ward 1, police jury, D. E. Woodin; constable, Dan Kelly, justice of peace, H. H. Gillispie.

Ward 2, police jury, William S. Peck, Jr.; constable, Jim Smith; justice of peace, W. T. Woodward.

Ward 3, police jury, John W. Haygood, incumbent, and J. S. McVey; none for constable or justice of peace.

Ward 4, James Crawford, J. D. Guinn, incumbent, and Walter Huffman; constable, George A. Wiggins; justice of peace, Wilson B. Prudhomme.

Ward 5, Emmitt Haygood, incumbent, and C. M. Poole; constable, P. S. Hair, justice of peace J. W. Tyler.

Ward 6, police juror, Jason J. Bass, D. W. Manning, incumbent, Albert McClure; constable, H. P. Brooks and Shelby E. Kirby; justice of peace, Nathan E. Gallender, Tal C. Gibson and John H. Johnson.

Ward 7, police juror, Hartwell Spinks and Frank R. White, incumbent. No candidates for constable or justice of peace.

Parish Democratic central committee: ward 1, none; ward 2, E. W. Chisum, Sr.; ward 3, none; ward 4, J. R McMillin; ward 5, G. O. McGuffee; ward 6, A. D. Taylor, Jr.; ward 7, Joseph M. Trisler; members-at-large, John A. Guss, D. E. Brown, E. B. Trichel, Jesse C. MGee and R. R. Reeves.

According to the federal census of 1950, ward 6 of Catahoula will lose one of its two police jurors in the coming election, and one of its school board members. The attorney general's office has ruled that the police jury may take its own census to determine whether the ward has the 5,000 persons required for two jurors, as the federal census was taken during a time when many residents were moved out because of high water.

The police jury called a special meeting for Friday morning to authorize the census. If it shows 5,000 or more residents, a special election will probably be called later to elect a second juror.

Bible Comment

By William E. Gilroy, D. D.

By William E. Gilroy, D. D.

Apart from its religious significance, and its place in the history of the Jewish people, I have long felt that the story of Joseph as told in the book of Genesis is among the greatest and most remarkable stories ever written.

I have often related how some years ago, when I was conducting a men's meeting of the "Pleasant Sunday Afternoon" type, in Hamilton, Ont., a Baptist minister, whose name I have forgotten, came as guest speaker. He was an able elocutionist, and his part in the program was to recite without comment, from the Authorized Version of the Bible, the 11 chapters of Genesis that tell the story of Joseph.

It was for me not only an impressive, but a positively thrilling experience. I suppose I had read the story dozens of times, probably in fragments; but now for the first time I saw it as a whole with its full literary effect, its sharp contrasts, its suspense, its depths of depression, its suspenseful climax.

It is a great story, and how it could have been better, or more effectively, told I cannot imagine. But its greatness as a story is not only its literary perfection, but in the greatness of character of the figure, whose life, so marked by depths of suffering and heights of power, it portrays.

I think that in many respects Joseph is the greatest of all Old Testament characters. He displayed some of the callowness of youth in the naive way in which he told of a dream, well calculated to arouse the jealousy of his brothers, whose evil dispositions were easily aroused.

But Joseph's true character and strength emerged when, sold into slavery, thrown into prison, with continued disappointment and with seeming defeat, he never weakened, or gave way to recrimination or despair. His character in adversity shone bright and strong.

What, then, of his emergence to splendor and power? That has been the test of many a man who has conquered adversity, and many in that test have failed, corrupted by power and success. But Joseph in his high elevation preserves the same simple realities of honesty, honor, and devotion to high purpose.

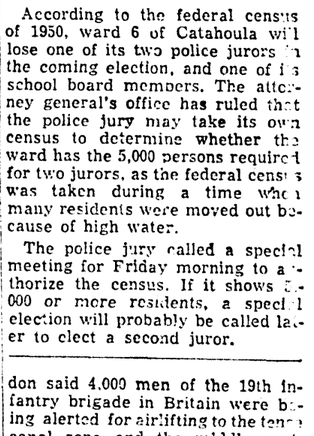

The dreamer becomes the man of action, practical to the last degree, a far-seeing statesman, planning well, and through his planning saving his own people and the nation that had called him to power.

It is obvious that we need Josephs today.

We need far - seeing statesmen and planners, but men who have something more than a love of bureaucratic power.

We need men, who with sagacity and ability to plan and perform have the fine integrity and the purity of purpose that underlay all Joseph's character and acts. More modern statesmen and planners might well take Joseph as their model.

Our Children

TEACHERS NEED HELP

We depend so much on the school people, and for good reason, that we send our children to them automatically and forget about the whole business until report card day comes around. If there is a red mark on the card we respond to it fully and speedily. "How come? What do you mean by bringing home such a card? I won't sign it. It's a disgrace."

What good does that do? Next morning the card is signed, with mutterings, threats of, "You'll stay in, young man, until I know your work is done. No more movies for you until you show a better report," and the whole matter is forgotten until next month's card appears, perhaps with the same red mark.

No child, no teacher, can do his best without the cooperation of the father and mother concerned. The teacher needs to know that the home people are participating in the effort, the child needs to know that both parents and the teacher are together in this matter of his learning and development. When the child's progress, or lack of it, is known then the partners, including the pupil, can work together intelligently, know where they stand and where they go from there.

To let the teacher struggle along, unaided by home and the pupil, is not going to enable the failing child to make good, nor the teacher to do effective work with him. It takes the combined effort of all concerned to get the best for a child out of his school experiences.

The home background is a great force in the education of any child because it sets his attitudes. If father takes an interest in the boy's school life, asks about things that go on there, makes it a matter of importance to be present at the critical games, at the high points of the school term, the boy will be more likely to take his school life seriously and do his best to shine in it.

A month is too long a period for a child to make a sustained effort. He has to be aided by the interest and encouragement of his parents from day to day. Scholing him each report card day will be no good at all. The thing to do is the day by day, lesson by lesson job. That way the child is prevented from falling into a rut of failure. He is helped when he needs it, encouraged always, supervised so that he never fails without receiving the needed instruction and guidance. To keep step with him one keeps ahead of him.

Studio execs suggested an apartment house, immediately adjoining the lot, which Paramount owns and maintains for the use of nonresident players. Miss Arthur looked at the de luxe apartment offered her and opined that she liked neither the furniture, the color of the walls, the rugs or the draperies.

"Come back in three hours," suggested the big boss, and placed a hurry up call to the studio's art department. Within the stipulated time the apartment was completely redecorated and the hard-to-please Miss Arthur admitted her complete satisfaction.

Would that all landlords had similar advantages!

TRUMAN MOVE

pecially in view of "the creeping menace of communism."

Here is the way the White House explained the appointment:

"The president has decided that it is in the national interest for the United States to maintain diplomatic representation at the vatican.

"He has therefore nominated Gen. Mark W. Clark to be ambassador to the state of Vatican City.

"During the war, the late President Roosevelt appointed Mr. Myron Taylor as the personal representative of the president to his holiness, the pope.

"During and after the war the Taylor mission performed an extremely useful service not only in the field of diplomacy but in the amelioration of human suffering. That service is set forth in official correspondence published from time to time.

"The president feels that the purposes of diplomacy and humanitarianism will be served by this appointment.

"It is well known that the vatican is vigorously engaged in the struggle against communism. Direct diplomatic relations will assist in coordinating the effort to combat the Communist menace.

"Thirty-seven other nations have for a great many years maintained at the vatican diplomatic representatives."

Dr. Edward Hughes Pruden of the First Baptist Church here, which Mr. Truman attends, said he was "very sorry" about the appointment.

"I would equally oppose a like appointment to the World Baptist headquarters or the headquarters of any other religious body," he said.

"It is my conviction that this is entirely contrary to our historic American position regarding the separation of church and state."

Dr. Pruden, noting that he and Mr. Truman are Baptists, added that Baptists "have a perfect right to differ among themselves" but can do so without any loss of mutual esteem.

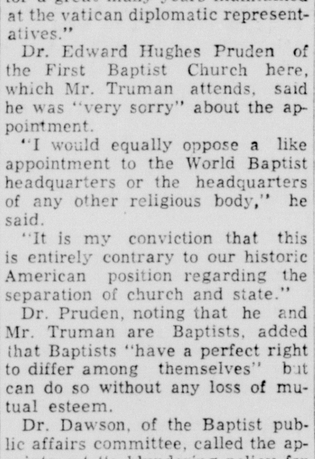

Dr. Dawson, of the Baptist public affairs committee, called the appointment "a blundering policy for combatting communism."

Dr. Dawson said protestant countries are making the most effective stand against communism and added:

"The best way to lose the battle against totalitarian Russia is for the free countries to form a coalition with the pope under a totalitarian church."

to answer questions asked by the committee.

In today's announcement, Dunlap said he and Secretary of the Treasury Snyder would address the field personnel at the opening conference. Participants will include all revenue collectors, agents - in - charge, alcohol tax unit supervisors, division counsel and officer in charge of other bureau field organizations.

Chief among the matters to be discussed, Dunlap said, will be "the organization and operation of the newly-created inspection service, which supervises the conduct of all offices in the bureau."

Also scheduled for discussion were the new tax bill, and "progress of the special tax bill, fraud drive against racketeers."

Police Here Are Holding Negroes

Two Monroe Negroes were being held in the Monroe city jail last night for being drunk and disorderly and drawing and displaying dangerous weapons.

George Morris, 58, was arrested at 1600 Grammont street for the two charges plus carrying a concealed weapon. His bond was set at $365.

Also in jail was Anderson Massey, 44, 1118 Powell street, who drew a knife, and caused damage to property. His bond was set at $240.

In attacking Lt. Gov. Bill Dodd, Clements said that Dodd attempted to steal the governorship away from Long during his recent illness.

Discussing deducts, which other candidates have accused the state administration of taking for Spaht's campaign, Clements flatly denied the charge and declared that the deduct system was originated by former governor Sam Jones.

Joe A. Sims, candidate for attorney general, and T. A. Thompson, candidate for state auditor outlined their qualifications for the positions which they are seeking.

Miss Mary Evelyn Dickerson, candidate for register of state land office, stressed the fact that if elected to office she would attempt to bring more industry to Louisiana. She further outlined the progress which had been made by the present state administration in obtaining industry for Louisiana.

The candidates Saturday also spoke in Oak Grove, Delhi, Farmerville, Marion, Bastrop, and Columbia.

EGYPTIANS

tian rule of Sudan, on the upper Nile.

But they believed it possible the Moslem brotherhood, extremist religious organization which once boasted 2,000,000 members, might wage a kind of guerrilla warfare such as eventually harassed the British out of Palestine.

Strong precautions were being taken in view of reports by Egyptian informants that the brotherhood was threatening to "blow up" the Suez canal and set fire to British camps.

There were two conflicting versions of what appeared to be one shooting incident today.

Badawi Khalifa Pasha, undersecretary of interior, said a sentry at an Egyptian army camp in Port Said was shot and killed by 10 British soldiers patrolling a street in an armored car.

A British report told of Port Said violence more in the guerilla pattern.

Near the Casino Palace Hotel at Port Said, where six Egyptians were killed in rioting and clashes Tuesday, attackers using automatic weapons fired 15 shots at a truck patrol, the British announced.

The shots apparently came from a crowd of Egyptians at the edge of an Egyptian army camp, a spokesman said. None of the six British soldiers on the truck was hurt and none returned the fire, it was said.

On the Tel El Kebir-Kassassin road west of Ismailia, a British canteen truck was ambushed and the Egyptian driver wounded five times.

Mohammed Abdel Hadi, Egyptian controller-general of education over 8,000,000 Sudanese, was the official ousted from the Sudan by the British.

British Governor-General Sir Robert Howe yesterday ordered him and Brig. Gen. Abdel Fattah Bishari, Chief Egyptian staff officer in the Sudan, to stay in Cairo on "grounds of public order."

General Bishari, on instructions of Egyptian army headquarters, obeyed the order, but Abdel Hadi took an early morning plane for Khartoum, the capital.

He said he had not received the order, but a Cairo newspaper quoted him as saying he was obeying no orders except those of his own government.

A British-commanded police dedetachment met him when he arrived at the airport tonight and immediately put him on another plane headed back for Cairo.

Police also blocked Ismail El Azhari, cheif of the Sudanese Ashigga party and other pro-Egyptian political leaders, from seeing Abdel Hadi. The British have accused General Bishari and Abdel Hadi of helping finance Ashigga.

War office announcement in London said 4,000 men of the 19th infantry brigade in Britain were being alerted for airlifting to the tense canal zone and the middle east, presumably the Island of Cyprus.

Cyprus was left garrisonless today when the airlift of the 16th parachute brigade and the 33rd airborne regiment—possibly 5,000 men—to Egypt was completed.

An RAF spokesman disclosed that two light anti-aircraft squadrons had debarked in the canal zone from the troopship Empress of Australia and that two more squadrons were being flown in tonight from London.

Bible Comment

By William E. Gilroy, D. D.

By William E. Gilroy, D. D.

Apart from its religious significance, and its place in the history of the Jewish people, I have long felt that the story of Joseph as told in the book of Genesis is among the greatest and most remarkable stories ever written.

I have often related how some years ago, when I was conducting a men's meeting of the "Pleasant Sunday Afternoon" type, in Hamilton, Ont., a Baptist minister, whose name I have forgotten, came as guest speaker. He was an able elocutionist, and his part in the program was to recite without comment, from the Authorized Version of the Bible, the 11 chapters of Genesis that tell the story of Joseph.

It was for me not only an impressive, but a positively thrilling experience. I suppose I had read the story dozens of times, probably in fragments; but now for the first time I saw it as a whole with its full literary effect, its sharp contrasts, its suspense, its depths of depression, its suspenseful climax.

It is a great story, and how it could have been better, or more effectively, told I cannot imagine. But its greatness as a story is not only its literary perfection, but in the greatness of character of the figure, whose life, so marked by depths of suffering and heights of power, it portrays.

I think that in many respects Joseph is the greatest of all Old Testament characters. He displayed some of the callowness of youth in the naive way in which he told of a dream, well calculated to arouse the jealousy of his brothers, whose evil dispositions were easily aroused.

But Joseph's true character and strength emerged when, sold into slavery, thrown into prison, with continued disappointment and with seeming defeat, he never weakened, or gave way to recrimination or despair. His character in adversity shone bright and strong.

What, then, of his emergence to splendor and power? That has been the test of many a man who has conquered adversity, and many in that test have failed, corrupted by power and success. But Joseph in his high elevation preserves the same simple realities of honesty, honor, and devotion to high purpose.

The dreamer becomes the man of action, practical to the last degree, a far-seeing statesman, planning well, and through his planning saving his own people and the nation that had called him to power.

It is obvious that we need Josephs today.

We need far - seeing statesmen and planners, but men who have something more than a love of bureaucratic power.

We need men, who with sagacity and ability to plan and perform have the fine integrity and the purity of purpose that underlay all Joseph's character and acts. More modern statesmen and planners might well take Joseph as their model.

46 CATAHOULANS SEEK ELECTION

List Of Those Qualified Made Known; Two Offices Not Contested

Jonesville, Oct. 20.—(Special)—Forty-six candidates have qualified for election to parish and ward offices in Catahoula.

For parish offices, incumbents qualified in all except the representative's race. For the police jury, all except one of the incumbents qualified. There is no opposition in two parish offices, for assessor and coroner, and for police juror in two wards.

Qualified for parish offices are:

For sheriff, Fred V. Fairbanks, incumbent, and George McGee, now representative.

For clerk of court, W. R. Richardson, incumbent, and John Z. Stutson.

For assessor, G. O. McGuffee, incumbent.

For coroner, Dr. N. G. Nasif, incumbent.

For representative, G. D. Babin, Earl E. Bradford, and Grover C. Womack, who has formerly held that office.

Qualified for offices in various wards are:

Ward 1, police jury, D. E. Woodin; constable, Dan Kelly, justice of peace, H. H. Gillispie.

Ward 2, police jury, William S. Peck, Jr.; constable, Jim Smith; justice of peace, W. T. Woodward.

Ward 3, police jury, John W. Haygood, incumbent, and J. S. McVey; none for constable or justice of peace.

Ward 4, James Crawford, J. D. Guinn, incumbent, and Walter Huffman; constable, George A. Wiggins; justice of peace, Wilson B. Prudhomme.

Ward 5, Emmitt Haygood, incumbent, and C. M. Poole; constable, P. S. Hair, justice of peace J. W. Tyler.

Ward 6, police juror, Jason J. Bass, D. W. Manning, incumbent, Albert McClure; constable, H. P. Brooks and Shelby E. Kirby; justice of peace, Nathan E. Gallender, Tal C. Gibson and John H. Johnson.

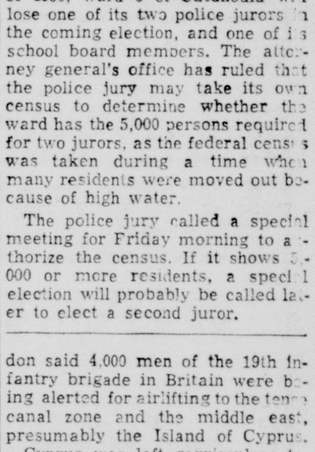

Ward 7, police juror, Hartwell Spinks and Frank R. White, incumbent. No candidates for constable or justice of peace.

Parish Democratic central committee: ward 1, none; ward 2, E. W. Chisum, Sr.; ward 3, none; ward 4, J. R McMillin; ward 5, G. O. McGuffee; ward 6, A. D. Taylor, Jr.; ward 7, Joseph M. Trisler; members-at-large, John A. Guss, D. E. Brown, E. B. Trichel, Jesse C. MGee and R. R. Reeves.

According to the federal census of 1950, ward 6 of Catahoula will lose one of its two police jurors in the coming election, and one of its school board members. The attorney general's office has ruled that the police jury may take its own census to determine whether the ward has the 5,000 persons required for two jurors, as the federal census was taken during a time when many residents were moved out because of high water.

The police jury called a special meeting for Friday morning to authorize the census. If it shows 5,000 or more residents, a special election will probably be called later to elect a second juror.

RECRUITER

Technical Sergeant Mary Grimm, above, woman marine recruiter for the State of Louisiana, has announced that she will be in Monroe on Monday, October 23, for the purpose of interviewing applicants for the women's marine corps. Sergeant Grimm has set up her office at the Marine Corps Recruiting Office, room 312, Post Office Building, Monroe. Any young woman who is un-married between the ages of 18 and 31 and who is a high school graduate or the equivalent may apply for enlistment in the U. S. Marine Corps. Sergeant Grimm encourges all young women to inquire, as the need is great for women marines.

REBS BLAST WAVE; TIGERS WHIP BULLDOGS

FRESHMAN BACK SPEARHEADS OLE MISS' 25-6 WIN

Favored Tulane Too Slow To Start Rolling

By Clem Brossier

Oxford, Miss., Oct. 20.—(AP)—A flashing freshman halfback sparked an exploding Mississippi football team to a 25-6 triumph here today over a top-rated Tulane Green Wave that couldn't seem to get going.

Allen Muirhead, a 19-year-old Canton, Miss., replacement for injured Dick Westerman was the lad who opened the throttle in the fourth period to cinch the Rebel's 10th win over the Wave in 32 starts.

Tulane, in its first appearance in Hemingway Stadium during the 58-year-old rivalry, was rocked on its heels by Mississippi's sudden strikes in the first quarter.

Quarterback Jimmy Lear's 37-yard pass to Left End Bud Slay on the 30 that sent Slay scampering over for the first score was only the first blow.

The Wave's passing expert, Pete Clement, was less than effective and Mississippi's defense forced Tulane to rely mainly on the hard driving of Max McGee and Ronnie Kent for their yardage.

Tulane's lone score, however, came through the air late in the fourth quarter.

Fred Dempsey, taking over from Clement, started firing one pass after another and on the third try hit Right Halfback Ray Weidenbacher for 48 yards and the score. McGee's try for extra point was no good.

Lear, Muirhead and the Rebels' driving Fullback Showboat Boykin alternated in setting up Mississippi's second score with Lear doing the honors on the seventh play after getting the ball on his own 47.

Lear sneaked through the line for 11, Boykin blasted across the left side for 14 and Lear made another five around end. The quarterback went over from the 10 after a pass play lost one yard and Muirhead got it back.

Lear made his only conversion of the day there.

McGee fumbled twice to give Muirhead his two scoring chances.

Harol Lofton recovered McGee's first bobble on the 28. The fleet youngster took four tries from the 11 before hitting pay dirt.

Jim Ingram smeared the second McGee fumble on the 36 and Fullback George Brenner moved it to the 25 with a low one-handed catch of Rocky Byrd's pass.

Lea Pasley, another Rebel frosh star, thought he had scored from the 19 until the officials ruled he went out of bounds on the one. Then it was Muirhead again, called on to regain a five-yard penalty loss and slug the line for the last three feet.

Score by quarters:

Tulane	0	0	0	6	6
Mississippi	6	0	7	12	25

Tulane scoring: Touchdowns, Weidenbacher.

Mississippi scoring: Touchdowns, Slay, Lear, Muirhead (2). Conversions, Lear.

Illinois Grabs Final Period Score To Win

Seattle, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Sophomore Tommy O'Connell pitched Illinois to a fourth-quarter tie - cracking touchdown and a 27-20 football victory over Washington today.

The invading Illini, ranked eighth in the nation, unleashed two flying backs—Johnny Karras and Pete Bachouros—in the first half to run up a 20-7 margin.

Washington came pounding back for touchdowns in the third and fourth quarters to know the count at 20-all and wreck the Illinois running attack, to the delight of the 54,000 fans.

With seven minutes left, O'Connell launched an 81-yard drive to the victory.

William And Mary Wins Over N. C. State, 35-28

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 20.—(AP)—They waited until the last half to drag out the offensive fireworks today and there were plenty as William and Mary thrice came from behind to defeat North Carolina State, 35-28.

Score by quarters:

William and Mary	0	0	14	21	35
N. C. State	7	7	0	14	28

William and Mary scoring: Touchdowns — Sipski, Mioduszewski 2, Koller 2, conversions: Hines 5.

North Carolina State scoring: Touchdowns—Kossila, Potts, Moyer, Webster. Conversions: Barkouskie 4.

Purdue Loses Out To Wisconsin On Fumbles

Lafayette, Ind., Oct. 20. —(AP)—Wisconsin put together four touchdowns and two safeties to whip 31-7.

The hard-charging Wisconsin offensive was pointed by John Coatta's deadly passing. The veteran quarterback tossed for two touchdowns and threw another long one to set up a third.

A homecoming crowd of 40,000 was subdued before halftime by four Wisconsin recoveries of Purdue survived the first three, but the fourth started a 16-point Wisconsin splurge in the second quarter.

BEARS FOLLOW ISBELL FOR WIN

Baylor Stops Upstart Texas Tech By 40-20 Count

Waco, Tex., Oct. 20.—(AP)—Larry Isbell showed his team mates how to do things in a hurry today, personally figuring in the first three touchdowns as Baylor ripped upstart Texas Tech, 40 to 20.

Isbell, who completed 13 to 18 passes and played little more than two quarters, sneaked one yard for a tally and shot 10 and 9-yard scoring passes to Ends Bob Trout and Stanley Williams in the second quarter.

A 13-yard pass, Junior Arterburn to Bobby Cavazos, helped move Tech goalward Jim Turner whipped around right end from the three to shoot Tech into a 6-0 lead.

That was all for Tech until the final period, when Baylor was using second and third-stringers.

A blocked Tech punt, recovered by Baylor End Bob Trout on the Tech one, gave the Bear's a quick third-quarter score as Francis Davidson dived over for the first touchdown of his varsity career. Richard Parma powered over from the one after another Tech miscue, a fumble by Arterburn, gave Baylor possession on Tech's 27.

Even with Isbell resting on the bench, the Baylor passing attack clicked beautifully for a 55 - yard touchdown. Jimmy Davenport tossed to Williams, who streaked down the left sideline, swerved to the right and outraced pursuers.

Bobby Cavazos, the lad who scored three times against T. C. U. last week, turned in a brilliant 88-yard scamper, sweeping outside right tackle and down the right sideline, then cutting back and side-stepping the Baylor safety to break into the clear.

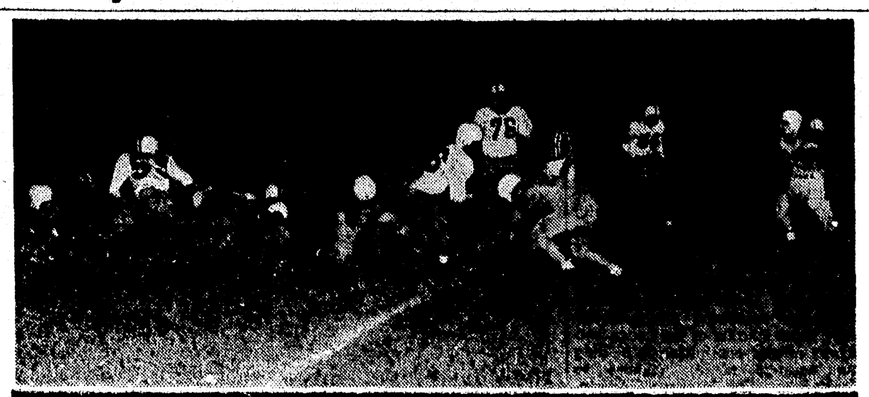

Turner bulled over the six to terminate a 48-yard Tech drive. Baylor was threatening on Tech's 10 as the game ended.

Faulk, Breault Reach Hardscrabble Finals

Fort Smith, Ark., Oct. 20. —(AP)—Medalist Mary Lena Faulk of Thomasville, Ga., and Mrs. H. O. Breault of Chicago won semi-final matches in the annual Hardscrabble Women's Golf Tournament here today.

They will meet tomorrow to settle the championship.

Miss Faulk beat Majorie Lindsay of Decatur, Ill., 2 and 1. Mrs. Breault defeated Mrs. Harlan Riedel of Dallas, 3 and 1.

Indiana Hoosiers Spring Upset Over Ohio State

Columbus, O., Oct. 20. —(AP)—Indiana's underdog Hoosiers buried Ohio State's Rose Bowl and big Ten championship hopes deep under the cleat-torn turf of Buckeye Stadium today with a startling 32-10 upset victory before 74,265 amazed fans.

The Hoosiers, with Coach Clyde Smith under fire after losing one-sided games to Notre Dame and Michigan, struck like lighting for three touchdowns in the opening period. Then they hung on to win an easy and convincing victory over the star-studded Buckeyes.

Score by quarters.

Indiana	19	7	0	6	32
Ohio	3	0	0	7	10

Indiana scoring: Touchdown, Luft, Gepman 2, Robertson, G. Anderson. Conversions, D'Achille 2.

Ohio scoring: Touchdown, Joslin, Conversion, Janowicz. Field goal, Janowicz.

Maryland Slugs N. C. Tar Heels

College Park, Md., Oct. 20.—(AP)—Maryland had to struggle mightily today to wrest a 14-7 victory from a hard-socking North Carolina array and stay undefeated in four games.

The North Carolina tar heels threatened to stage an uprising against the seventh-ranked team in the nation by gaining at least a tie.

They had Maryland's back to the wall almost the entire second half, which was scoreless on both sides. With only a minute to play they left the 31,237 fans breathless by barely missing the needed score.

On the Maryland 15 for the second time in the quarter, Billy Williams rifled the ball to Bob Gantt over the goal. Gantt started to wrap his hands around the ball when Joe Petruzzo, a yeoman worker in Maryland's pass defense, hit him so hard he dropped it.

Monroe Bulldogs Trip Natchitoches

The Monroe Colored High Bulldogs came from behind in the third quarter to out-score the Natchitoches Gophers 21-13 in a passing duel for their first conference game.

Monroe and Natchitoches played a scoreless half that high-lighted a lot of passing and punting. The Gophers surprised the Bulldogs early in the third quarter by blocking a punt and then scoring on the third play from scrimmage to lead 8-0.

Spears, the speed merchant, ran Monroe's first touchdown off tackle for 25 yards. The extra point wzs good to tied the scores 7-7. Blade the fullback scored Monroe's second touchdown and also the extra point to put the Bulldogs out in front 14-7.

Early in the fourth quarter Napoleon, Monroe's quarterback, intercepted one of Natchitoches' passes on the 30 yard line. After Monroe got possession of the ball Spears ran 45 yards for another touchdown which was brought back to the 3 yard line where the officials said he stepped out of bounds. Finally he tallied for the third touchdown and made the extra point to put the game on ice for the Bulldogs making the scores 21-7.

In the last second of play Natchitoches made the last touchdown by catching a pass that was knocked down by one of Monroe's line backers.

ENGINEERS TRIUMPHS

Atlanta, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Georgia Tech's undefeated Yellow Jackets kept their state clean today by trouncing Auburn, 27-7. All Tech touchdowns came on passes from Darrell Crawford to Buck Martin.

LAURICELLA RUNS SPARK VOLS' WIN

Unbeaten Tennessee Measures Alabama, 27 To 13

Birmingham, Ala., Oct. 20—(AP)—Little Hank Lauricella, triple threat star for unbeaten Tennessee, cracked Alabama resistance with a 76-yard quick kick passed like a zipper for a touchdown and ran through Alabama for another score today as Tennessee won, 27-13.

Even at the end of this great football afternoon, Lauricella still was hot and a genuine threat in whatever he tried—kicking, running or passing. For a sellout house of 45,000 fans, the New Orleans kid was a return too the old days of versatile players and single wing formation power.

Also at the end of this game between Tennessee, the nation's second ranked power, and Alabama, the ninth ranker, Alabama managed to hurl a touchdown thrust and make it stick.

In the fourth quarter after Alabama looked all but lost, the Crimson Tide blasted 66 yards in seven plays for a touchdown.

Foootball has few better examples of a one-man offensive show than Lauricella staged. There also is little to match the comeback Alabama displayed in the face of the three previous miserable weeks. Alabama lost three in a row and fell from ninth place in the nation to the bottom of the Southeastern Conference.

As ususal Alabama's great performer was Halfback Bobby Marlow, both on offense and defense.

Score by quarters;

Tennessee	0	7	7	13	27
Alabama	7	0	0	6	13

Tennessee scoring: touchdowns, Lauricella, Kaseta, Rechichar and Ernsberger. Conversions, Rechichar (3).

Alabama scoring: touchdowns, Marlow (2). Conversion, Lutz.

HARVARD NIPS ARMY

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 20 —(AP)—Harvard's football youngsters added to Army's football woes by subjecting the Cadets to their fourth straight setback, 22-21, today. A second period safety, when Bob Hardy blocked an Army punt, was the margin of victory.

Dams are located after extensive "coring" tests of the river bottoms.

Princeton Tigers Rout Lafoyette Team, 60-7

Princeton, N. J., Oct. 20.—(AP)—The lowly understudy, Bill Tryon, outdazzled the dazzling Dick Kazmaier today in pacing Princeton to a 60-7 rout of little Lafayette for the Nassau Tigers' 17th football victory in a row.

Tryon, who had been threatened with demotion to the junior varsity, scored two touchdowns and passed to two others.

When he limped off the field with a leg injury, the crowd of 15,000 gave him a standing, roaring salute.

Tryon had 161 yards rushing and 62 yards passing, completing the only two throws he tried for touchdowns.

Sooners Swamp Kansas By A 33 To 21 Defeat

Norman, Okla., Oct. 20. —(AP)—Fullback Buck McPhail led Oklahoma back into the football limelight today, ripping his way 215 yards in 20 carries to help the Sooners to a 33-21 triumph over Kansas.

It took a two-touchdown uprising last year's national champions to open defense of their big seven title successfully and snap a two-game losing streak.

Trailing 21-20 as the teams changed directions for the last time, Oklahoma thrilled a dad's throng of 50,000 by putting together touchdown drives of 64 and 43 yards.

Luke Appling Remains As Chickasaws' Pilot

Memphis, Tenn., Oct. 19. —(AP)—Luke Appling, for 20 years one of the great shortstops of the American League, will manage the Memphis Chicks again next year.

Frank Longinotti, general manager of the Southern Association baseball club, said today Appling had signed a one-year contract. This year, in his first fling with the Chicks, Appling piloted the club to a four-place finish and a spot in the Shaughnessy playoffs.

BLOCKED BOOT ENABLES L. S. U. TO TAKE GAME

Guard Fournet Spikes Georgia Kick In Endzone

By Vernon Butler

Athens, Ga., Oct. 20.—(AP)—A blocked kick by a freshman guard tonight gave Louisiana State a 7-0 victory over Georgia in a bruising Southeastern Conference football clash.

Sid "Frenchy" Fournet, a 200-pound yearling from Bogalusa, La., sliced through late in the third quarter to block Zeke Bratkowski's boot in the end zone. Billy West, normally a fullback but tonight a whale of a defensive guard, fell on the loose ball for the touchdown.

Another freshman, Cliff Stringfield Fournet's high school teammate, kicked the extra point.

After the decisive score, Bratkowski, Georgia's sophomore aerial artist, pitched the Bulldogs down to L. S. U.'s 14. But too many Georgia receivers failed to hold his heaves at critical moments.

Many times desperate Georgia drives foundered in the closing minutes when Bratkowski's receivers bobbled his tosses. At least two were dropped in the end zone.

In losing its third in a row, Georgia put forth a superb defensive effort, but the one lapse — when Fournet barreled through — allowed L. S. U. to pick up the marbles.

As the hard but clean tilt ended, Georgia was knocking at the door, but Charlie Oakley intercepted a Bratkowski pass on the last play. The Danville, Ill., quarterbacks passing artistry had propelled Georgia to the visitors nine.

Aided by a pass interference, this drive carried 64 yards, almost all by air, but Oakley's interception at the goal line spelled another loss for Georgia.

The first half principally was a workout for the big defensive lines. Both teams stuck mainly to the ground, and Bratkowski — who had been racking up passing records — failed to complete a single aerial. L. S. U. covered the receivers like blankets.

Jimmy Barton's kicking, less than mediocre last week against Georgia Tech, improved a great deal. The stumpy Texans boots kept Georgia off balance.

Near the end of the first quarter, Barton was dropped for a 13-yard loss by Georgia Sophomore Earl Gunn at the L. S. U. 37, but Georgia couldn't move and Bratkowski punted into the end zone.

L. S. U. threatened in the second quarter, moving to Georgia's 16, but Warren Virgets — who caught a pass there — fumbled as he was hit and the Bulldogs Chris Filipkowski recovered.

L. S. U. was back a moment later when Charlie Oakley intercepted a pass at the Georgia 4. Barthen took a pitchout from Stevens and passed to Freeman at the Georgia 28, but the Bulldog defense wouldn't budge further. Georgia drove to L. S. U.'s 35 near halftime, but the big Tiger forewall stopped them there.

Score by quarters:

Scoring touchdowns: West. Conversions, Stringfield.

Notre Dame Runs Wild Over Pittsburgh, 33-0

Pittsburgh, Oct. 20. —(AP)—Notre Dame bounced sky high from its defeat last week in mauling a stubborn but outclassed Pittsburgh football team 33-0 today. The game blended fumbles, pass interceptions and a few spirited flareups between players.

The Irish started with a few sputters. But once all the cylinders got to working in unison they rolled over and soared above the hapless Pittsburghers as a near capacity crowd of 61,207 roared.

Score by quarters:

Notre Dame	6	14	6	7	33

Notre Dame scoring: Touchdowns, Barrett 2, Mazur 2, Heap. Conversions, Mavraides 3.

Northwestern Beginning Cage Practice Tomorrow

Natchitoches, La., Oct. 20.—(Special) — Coach Charles "Red" Thomas will begin his second season as Northwestern State basketball mentor when his enthusiastic cagers begin practice Monday.

The N. S. C. Hardwooders will have a month to prepare for their opener here November 23, when they take on the Alexandria Air Base quintet.

Last year the Demon cagers had a 16-11 record, and despite the graduation of All-Americangra-dETHT a 16-11 record, and despite the graduation of All-American Johnny McConathy, All-Conference Linwood Outzts and Hershal McConathy, N. S. C., traditionally a cage power, will be out to duplicate or improve the score this year.

New York's first elevated train was powered by cables attached to steam winches at one end of the line.

REBS BLAST WAVE; TIGERS WHIP BULLDOGS

FRESHMAN BACK SPEARHEADS OLE MISS' 25-6 WIN

Favored Tulane Too Slow To Start Rolling

By Clem Brossier

Oxford, Miss., Oct. 20.—(AP)—A flashing freshman halfback sparked an exploding Mississippi football team to a 25-6 triumph here today over a top-rated Tulane Green Wave that couldn't seem to get going.

Allen Muirhead, a 19-year-old Canton, Miss., replacement for injured Dick Westerman was the lad who opened the throttle in the fourth period to cinch the Rebel's 10th win over the Wave in 32 starts.

Tulane, in its first appearance in Hemingway Stadium during the 58-year-old rivalry, was rocked on its heels by Mississippi's sudden strikes in the first quarter.

Quarterback Jimmy Lear's 37-yard pass to Left End Bud Slay on the 30 that sent Slay scampering over for the first score was only the first blow.

The Wave's passing expert, Pete Clement, was less than effective and Mississippi's defense forced Tulane to rely mainly on the hard driving of Max McGee and Ronnie Kent for their yardage.

Tulane's lone score, however, came through the air late in the fourth quarter.

Fred Dempsey, taking over from Clement, started firing one pass after another and on the third try hit Right Halfback Ray Weidenbacher for 48 yards and the score. McGee's try for extra point was no good.

Lear, Muirhead and the Rebels' driving Fullback Showboat Boykin alternated in setting up Mississippi's second score with Lear doing the honors on the seventh play after getting the ball on his own 47.

Lear sneaked through the line for 11, Boykin blasted across the left side for 14 and Lear made another five around end. The quarterback went over from the 10 after a pass play lost one yard and Muirhead got it back.

Lear made his only conversion of the day there.

McGee fumbled twice to give Muirhead his two scoring chances. Harol Lofton recovered McGee's first bobble on the 28. The fleet youngster took four tries from the 11 before hitting pay dirt.

Jim Ingram smeared the second McGee fumble on the 36 and Fullback George Brenner moved it to the 25 with a low one-handed catch of Rocky Byrd's pass.

Lea Pasley, another Rebel frosh star, thought he had scored from the 19 until the officials ruled he went out of bounds on the one. Then it was Muirhead again, called on to regain a five-yard penalty loss and slug the line for the last three feet.

Score by quarters:

Tulane	0	0	0	6	—6

Tulane scoring: Touchdowns, Weidenbacher.

Mississippi scoring: Touchdowns, Slay, Lear, Muirhead (2). Conversions, Lear.

Illinois Grabs Final Period Score To Win

Seattle, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Sophomore Tommy O'Connell pitched Illinois to a fourth-quarter tie - cracking touchdown and a 27-20 football victory over Washington today.

The invading Illini, ranked eighth in the nation, unleashed two flying backs—Johnny Karras and Pete Bachouros—in the first half to run up a 20-7 margin.

Washington came pounding back for touchdowns in the third and fourth quarters to know the count at 20-all and wreck the Illinois running attack, to the delight of the 54,000 fans.

With seven minutes left, O'Connell launched an 81-yard drive to the victory.

William And Mary Wins Over N. C. State, 35-28

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 20.—(AP)—They waited until the last half to drag out the offensive fireworks today and there were plenty as William and Mary thrice came from behind to defeat North Carolina State, 35-28.

Score by quarters:

William and Mary	0	0	14	21	—35
N. C. State	7	7	0	14	—28

William and Mary scoring: Touchdowns — Sipski, Mioduszewski 2, Koller 2, conversions: Hines 5.

North Carolina State scoring: Touchdowns—Kossila, Potts, Moyer, Webster. Conversions: Barkouskie 4.

Purdue Loses Out To Wisconsin On Fumbles

Lafayette, Ind., Oct. 20. —(AP)—Wisconsin put together four touchdowns and two safeties to whip 31-7.

The hard-charging Wisconsin offensive was pointed by John Coatta's deadly passing. The veteran quarterback tossed for two touchdowns and threw another long one to set up a third.

A homecoming crowd of 40,000 was subdued before halftime by four Wisconsin recoveries of Purdue survived the first three, but the fourth started a 16-point Wisconsin splurge in the second quarter.

BEARS FOLLOW ISBELL FOR WIN

Baylor Stops Upstart Texas Tech By 40-20 Count

Waco, Tex., Oct. 20.—(AP)—Larry Isbell showed his team mates how to do things in a hurry today, personally figuring in the first three touchdowns as Baylor ripped upstart Texas Tech, 40 to 20.

Isbell, who completed 13 to 18 passes and played little more than two quarters, sneaked one yard for a tally and shot 10 and 9-yard scoring passes to Ends Bob Trout and Stanley Williams in the second quarter.

A 13-yard pass, Junior Arterburn to Bobby Cavazos, helped move Tech goalward Jim Turner whipped around right end from the three to shoot Tech into a 6-0 lead.

That was all for Tech until the final period, when Baylor was using second and third-stringers.

A blocked Tech punt, recovered by Baylor End Bob Trout on the Tech one, gave the Bear's a quick third-quarter score as Francis Davidson dived over for the first touchdown of his varsity career. Richard Parma powered over from the one after another Tech miscue, a fumble by Arterburn, gave Baylor possession on Tech's 27.

Even with Isbell resting on the bench, the Baylor passing attack clicked beautifully for a 55 - yard touchdown. Jimmy Davenport tossed to Williams, who streaked down the left sideline, swerved to the right and outraced pursuers.

Bobby Cavazos, the lad who scored three times against T. C. U. last week, turned in a brilliant 88-yard scamper, sweeping outside right tackle and down the right sideline, then cutting back and side-stepping the Baylor safety to break into the clear.

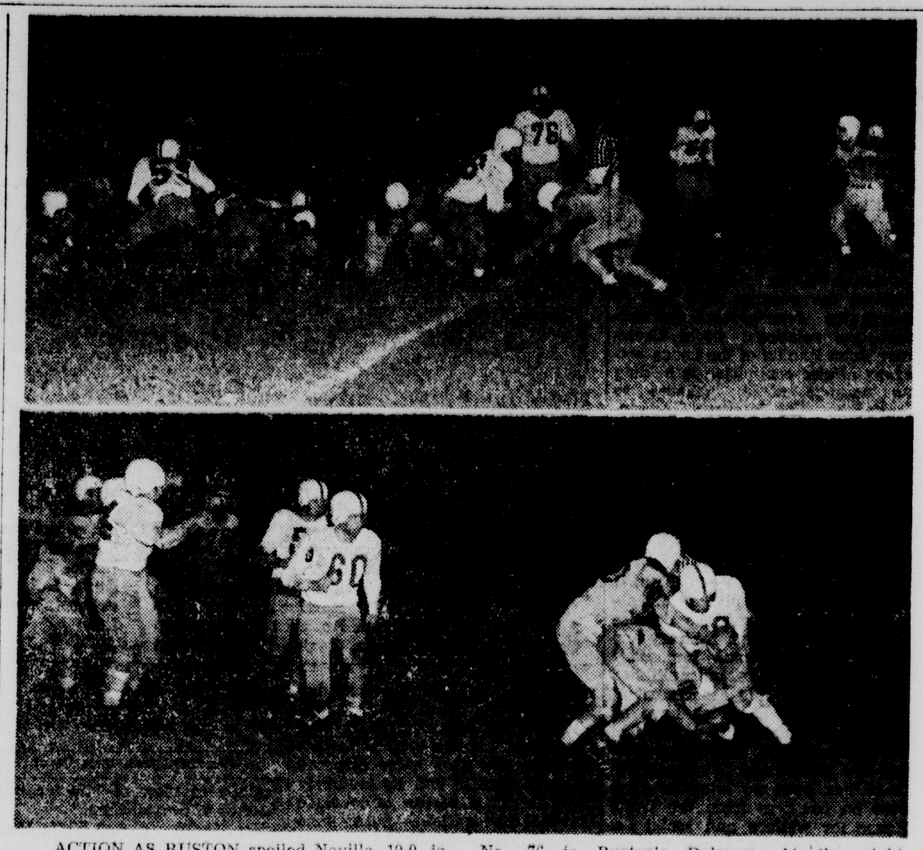

Turner bulled over the six to terminate a 48-yard Tech drive. Baylor was threatening on Tech's 10 as the game ended.

Faulk, Breault Reach Hardscrabble Finals

Fort Smith, Ark., Oct. 20. —(AP)—Medalist Mary Lena Faulk of Thomasville, Ga., and Mrs. H. O. Breault of Chicago won semi-final matches in the annual Hardscrabble Women's Golf Tournament here today.

They will meet tomorrow to settle the championship.

Miss Faulk beat Majorie Lindsay of Decatur, Ill., 2 and 1. Mrs. Breault defeated Mrs. Harlan Riedel of Dallas, 3 and 1.

Indiana Hoosiers Spring Upset Over Ohio State

Columbus, O., Oct. 20. —(AP)—Indiana's underdog Hoosiers buried Ohio State's Rose Bowl and big Ten championship hopes deep under the cleat-torn turf of Buckeye Stadium today with a startling 32-10 upset victory before 74,265 amazed fans.

The Hoosiers, with Coach Clyde Smith under fire after losing one-sided games to Notre Dame and Michigan, struck like lighting for three touchdowns in the opening period. Then they hung on to win an easy and convincing victory over the star-studded Buckeyes.

Score by quarters.

Indiana	19	7	0	6	—32

Indiana scoring: Touchdown, Luft, Gepman 2, Robertson, G. Anderson. Conversions, D'Achille 2.

Maryland Slugs N. C. Tar Heels

College Park, Md., Oct. 20.—(AP)—Maryland had to struggle mightily today to wrest a 14-7 victory from a hard-socking North Carolina array and stay undefeated in four games.

The North Carolina tar heels threatened to stage an uprising against the seventh-ranked team in the nation by gaining at least a tie.

They had Maryland's back to the wall almost the entire second half, which was scoreless on both sides. With only a minute to play they left the 31,237 fans breathless by barely missing the needed score.

On the Maryland 15 for the second time in the quarter, Billy Williams rifled the ball to Bob Gantt over the goal. Gantt started to wrap his hands around the ball when Joe Petruzzo, a yeoman worker in Maryland's pass defense, hit him so hard he dropped it.

Monroe Bulldogs Trip Natchitoches

The Monroe Colored High Bulldogs came from behind in the third quarter to out-score the Natchitoches Gophers 21-13 in a passing duel for their first conference game.

Monroe and Natchitoches played a scoreless half that high-lighted a lot of passing and punting. The Gophers surprised the Bulldogs early in the third quarter by blocking a punt and then scoring on the third play from scrimmage to lead 8-0.

Spears, the speed merchant, ran Monroe's first touchdown off tackle for 25 yards. The extra point was good to tied the scores 7-7. Blade the fullback scored Monroe's second touchdown and also the extra point to put the Bulldogs out in front 14-7.

Early in the fourth quarter Napoleon, Monroe's quarterback, intercepted one of Natchitoches' passes on the 30 yard line. After Monroe got possession of the ball Spears ran 45 yards for another touchdown which was brought back to the 3 yard line where the officials said he stepped out of bounds. Finally he tallied for the third touchdown and made the extra point to put the game on ice for the Bulldogs making the scores 21-7.

In the last second of play Natchitoches made the last touchdown by catching a pass that was knocked down by one of Monroe's line backers.

ENGINEERS TRIUMPHS

Atlanta, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Georgia Tech's undefeated Yellow Jackets kept their state clean today by trouncing Auburn, 27-7. All Tech touchdowns came on passes from Darrell Crawford to Buck Martin.

College degrees are held by 42 per cent of U. S. army officers, according to army records.

LAURICELLA RUNS SPARK VOLS' WIN

Unbeaten Tennessee Measures Alabama, 27 To 13

Birmingham, Ala., Oct. 20—(AP)—Little Hank Lauricella, triple threat star for unbeaten Tennessee, cracked Alabama resistance with a 76-yard quick kick passed like a zipper for a touchdown and ran through Alabama for another score today as Tennessee won, 27-13.

Even at the end of this great football afternoon, Lauricella still was hot and a genuine threat in whatever he tried—kicking, running or passing. For a sellout house of 45,000 fans, the New Orleans kid was a return too the old days of versatile players and single wing formation power.

Also at the end of this game between Tennessee, the nation's second ranked power, and Alabama, the ninth ranker, Alabama managed to hurl a touchdown thrust and make it stick.

In the fourth quarter after Alabama looked all but lost, the Crimson Tide blasted 66 yards in seven plays for a touchdown.

Foootball has few better examples of a one-man offensive show than Lauricella staged. There also is little to match the comeback Alabama displayed in the face of the three previous miserable weeks. Alabama lost three in a row and fell from ninth place in the nation to the bottom of the Southeastern Conference.

As ususal Alabama's great performer was Halfback Bobby Marlow, both on offense and defense.

Score by quarters;

Tennessee	0	7	7	13	—27
Alabama	7	0	0	6	-13

Tennessee scoring: touchdowns, Lauricella, Kaseta, Rechichar and Ernsberger. Conversions, Rechichar (3).

Alabama scoring: touchdowns, Marlow (2). Conversion, Lutz.

HARVARD NIPS ARMY

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 20 —(AP)—Harvard's football youngsters added to Army's football woes by subjecting the Cadets to their fourth straight setback, 22-21, today. A second period safety, when Bob Hardy blocked an Army punt, was the margin of victory.

NORTHEAST MASSACRES OUACHITA COLLEGE

RAMPANT INDIANS PLASTER TIGERS TO TUNE OF 66-0

Triumph Is Greatest Rout For Redskins Since 1935

The Northeast State College Indians used everything in the book to massacre the Ouachita College Tigers of Arkadelphia, Ark., 66 to 0, here last night. The triumph more than avenged the 62-0 loss to the Bengals the last time the two schools met back in 1942.

Greg LeBlanc led the Tribe's scoring as he snagged three touchdown passes, one for 27 yards from Lloyd Ray, and two on passes from Mark Boatright for 39 and 44 yards. Vince Zappone went over twice on runs of five and 21 yards.

Single Northeast touchdowns were gathered in by Bob Gunter, on a 19-yard dash; Jim Roberts, a 54-yard scamper; Bob Carter, 46 yards; and "Dub" Rush, a two-yard plunge.

End Francis Baker kicked a field goal and four extra points to total seven points for the Tribe; Carter came through with three straight placements for points behind the last three touchdowns; and a safety was thrown in for measure in the third period.

Ouachita just didn't have the stuff to stop the Tribe or generate a scoring punch of its own. Coach Jim Malone used everything available, but the Redskins kept piling up the points.

It was the biggest score run up by a Northeast team since the 1935 Redskins mauled Arkansas College, 75 to 0.

Spectators not only saw the game but they viewed a spectacular show in the pre-game program and half-time act.

Opening Brown field performances were Northeast State freshmen who wore colorful regalia for the event. The frosh sat in a body as a part of freshman day rules laid down by the student council. Regulations stipulated the wearing of special caps through the first semester if the Northeast Indians lost the game.

Following the humorous side of the evening entertainment was the impressive coronation ceremony, which was climaxed with Miss Nona Gay Williams, of Monroe, being crowned "queen of the 1951 homecoming."

Signalling the entrance of the royal party, the honor guard of the R. O. T. C. presented arms to the queen and her court as they proceeded between two rows of cadets in snappy military police uniforms.

The band provided fanfare as the regal members entered the field.

Leading the procession was Miss Betty Williams of Monroe and Don Easterling of Pine Bluff, Ark.

Other maids and their attendants were: Miss Tommie Ann Day of Marion and David Ruff of Bastrop; Miss Charlotte Holloway of Spencer and Chris Gatzoulas of Monroe; Miss Cynthia Guyton of St. Louis, Mo., and Danny Sullivan; Miss Martha Vining of Oak Grove and Julius Dean of Many; Miss Charlotte Ruff and James Phillips both of Rayville; Miss Louise McFarland and Ulysses Cerniglia, both of Monroe.

Serving Queen Nona Gay as maid of honor was Miss Jeanne Sawyer of Jones who has borne the title for three consecutive homecomings at Northeast State. Her escort was Charles Littleton.

Following the maid of honor were Becky Parkerson and Ned Whatley Becky, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Parkerson, bore the queen's crown, and Ned, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Whatley, carried the football, which he presented to Rex Pensinger, captain of the football team?.

The queen was escorted to the throne by Milton Craighead of Start. She wore a deep orchid suit and hat of mauve feathers and carried an arm bouquet of mammoth gold chrysanthemums tied with maroon ribbon.

Representing Gov. Earl K. Long, Judge Carlos Spaht of Baton Rouge placed the crown of silver satin, covered in silver sequins and rhinestones, upon the head of beautiful blonde Miss Williams and proclaimed her "Queen of the nineteenth homecoming."

During the half-time activities, L. I. Price, head of the agriculture department, presented Dr. Robert D. Wood of Monroe, a member of the class of 1943, who represented the alumni.

Then the Indianettes, marching squad, took over for an exposition on the field. Directed by President Elaine Lolley and Lt. Margie Gulley, the group did fancy steps from the south goal to the center of the gridiron where they formed a tepee. Homecoming maids created the doorway in which Queen Nona Gay stood. Then the royal court left the field and the Indianettes formed a "V" while Don Easterling, leader of the cheering squad, led the victory yell.

Climaxing extra events was a brilliant aerial display of fireworks against a darkened field.

Post-game features included a coffee hour for guests in the home economics rooms of the science building and a dance in the gymnasium for alumni, students and guests.

It was wham, wham, wham as the Tribe rolled up points, getting three touchdowns before the game was five minutes old. Downing the opening kickoff on their own 35, the Indians quickly drove to the Tiger 27, a 25-yard run by Bob Gunter featuring the drive, and then Ray passed to LeBlanc for the touchdown. Baker kicked the point.

A minute later Bobby Niesom intercepted a Tiger pass and was hauled down on the Ouachita five. Zappone went over on the next play. Again Baker's kick was good.

Baker recoverd a Tiger fumble on the first play following the kickoff behind Zappone's tally, covering the ball on the Ouachita 17. A double reverse lost back to the 21, and then Boatright tired a pass to Zappone for the touchdown. Bake was still kicking good.

Lloyd Andrews set up the fourth and final touchdown of the opening period by covering a fumble on the Ouachita 22. A 19-yard Bob Gunter run on a double reverse around end for the TD. Baker kicked his fourth straight point.

Northeast downed a Tiger punt on the Indian 46 to start the second period. On the very next play, Jim Roberts broke free around left end and went all the way — 54 yards. Baker finally missed a kick.

Northeast staged an 81-yard down field drive, featuring Bob Carter, "Dub" Rush, and Boatright passing to Jack Brown to carry the ball to the Tiger 46. Carter slipped through left tackle to go the distance. Baker again missed his kick.

Baker made up for missing the point with a field goal in the last minute of the half. Boatright had connected with Gene Smith and Ronald Gunter with three straight passes for 46 yards to the Tiger two. Baker went in to kick his field goal from that point.

The Tribe opened its second half scoring with a safety after Harry Hubenthal punted out of bounds on the Tiger one, and the Indian line smothered the Ouachita ball carrier behind the goal on the first play from scrimmage. Then near the close of the period, Boatright hit LeBlanc with a 39 yard pass to the goal line for touchdown No. 7. Bob Carter kicked the point.

A Tiger fumble, covered by Gene Smith on the Ouachita 35, and the Tribe hammered its way to the two from where Rush plunged over.

Midway of the final period Carter got loose on a 32 yard run, and Boatright followed with a pass to LeBlanc on the Tiger 20, and LeBlanc went the rest of the way for a 44-yard gain and touchdown. Carter again kicked good for the point.

Kentucky Breaks Villanova Streak

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 20.—(AP)—Babe Parilli, Kentucky's All-America candidate, unlimbered his brilliant right arm to pitch four touchdown passes in a 35-13 football rout over previously unbeaten Villanova here tonight.

The Kentucky Babe missed by one touchdown pass the record he shares in the Southeastern Conference as the four scoring heaves covered 121 yards to stop the nation's 12th ranking team.

Villanova found another danger in the running of Tom Killion, a slashing sophomore fullback, and Bullet Bill Leskovar, the man Killion beat out of a job, as they kept the Villanova defense softened for the aerial attack.

Villanova found its punch for a quick first period touchdown on a 50-yard drive and again in the final stanza after capitalizing on Parilli's fumble on the Kentucky three.

The Babe's favorite target was a 210-pound sophomore end, Steve Mellinger, who gathered in three of Parilli's aerials for tallies that covered 50, 24, and 18 yards.

Little Emory Clark, a senior halfback, gathered in the other aerial on a 29-yard payoff throw.

The National Geographic Society estimates that more than 230,000,000 persons see movies in the world each week.

Vols, Engineers Tagged For Bowl

Dallas, Oct. 19 —(AP)— Georgia Tech and Tennessee were projected today as the most likely contenders for the visiting team spot in the Cotton Bowl.

Jere Hayes, sports editor of the Times Herald, pointed out that each had a strong chance of finishing the season undefeated. And, he said, since they do not play each other the Cotton Bowl would stand an excellent chance of landing one of them, with the other going to the Sugar Bowl.

Both teams have played in the Cotton Bowl. Tennessee appeared here last Jan. 1, defeated Texas 20-14. Georgia Tech played in the Cotton Bowl in 1943, losing to Texas 14-7.

Cornell Wins Fourth Straight Ball Game

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 20.—(AP)—Rocco Calvo, the Ivy League's leading passer, pitched unbeaten and untied Cornell to a 27 to 0 triumph over Yale today.

The big red team's sharpehoter tossed two touchdown passes to Stu Merz, during a sizzling opening period in which Cornell piled up a 20 to 0 lead. Hal Seidenberg bulled and slipped across for the other two tallies, both of which were set up by Calvo aerials.

Yale's strategy of passing every time it got the ball during most of the first period boomeranged and two of these aerials led to Cornell tallies. The blue never recovered from the early disaster.

The victory was Cornell's fourth in a row this season, and seventh since 1950. It was Yale's third straight setback.

Cartilage Removed From Knee Of Kentucky's Star

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 19. —(AP)— Cartilage was removed from the right knee of Bill Spivey, seven-foot All-America basketball center, at St. Joseph Hospital today and the Kentucky cage star was reported in good condition following the operation.

Dr. O. B. Murphy, team physician who performed the surgery, said the lanky native of Warnerobins, Ga., would remain in the hospital over the weekend. He will be removed to the University infirmary, probably on Monday, where he will remain through most of the week.

Spivey suffered the torn cartilage a couple weeks ago during a workout for movies which Coach Adolph Rupp is using for basketball clinics.

The Azores total 880 square miles in area.

Chicago's "Loop" district is named after the circle its elevated tracks make in the downtown area.

The University of Arizona has had 17 football coaches since it began competing on the gridiron in 1899.

Winless Navy Falls To Northwestern, 16 To 7

Evanston, Ill., Oct. 20.—(AP)—Dick Alban, 180-pound thunderbolt halfback, twice rocketed through Navy for the key blows in unbeaten Northwestern's 16-7 triumph over winless Navy today.

Alban launched one 88 - yard scoring play and raced 69 yards for the second wildcat touchdown to produce Northwestern's fourth straight victory.

Navy	0	0	7	0	7

DICK TODD NEW REDSKIN COACH

'Hunk' Anderson Ruled Out By Commissioner Bell

Washington, Oct. 20. —(AP)— Pro football Commissioner Bert Bell today ruled that Heartley (Hunk) Anderson could not sign as head coach of the Washington Redskins. The Redskins promptly gave the job to Dick Todd, former Texas A. and M. star.

Todd succeeds Herman Ball, who had been head man since the middle of the 1949 season. Todd had been one of his assistants.

Ball will stay on with the Redskins organization in the same job he had when he started with them —as a scout.

The announcement of the developments came from Redskin general Manager Dick McCann.

McCann said that Bell had ruled that Anderson was under contract to the Chicago Bears, and that since the Bears now say they want him back. Anderson could not sign with another team.

Ironically, Anderson had held a news conference at the Redskin office today, and had explained what plans he meant to carry out when he became top hand.

Anderson had been line coach for the Bears for 11 seasons, but quit this year to sell steel in Detroit. But even though he is no longer with the Bears, his contract still runs until Dec. 31.

McCann said Anderson will not return to the Bears, but will go back to peddling steel in Detroit.

Todd's job seemed a little uncertain right at the outset.

How about his contract?

"We haven't had time to think about it yet?" McCann told a reporter.

How long will it run?

"At least until the end of the season—or until Halas (George Halas, owner of the Bears) changes his mind."

LOUISIANA TECH DEFEATS DEMONS

Bulldogs Roll Over Northwestern, 21 To 6

Shreveport, La., Oct. 20. —(AP)— Louisiana Tech's Bulldogs penetrated a determined Northwestern State defense with three sustained scoring drives today to pin a 21-6 defeat on the Demons in their traditional grid feud at the Louisiana State Fair grounds stadium.

Quarterback Jimmy Brown threw to End Kenneth Bates for two of his teams touchdowns and helped along several other promising drives as he collected 90 yards on seven completions in 15 tries.

Halfback Cotton Hildreth almost singled handedly accounted for the other Tech score by galloping 60 yards in two carries for a touchdown.

Northwestern picked up 161 yards via the air, including the final 11 yards to their only touchdown when Quarterback M. B. Ray tossed to Charles Eyer on the goal line.

Ray, operating from a deep passing formation without benefit of deception, threaded the needle ten times in 29 pitches and kept the Tech secondary worried down to the final horn.

Ed Michaels bottled three extra points for the Bulldogs.

Tech led in first downs, 15 to 13 and in next yards gained, 304 to 259. Tech got 214 yards on the ground and N. S. C. got 90.

Score by quarters:

La. Tech	7	7	7	0
N. S. C.	0	0	6	0

Scoring: Tech — Bates, 2; Hildreth; N. S. C.—Eyer.

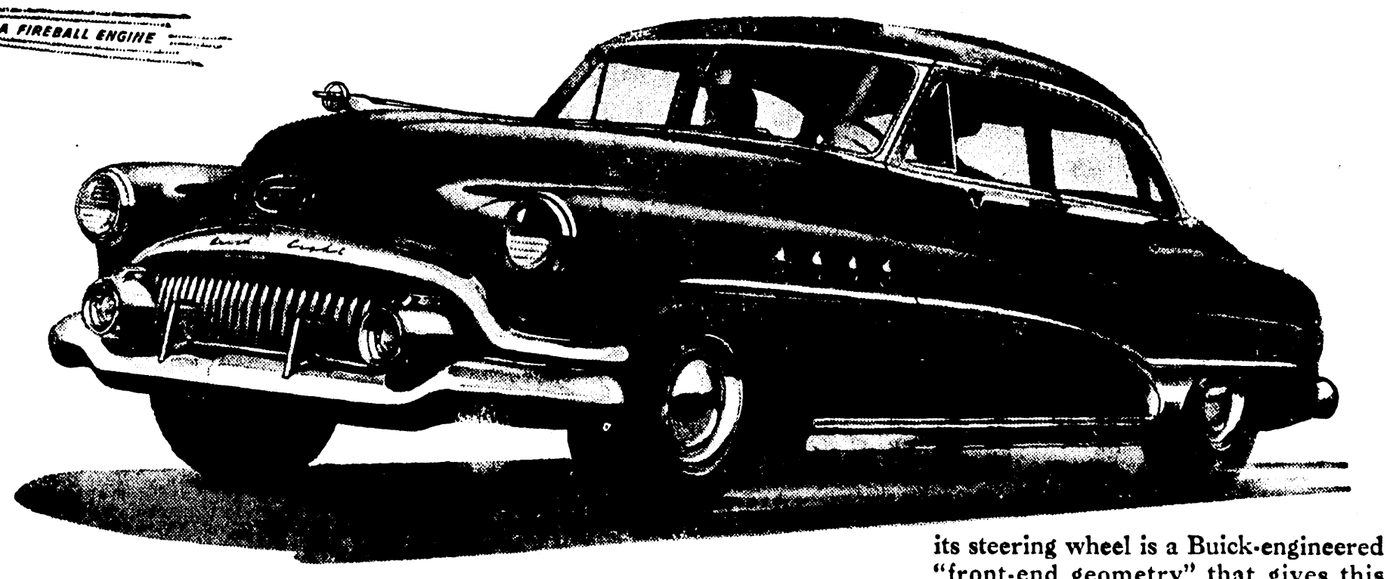

Ham Richardson Loses Match To Japanese Ace

Tokyo, Saturday, Oct. 20.—(AP)—American Davis Cup star Hamilton Richardson lost his first singles match in Japan Friday night at Nagoya. He was defeated by Jiro Kumanaru, rated Japan's No. 1 player, 3-6, 6-2, 6-4.

Art Larsen took the measure of Fumitero Nakano in the other singles match, 6-2, 11-9.

IT'S A FIREBALL ENGINE

Some-where a Road is Call-ing

IF the purr of a great-powered engine is music to your ears —

If command of two tons and more of nimble-footed and beautifully balanced automobile can step up your pulse beat—

You are just the man for whom a ROADMASTER was engineered.

Whatever it takes to give you a sense of complete and carefree freedom behind its wheel, you'll find in this proud master of the highways.

Added to the breadth and length that any fine car can give you are four soft-action coil springs to cushion the wheels, and a torque-tube to banish rear-wheel wander.

Added to its high-compression, valve-in-head engine are eight exclusive Fireball combustion chambers that get extra power from each whirling charge of fuel.

Added to the convenience of clutch-free driving is the torque-converter principle of Dynaflow Drive — that feeds a steady flow of power without lag or falter ever.

Added to the light responsiveness of its steering wheel is a Buick-engineered "front-end geometry" that gives this phenomenal performer a sense of direction straight and true.

But no roll call of engineering accomplishments can tell you the feel of a ROADMASTER out on the road.

That's something that only firsthand acquaintance can bring. Not just a trip around the block — but enough time and enough miles to let you discover what a joyous companion this great car can be.

That's something that is easily arranged. If you're truly interested, a phone call will bring a ROADMASTER to your door.

Baker kicked the point.

A minute later Bobby Niesom intercepted a Tiger pass and was hauled down on the Ouachita five. Zappone went over on the next play. Again Baker's kick was good.

Baker recoverd a Tiger fumble on the first play following the kickoff behind Zappone's tally, covering the ball on the Ouachita 17. A double reverse lost back to the 21, and then Boatright tired a pass to Zappone for the touchdown. Bake was still kicking good.

Lloyd Andrews set up the fourth and final touchdown of the opening period by covering a fumble on the Ouachita 22. A 19-yard Bob Gunter run on a double reverse around end for the TD. Baker kicked his fourth straight point.

Northeast downed a Tiger punt on the Indian 46 to start the second period. On the very next play, Jim Roberts broke free around left end and went all the way — 54 yards. Baker finally missed a kick.

Northeast staged an 81-yard down field drive, featuring Bob Carter, "Dub" Rush, and Boatright passing to Jack Brown to carry the ball to the Tiger 46. Carter slipped through left tackle to go the distance. Baker again missed his kick.

Baker made up for missing the point with a field goal in the last minute of the half. Boatright had connected with Gene Smith and Ronald Gunter with three straight passes for 46 yards to the Tiger two. Baker went in to kick his field goal from that point.

The Tribe opened its second half scoring with a safety after Harry Hubenthal punted out of bounds on the Tiger one, and the Indian line smothered the Ouachita ball carrier behind the goal on the first play from scrimmage. Then near the close of the period, Boatright hit LeBlanc with a 39 yard pass to the goal line for touchdown No. 7. Bob Carter kicked the point.

A Tiger fumble, covered by Gene Smith on the Ouachita 35, and the Tribe hammered its way to the two from where Rush plunged over.

Midway of the final period Carter got loose on a 32 yard run, and Boatright followed with a pass to LeBlanc on the Tiger 20, and LeBlanc went the rest of the way for a 44-yard gain and touchdown. Carter again kicked good for the point.

Kentucky Breaks Villanova Streak

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 20.—(AP)— Babe Parilli, Kentucky's All-America candidate, unlimbered his brilliant right arm to pitch four touchdown passes in a 35-13 football rout over previously unbeaten Villanova here tonight.

The Kentucky Babe missed by one touchdown pass the record he shares in the Southeastern Conference as the four scoring heaves covered 121 yards to stop the nation's 12th ranking team.

Villanova found another danger in the running of Tom Killion, a slashing sophomore fullback, and Bullet Bill Leskovar, the man Killion beat out of a job, as they kept the Villanova defense softened for the aerial attack.

Villanova found its punch for a quick first period touchdown on a 50-yard drive and again in the final stanza after capitalizing on Parilli's fumble on the Kentucky three.

The Babe's favorite target was a 210-pound sophomore end, Steve Meilinger, who gathered in three of Parilli's aerials for tallies that covered 50, 24, and 18 yards.

Little Emory Clark, a senior halfback, gathered in the other aerial on a 29-yard payoff throw.

The National Geographic Society estimates that more than 230,000,000 persons see movies in the world each week.

Vols, Engineers Tagged For Bowl

Dallas, Oct. 19 —(AP)— Georgia Tech and Tennessee were projected today as the most likely contenders for the visiting team spot in the Cotton Bowl.

Jere Hayes, sports editor of the Times Herald, pointed out that each had a strong chance of finishing the season undefeated. And, he said, since they do not play each other the Cotton Bowl would stand an excellent chance of landing one of them, with the other going to the Sugar Bowl.

Both teams have played in the Cotton Bowl. Tennessee appeared here last Jan. 1, defeated Texas 20-14. Georgia Tech played in the Cotton Bowl in 1943, losing to Texas 14-7.

Cornell Wins Fourth Straight Ball Game

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 20.—(AP) —Rocco Calvo, the Ivy League's leading passer, pitched unbeaten and untied Cornell to a 27 to 0 triumph over Yale today.

The big red team's sharpehoter tossed two touchdown passes to Stu Merz, during a sizzling opening period in which Cornell piled up a 20 to 0 lead. Hal Seidenberg bulled and slipped across for the other two tallies, both of which were set up by Calvo aerials.

Yale's strategy of passing every time it got the ball during most of the first period boomeranged and two of these aerials led to Cornell tallies. The blue never recovered from the early disaster.

The victory was Cornell's fourth in a row this season, and seventh since 1950. It was Yale's third straight setback.

Cartilage Removed From Knee Of Kentucky's Star

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 19. —(AP)— Cartilage was removed from the right knee of Bill Spivey, seven-foot All-America basketball center, at St. Joseph Hospital today and the Kentucky cage star was reported in good condition following the operation.

Dr. O. B. Murphy, team physician who performed the surgery, said the lanky native of Warnerobins, Ga., would remain in the hospital over the weekend. He will be removed to the University infirmary, probably on Monday, where he will remain through most of the week.

Spivey suffered the torn cartilage a couple weeks ago during a workout for movies which Coach Adolph Rupp is using for basketball clinics.

Winless Navy Falls To Northwestern, 16 To 7

Evanston, Ill., Oct. 20.—(AP)—Dick Alban, 180-pound thunderbolt halfback, twice rocketed through Navy for the key blows in unbeaten Northwestern's 16-7 triumph over winless Navy today.

Alban launched one 88 - yard scoring play and raced 69 yards for the second wildcat touchdown to produce Northwestern's fourth straight victory.

DICK TODD NEW REDSKIN COACH

'Hunk' Anderson Ruled Out By Commissioner Bell

Washington, Oct. 20. —(AP)— Pro football Commissioner Bert Bell today ruled that Heartley (Hunk) Anderson could not sign as head coach of the Washington Redskins. The Redskins promptly gave the job to Dick Todd, former Texas A. and M. star.

Todd succeeds Herman Ball, who had been head man since the middle of the 1949 season. Todd had been one of his assistants.

Ball will stay on with the Redskins organization in the same job he had when he started with them —as a scout.

The announcement of the developments came from Redskin general Manager Dick McCann.

McCann said that Bell had ruled that Anderson was under contract to the Chicago Bears, and that since the Bears now say they want him back, Anderson could not sign with another team.

Ironically, Anderson had held a news conference at the Redskin office today, and had explained what plans he meant to carry out when he became top hand.

Anderson had been line coach for the Bears for 11 seasons, but quit this year to sell steel in Detroit. But even though he is no longer with the Bears, his contract still runs until Dec. 31.

McCann said Anderson will not return to the Bears, but will go back to peddling steel in Detroit.

Todd's job seemed a little uncertain right at the outset.

How about his contract?

"We haven't had time to think about it yet?" McCann told a reporter.

How long will it run?

"At least until the end of the season—or until Halas (George Halas, owner of the Bears) changes his mind."

LOUISIANA TECH DEFEATS DEMONS

Bulldogs Roll Over Northwestern, 21 To 6

Shreveport, La., Oct. 20. —(AP)— Louisiana Tech's Bulldogs penetrated a determined Northwestern State defense with three sustained scoring drives today to pin a 21-6 defeat on the Demons in their traditional grid feud at the Louisiana State Fair grounds stadium.

Quarterback Jimmy Brown threw to End Kenneth Bates for two of his teams touchdowns and helped along several other promising drives as he collected 90 yards on seven completions in 15 tries.

Halfback Cotton Hildreth almost singled handedly accounted for the other Tech score by galloping 60 yards in two carries for a touchdown.

Northwestern picked up 161 yards via the air, including the final 11 yards to their only touchdown when Quarterback M. B. Ray tossed to Charles Eyer on the goal line.

Ray, operating from a deep passing formation without benefit of deception, threaded the needle ten times in 29 pitches and kept the Tech secondary worried down to the final horn.

Ed Michaels bottled three extra points for the Bulldogs.

Tech led in first downs, 15 to 13 and in next yards gained, 304 to 259. Tech got 214 yards on the ground and N. S. C. got 90.

Score by quarters:

La. Tech	7	7	7	0
N. S. C.	0	0	6	0

Scoring: Tech — Bates, 2; Hildreth; N. S. C.—Eyer.

Ham Richardson Loses Match To Japanese Ace

Tokyo, Saturday, Oct. 20.—(AP)— American Davis Cup star Hamilton Richardson lost his first singles match in Japan Friday night at Nagoya. He was defeated by Jiro Kumanaru, rated Japan's No. 1 player, 3-6, 6-2, 6-1.

Art Larsen took the measure of Fumitero Nakano in the other singles match, 6-2, 11-9.

Some-where a Road is Call-ing

IF the purr of a great-powered engine is music to your ears —

If command of two tons and more of nimble-footed and beautifully balanced automobile can step up your pulse beat—

You are just the man for whom a ROADMASTER was engineered.

Whatever it takes to give you a sense of complete and carefree freedom behind its wheel, you'll find in this proud master of the highways.

Added to the breadth and length that any fine car can give you are four soft-action coil springs to cushion the wheels, and a torque-tube to banish rear-wheel wander.

Added to its high-compression, valve-in-head engine are eight exclusive Fireball combustion chambers that get extra power from each whirling charge of fuel.

Added to the convenience of clutch-free driving is the torque-converter principle of Dynaflow Drive — that feeds a steady flow of power without lag or falter ever.

Added to the light responsiveness of its steering wheel is a Buick-engineered "front-end geometry" that gives this phenomenal performer a sense of direction straight and true.

But no roll call of engineering accomplishments can tell you the feel of a ROADMASTER out on the road.

That's something that only firsthand acquaintance can bring. Not just a trip around the block — but enough time and enough miles to let you discover what a joyous companion this great car can be.

That's something that is easily arranged. If you're truly interested, a phone call will bring a ROADMASTER to your door.

FERRIDAY WHIPS WISNER, 44 TO 20

Every Member Of Winning Squad Sees Action In Tilt

Ferriday, La., Oct. 20.—(Special)—Every member of the Ferriday High School football squad dressed out for the game saw action here Friday night as the Bulldogs completely outclassed Wisner 44 to 20.

Ferriday's line couldn't have played better, holding Wisner at a complete standstill until the fourth period when Wisner scored all of this points against the Bulldog third stringers.

With "Red" McNew sparking the play, the Bulldogs piled up all their points in the first three periods. McNew opened the scoring with an eight-yard run to paydirt, and he passed to Charley Murray 25 yards for the second.

Nine different Bulldogs counted points. Frederick Stuart scored on a 63-yard dash; Bobby Marks went eleven for another, Benny Ray Bruant scampered 24 to score, Carl Abel counted on a 15-yard run, and Brook scored on a pass from Harmon. Everett Westbrook and Perkins each added a conversion.

Wisner counted all its points in the final period. Ferrington and Shivers ran for touchdowns, and Childers passed to Humble for another. Smith and Furr ran for Wisner conversions.

Start Organizing Basketball Loops

Jack Hesketh, director of the Monroe Recreation department, has announced that Recreation League basketball will begin on the first day of December this year.

Six leagues will be formed this year. These leagues include Midget League, 14 years or under; the Junior League, 18 and under; the City League, the Girls League, and the Church League, which is being organized for the first time this year.

A Pee Wee League will also be formed for boys 12 years old and under.

The gymnasium at Selman Field will aslo be used for volley ball, Hesketh said, and a league is under way now. The gym will be open the first of November for practice, and teams planning to use the gym are urged to make reservations early.

Hesketh asks that all teams planning on entering any of the leagues register their teams as soon as possible.

Marciano Getting Big Trial Friday

New York, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Young Rocky Marciano and 37-year-old Joe Louis meet Friday night at Madison Square Garden in the top heavyweight bout of the winter season.

For Marciano, 27-year-old son of a Brockton, Mass., shoemaker this is the big test. Unbeaten in 37 pro fights, the sky will be the limit for Rocky if he can beat the Bomber.

Louis must whip this dangerous puncher to keep alive his dreams of winning back his world heavyweight championship. In eight winning starts since he lost to Ezzard Charles, Joe did not meet a slugger like Marciano.

Deep respect for Louis' old punching power is reflected by the 6½ to 5 odds favoring the ex-champ. Still, the price has been coming down and they may go into the ring at even money.

There are two distinct schools of thought on Marciano. One holds he is the most sensational new face to come along in years. The other says he can't fight a lick, despite his 37 straight wins. The truth is probably somewhere in between.

World movie theaters, according to the National Geographic Society, provide one seat for every 44 persons on earth.

Women Wrestlers Headline Double Main Event Mat Show At Kallio's

Miss Lee Meets Miss Botchalelie; Curtis Faces Wright

Eva Lee and Ruth Botchalelie, a pair of lady tusslers, will make up half of a double main event bill at Gus Kallio's Arena Tuesday night, while Rube Wright and Jack Curtis return in a two-man bout instead of the tag teams in which they formerly met.

The two girls are supposed to be top-notch tusslers, as both of them have trained under old-time names of the wrestling game.

Eva Lee, who hails from Iowa,, was trained by Billy Schoper, one-time leading contender for the middleweight title. Miss Lee has been wrestling professionally for about three years and is well versed in ring tactics.

Ruth Botchalelie, from Texas, gathered her training under "Tennessee" Elvira Snodgrass, t back-country lady groaner w wrestled here several years ag Miss Snodgrass, while she was this section of the country, us mostly aerial stunts, such as t flying mare and the drop-kick, a it is expected that her proteg will use much the same tactic

The Rube Wright-Jack Curtis bo should also be a good one, since t bald-headed Wright has sworn ve geance on Curtis for whipping hi in a tag team match here a fe weeks ago.

Wright, with his bald-head a his ludicrous manner, should an easy target for Curtis, form world's light heavyweight champ on, if it were not for the fact th Wright has more dirty tricks in h make-up than any other groan who has appeared here.

Wright first appeared on this ci cuit a few weeks ago and since th time he has put on enough villai ous tricks to keep any half-wa clean fighter wondering if h should wrestle him.

At various times since he has a peared here, Wright has used piece of wire to choke his opponen unconscious, paper to rub in h opponent's eyes, enough sluggin and hair-pulling to last for thre generations, and finally allegedl using brass knucks on one opponen although the latter charge wa never proved.

However, Curtis has seen quit a few dirty tricks himself in hi long mat career and, although h normally fights fairly clean, ca use a few of them when necessary Curtis also has the weight and pow er to back up his attacks and, i he doesn't whip the bald - headed boy, Wright will know he has been in a fight.

Both matches will have an hour and 15 minute time limit with two falls to win. A coin will be flipped in the dressing rooms to determine whether the girls or the men will wrestle first.

FROGS STUN AGS WITH LATE RALLY

T. C. U. Storms Through Final Period To Win 20-14

Fort Worth, Tex., Oct. 20.—(AP)—Texas Christian's battered Horned Frogs pulled themselves together for a final quarter onslaught that brought them a 20-14 victory over Texas A. and M. today.

In an amazing finish that saw the Frogs, who last week fell before Texas Tech 33-19, knock A. and M. from the ranks of the undefeated and untied, Texas Christian wrapped up the game in a span of about five minutes.

It was one of the greatest upsets a Horned Frog team ever pulled and it brought Coach Dutch Meyer onto the field to plant embarrassing kisses on his guards, tackles and backs.

Texas A. and M. entered the fourth period with a 7-0 lead and should have had more scores, three times being repulsed by the limping but battling Frogs deep in T. C. U. territory.

Then A. and M. got another touchdown and the crowd of 34,000 figured the game was over except for the formality of playing it out.

But Texas Christian, with a number of its team members playing with bandaged legs and hands, roared 68 yards for a touchdown. The crowd perked up at that.

Then T. C. U. city-slicked A. and M. with the on-side kick. The Aggies drew a 15-yard penalty before the kickoff for having roughed Keith Flowers, T. C. U. extra point kicker, as he converted after the Frog touchdown. Flowers ran toward the ball as if to kick it but Ray McKown, heart of the Frog backfield, crossed in front of him and booted the oval to the Aggie 31 where Wayne Martin of T. C. U. fell on it. McKown and John Harville ran and passed to a touchdown. This time Flowers missed the extra point and T. C. U. followers groaned.

But here the Aggies handed the game to T. C. U. Bill Tidwell fumbled on the A. and M. 22 and Roy Pitcock of T. C. U. pounced on the ball. McKown, Glenn Jones and Harville cracked the Aggie line with McKown diving over from the two for the touchdown that won the game. Flowers converted.

Score by quarters:

Texas A. and M.	0	0	7	7	—14
Texas Christian	0	0	0	20	—20

Texas A. and M. scoring: Touchdowns, Smith, Tidwell; conversions; Hooper 2.

Texas Christian scoring: Touchdowns, McOwn 2, Harville; Conversions: Flowers 2.

Crowville Stops Start Owls, 13-6

Crowville, La., Oct. 20.—(Special)—The Crowville High School Bulldogs fought their way from behind to win their homecoming contest from the Start Owls here last night, 13 to 6.

The Owls struck early to grab the lead in the opening period when Fullback Billy Clement went 15 yards to score.

Crowville tied the count in the second quarter when Quarterback Louis Ray Sikes passed to Halfback Buford Ashley from six yards out. Sikes kicked the point to send the Bulldogs ahead.

End Billy Joe Laird took a 20-yard pass from Sikes for the second Crowville touchdown in the third period.

Score by quarters:

Start	6	0	0	0	—6
Crowville	0	7	6	0	—13

CORNELL EASY

New Haven, Oct. 20—(AP)—Unbeaten and untied Cornell, capitalizing on intercepted passes, rolled up three first period touchdowns and went on to wallop Yale, 27 to 0, today. It was Yale's third straight defeat.

BASTROP RALLIES TO NIP WILDCATS

Rams Score Twice In Last Period, Win 14 To 6

Winnsboro, Oct. 20.—(Special)—The Bastrop High School Rams came from behind in the final quarter of last night's game here to score two touchdowns and defeat the Winnsboro Wildcats, 14 to 6.

J. B. Brodnax was the outstanding player for Bastrop, doing most of the running in the game.

Eugene Southern and James McGraw were the wheelhorses of the Winnsboro team, with Southern handling both the running and passing while McGraw assisted.

A pass from Southern to Billy Bankston was good for the Winnsboro score, in the first quarter of the game.

Scoreless until the last quarter, the Rams began running wild.

Jerry Henderson completed a pass to A. W. Reed for the first Bastrop touchdown from the Winnsboro 40, and a few moments later Henderson intercepted a pass and went over from the Winnsboro 20 to put them ahead.

Bill Mattison kicked both extra points and the game ended 14-6 in favor of the Rams.

Actually the Wildcats outplayed the Rams throughout the game but just couldn't seem to make it go over. They gained 136 yards rushing against Bastrop's 45, and completed eight first downs to the Rams' two.

Score by quarters:

Bastrop	0	0	0	14	—14
Winnsboro	6	0	0	0	—0

Trojans, Hornets Scrap To 7-7 Tie

Rayville, La., Oct. 20 (Special) The Tallulah High School Trojans, undefeated in five starts and a district Class B power, battled the Rayville Hornets, a one-time loser in six starts, to a 7-7 deadlock here last night.

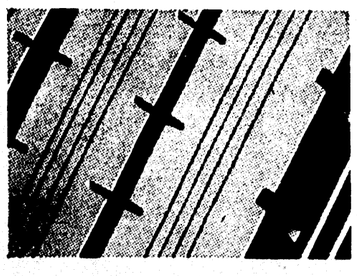

It was a hard fought battle all the way that saw the Hornets ahead in yardage gained and first downs, but Tallulah staved off defeat with a third period touchdown.

Russel Rainbolt galloped 24 yards for the Rayville touchdown in the second period, and "Chuck" Johns converted.

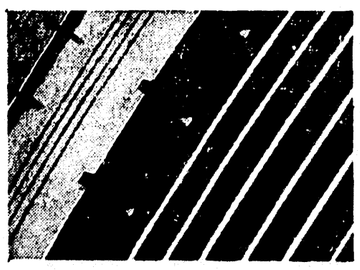

A 45-yard pass, Clark to Brown, set up the Tallulah touchdown with Clark going over in the TD. A pass for the all-important point was good, and it was a deadlocked game.

FERRIDAY WHIPS WISNER, 44 TO 20

Every Member Of Winning Squad Sees Action In Tilt

Ferriday, La., Oct. 20.—(Special)—Every member of the Ferriday High School football squad dressed out for the game saw action here Friday night as the Bulldogs completely outclassed Wisner 44 to 20.

Ferriday's line couldn't have played better, holding Wisner at a complete standstill until the fourth period when Wisner scored all of this points against the Bulldog third stringers.

With "Red" McNew sparking the play, the Bulldogs piled up all their points in the first three periods. McNew opened the scoring with an eight-yard run to paydirt, and he passed to Charley Murray 25 yards for the second.

Nine different Bulldogs counted points. Frederick Stuart scored on a 63-yard dash; Bobby Marks went eleven for another, Benny Ray Bruant scampered 24 to score, Carl Abel counted on a 15-yard run, and Brook scored on a pass from Harmon. Everett Westbrook and Perkins each added a conversion.

Wisner counted all its points in the final period. Ferrington and Shivers ran for touchdowns, and Childers passed to Humble for another. Smith and Furr ran for Wisner conversions.

Start Organizing Basketball Loops

Jack Hesketh, director of the Monroe Recreation department, has announced that Recreation League basketball will begin on the first day of December this year.

Six leagues will be formed this year. These leagues include Midget League, 14 years or under; the Junior League, 18 and under; the City League, the Girls League, and the Church League, which is being organized for the first time this year.

A Pee Wee League will also be formed for boys 12 years old and under.

The gymnasium at Selman Field will aslo be used for volley ball, Hesketh said, and a league is under way now. The gym will be open the first of November for practice, and teams planning to use the gym are urged to make reservations early.

Hesketh asks that all teams planning on entering any of the leagues register their teams as soon as possible.

Marciano Getting Big Trial Friday

New York, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Young Rocky Marciano and 37-year-old Joe Louis meet Friday night at Madison Square Garden in the top heavyweight bout of the winter season.

For Marciano, 27-year-old son of a Brockton, Mass., shoemaker this is the big test. Unbeaten in 37 pro fights, the sky will be the limit for Rocky if he can beat the Bomber.

Louis must whip this dangerous puncher to keep alive his dreams of winning back his world heavyweight championship. In eight winning starts since he lost to Ezzard Charles, Joe did not meet a slugger like Marciano.

Deep respect for Louis' old punching power is reflected by the 6½ to 5 odds favoring the ex-champ. Still, the price has been coming down and they may go into the ring at even money.

There are two distinct schools of thought on Marciano. One holds he is the most sensational new face to come along in years. The other says he can't fight a lick, despite his 37 straight wins. The truth is probably somewhere in between.

Women Wrestlers Headline Double Main Event Mat Show At Kallio's

Miss Lee Meets Miss Botchalelie; Curtis Faces Wright

Eva Lee and Ruth Botchalelie, a pair of lady tusslers, will make up half of a double main event bill at Gus Kallio's Arena Tuesday night, while Rube Wright and Jack Curtis return in a two-man bout instead of the tag teams in which they formerly met.

The two girls are supposed to be top-notch tusslers, as both of them have trained under old-time names of the wrestling game.

Eva Lee, who hails from Iowa, was trained by Billy Schoper, one-time leading contender for the middleweight title. Miss Lee has been wrestling professionally for about three years and is well versed in ring tactics.

Ruth Botchalelie, from Texas, gathered her training under "Tennessee" Elvira Snodgrass, back-country lady groaner who wrestled here several years ago. Miss Snodgrass, while she was in this section of the country, used mostly aerial stunts, such as the flying mare and the drop-kick, and it is expected that her protege will use much the same tactics.

The Rube Wright-Jack Curtis bout should also be a good one, since the bald-headed Wright has sworn vengeance on Curtis for whipping him in a tag team match here a few weeks ago.

Wright, with his bald-head and his ludicrous manner, should be an easy target for Curtis, former world's light heavyweight champion, if it were not for the fact that Wright has more dirty tricks in his make-up than any other groaner who has appeared here.

Wright first appeared on this circuit a few weeks ago and since that time he has put on enough villainous tricks to keep any half-way clean fighter wondering if he should wrestle him.

At various times since he has appeared here, Wright has used a piece of wire to choke his opponent unconscious, paper to rub in his opponent's eyes, enough slugging and hair-pulling to last for three generations, and finally alleged using brass knucks on one opponent although the latter charge was never proved.

However, Curtis has seen quite a few dirty tricks himself in his long mat career and, although he normally fights fairly clean, can use a few of them when necessary. Curtis also has the weight and power to back up his attacks and, if he doesn't whip the bald - headed boy, Wright will know he has been in a fight.

Both matches will have an hour and 15 minute time limit with two falls to win. A coin will be flipped in the dressing rooms to determine whether the girls or the men will wrestle first.

FROGS STUN AGS WITH LATE RALLY

T. C. U. Storms Through Final Period To Win 20-14

Fort Worth, Tex., Oct. 20.—(AP)—Texas Christian's battered Horned Frogs pulled themselves together for a final quarter onslaught that brought them a 20-14 victory over Texas A. and M. today.

In an amazing finish that saw the Frogs, who last week fell before Texas Tech 33-19, knock A. and M. from the ranks of the undefeated and untied, Texas Christian wrapped up the game in a span of about five minutes.

It was one of the greatest upsets a Horned Frog team ever pulled and it brought Coach Dutch Meyer onto the field to plant embarrassing kisses on his guards, tackles and backs.

Texas A. and M. entered the fourth period with a 7-0 lead and should have had more scores, three times being repulsed by the limping but battling Frogs deep in T. C. U. territory.

Then A. and M. got another touchdown and the crowd of 34,000 figured the game was over except for the formality of playing it out.

But Texas Christian, with a number of its team members playing with bandaged legs and hands, roared 68 yards for a touchdown. The crowd perked up at that.

Then T. C. U. city-slicked A. and M. with the on-side kick. The Aggies drew a 15-yard penalty before the kickoff for having roughed Keith Flowers, T. C. U. extra point kicker, as he converted after the Frog touchdown. Flowers ran toward the ball as if to kick it but Ray McKown, heart of the Frog backfield, crossed in front of him and booted the oval to the Aggie 31 where Wayne Martin of T. C. U. fell on it. McKown and John Harville ran and passed to a touchdown. This time Flowers missed the extra point and T. C. U. followers groaned.

But here the Aggies handed the game to T. C. U. Bill Tidwell fumbled on the A. and M. 22 and Roy Pitcock of T. C. U. pounced on the ball. McKown, Glenn Jones and Harville cracked the Aggie line with McKown diving over from the two for the touchdown that won the game. Flowers converted.

Score by quarters:

Texas A. and M.	0	0	7	7—14
Texas Christian	0	0	0	20—20

Texas A. and M. scoring: Touchdowns, Smith, Tidwell; conversions: Hooper 2.

Texas Christian scoring: Touchdowns, McOwn 2, Harville; Conversions: Flowers 2.

Crowville Stops Start Owls, 13-6

Crowville, La., Oct. 20.—(Special)—The Crowville High School Bulldogs fought their way from behind to win their homecoming contest from the Start Owls here last night, 13 to 6.

The Owls struck early to grab the lead in the opening period when Fullback Billy Clement went 15 yards to score.

Crowville tied the count in the second quarter when Quarterback Louis Ray Sikes passed to Halfback Buford Ashley from six yards out. Sikes kicked the point to send the Bulldogs ahead.

End Billy Joe Laird took a 20-yard pass from Sikes for the second Crowville touchdown in the third period.

CORNELL EASY

New Haven, Oct. 20—(AP)—Unbeaten and untied Cornell, capitalizing on intercepted passes, rolled up three first period touchdowns and went on to wallop Yale, 27 to 0, today. It was Yale's third straight defeat.

BASTROP RALLIES TO NIP WILDCATS

Rams Score Twice In Last Period, Win 14 To 6

Winnsboro, Oct. 20.—(Special)—The Bastrop High School Rams came from behind in the final quarter of last night's game here to score two touchdowns and defeat the Winnsboro Wildcats, 14 to 6.

J. B. Brodnax was the outstanding player for Bastrop, doing most of the running in the game.

Eugene Southern and James McGraw were the wheelhorses of the Winnsboro team, with Southern handling both the running and passing while McGraw assisted.

A pass from Southern to Billy Bankston was good for the Winnsboro score, in the first quarter of the game.

Scoreless until the last quarter, the Rams began running wild.

Jerry Henderson completed a pass to A. W. Reed for the first Bastrop touchdown from the Winnsboro 40, and a few moments later Henderson intercepted a pass and went over from the Winnsboro 20 to put them ahead.

Bill Mattison kicked both extra points and the game ended 14-6 in favor of the Rams.

Actually the Wildcats outplayed the Rams throughout the game but just couldn't seem to make it go over. They gained 136 yards rushing against Bastrop's 45, and completed eight first downs to the Rams' two.

Score by quarters:

Bastrop	0	0	0	14—14
Winnsboro	6	0	0	0— 0

TROJANS DEFEAT CALIF. 21 TO 14

Nation's Number One Team Collapses Before Thundering Trojans

Berkeley, Calif., Oct. 20 —(AP)— Mighty California's football empire collapsed with a roar today, levelled by a 21 to 14 beating by southern California's thundering Trojans. A capacity crowd of 81,490 saw the contest.

The nation's no. 1 team in the Associated Press poll bowed to the 11th ranked club in one of the tremendous upsets of the season.

California, for a large portion of the game minus the services of star fullback Johnny Olszewski, fell as the charging Trojans scored three touchdowns in the second half.

Olszewski was injured early in the first quarter.

The Bears, in command the first two periods, led at the half time 14-0.

California went into the game a 13-points favorite. They left the field thoroughly beaten by the same keen rival that last defeated them in regular season play in 1947.

California was working on a spectacular record of 38 games without defeat in Pacific Coast conference play. Only a 7-7 tie last year with Stanford marred the record. The Trojans thoroughly trounced the Bears 39-14 in Lynn (Pappy) Waldorf's first season four years ago.

LONGHORNS LOSE TO PORKERS, 16-14

Rugged Arkansas Line Makes Difference In Game

Fayetteville, Ark., Oct. 20.—(AP)— A hopped-up band of Arkansas Razor-backs today defeated Texas, the nation's No. 4 team, 16 to 14, for the first time in 13 years.

Two big, rugged lines fought each other to a standstill for most of a great defensive scrap, but the Arkansas forwards were the ones who were able to open the holes when opportunity knocked.

Arkansas used a Texas fumble for its first touchdown. A 67-yard sustained march for a field goal and a three-play drive of 60 yards for a third quarter touchdown gave it a margin it was able to hold.

The underdog Razorbacks resorted to a spread formation they had not used previously this year in an effort to get the jump on the Steers at the outset. But that failed, and the upsetters fell back on their heretofore erratic split T to do the biggest damage.

The Arkansas defense, something Coach Otis Douglas borrowed from his old pro team, the Philadelphia Eagles, was so effective in the pinches that Texas made only four first downs.

And so even was the game that each team netted 173 yards rushing. Arkansas got a slight edge with its passing, a phase of attack that was used sparingly because of a 20-mile an hour wind.

Score by quarters:

Texas	0	7	0	7	—14
Arkansas	6	3	7	0	—16

Texas scoring: Touchdowns — Dawson, Stolhandske. Conversions —Davis 2.

Arkansas scoring: Touchdowns—Sutton, Troxell. Conversion, Thomason. Field goal—Summerall.

Counterpoint Wins From Hill Prince

New York, Oct. 20.—(AP)—C. V. Whitney's Counterpoint took the lead from C. T. Chenery's Hill Prince in the stretch today and went on to win the $53,900 Empire City Gold Cup at Jamacia. It was the second time he had beaten the 1950 champion within a week.

The chestnut son of Count Fleet, ridden by Dave Gorman, covered the mile and five eighths in 2:42 and four - fifths seconds, which equalled the track record set by Stymie in 1946. Last week Counterpoint beat the Prince in the $50,000 Jockey Club Gold Cup at Belmont.

Third in the small field of four starters today was Hull Down, with Nullify fourth.

The winner, now leading for the horse of the year honors, was second choice and paid $6.30 and $2.10. Hill Prince was $2.10 to place, with no show betting.

COTTON

New York

New York, Oct. 20.—(AP)—A nervous price trend prevailed in cotton futures today. Earlier during the session prices declined under a continuation of Friday's hedge selling. Traders said that further pessimistic reports concerning cotton consumption and dull conditions in the textile market were responsible for part of the pressure. The decline, however, attracted covering for over the week-end and prices rebounded moderately.

Futures closed 20 to 80 cents a bale higher than the previous close.

New Orleans

New Orleans, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Cotton futures declined here early today but rallied later on week-end short covering and trade buying. Closing prices were steady 45 cents to 60 cents a bale higher.

Trading was quiet. The early selling was attributed to continued favorable weather in the belt, unfavorable textile reports and more optimistic outlook concerning resumption of peace talks in Korea.

Middling 15-16 inch spot cotton advanced 50 cents a bale to 36.60 cents a pound. Local sales amounted to 13,377 bales.

COTTON

New York

New York, Oct. 20.—(AP)—A nervous price trend prevailed in cotton futures today. Earlier during the session prices declined under a continuation of Friday's hedge selling. Traders said that further pessimistic reports concerning cotton consumption and dull conditions in the textile market were responsible for part of the pressure. The decline, however, attracted covering for over the weekend and prices rebounded moderately.

Futures closed 20 to 80 cents a bale higher than the previous close.

New Orleans

New Orleans, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Cotton futures declined here early today but rallied later on week-end short covering and trade buying. Closing prices were steady 45 cents to 60 cents a bale higher.

Trading was quiet. The early selling was attributed to continued favorable weather in the belt, unfavorable textile reports and more optimistic outlook concerning resumption of peace talks in Korea.

Middling 15-16 inch spot cotton advanced 50 cents a bale to 36.60 cents a pound. Local sales amounted to 13,377 bales.

MR. MOTORIST
Even if your car seems to be running smoothly, it's a good idea to have your motor checked periodically, and particularly if you're planning a long trip.
Such a check may be the means of saving you an expensive overhaul job later, and adding thousands of miles of carefree driving to the life of your car. It's worth a few dollars to be sure.

Navy Loses Four Ships Near Korea

Tokyo, Sunday, Oct. 21. —(AP)— Four United Nations command minesweepers were sunk and 28 other vessels damaged by Communist mines or gunfire from the start of the Korean war to Oct. 1.

Naval and marine aircraft losses from all causes during the period totaled 554.

These figures were disclosed by naval headquarters, far east, Saturday during an exclusive interview with Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chief of the Pacific command and the Pacific fleet command.

Radford, who had completed an inspection tour, praised the navy for sweeping enemy warships from Korean waters. He declared Allied warships now are tying down important enemy ground forces by holding over the Communists the threat of an invasion of north Korea from either the east or west coasts.

The visiting admiral did not go into details on naval losses. The navy records, however, showed besides the four minesweepers lost, this breakdown of ships damaged:

By mines, four destroyers; by gunfire, 10 destroyers, the battleship New Jersey, two heavy cruisers, one destroyer - minesweeper, two minesweepers, two destroyer escorts, 5 ZSB ding ships.

Sea action accounted for 400 casualties. Fifty navy hospital corpsmen were killed and 540 were wounded or missing while serving on land with marines.

Of losses inflicted on the North Koreans, Radford said:

"They have no more navy and they cannot use the sea. The North Korean air force was wiped out quickly. But I don't care to dwell on figures. Sometimes I think we are kidding ourselves on enemy losses—we shouldn't be to optimistic on claims."

The Baptists are again up and stirring on the way to erect a Baptist student center at Northeast Louisiana State. Some months ago they purchased a lot corner of College avenue and DeSiard street as site for the building. Now they have, through their association, voted to endeavor to raise the cash to erect a building on the lot. One Sunday, November 18, is set aside as the time for all Baptist churches in the 5th congressional district to donate to the fund.

It is confidently expected that funds will be available sufficiently to warrant start of erection of the proposed center, which is needed and will form another good building for the collage section of Monroe.

This week promises to be one in which the latch string will be out for guests to the Twin Cities. Two conventions are scheduled. The first will be that of the Louisiana conference of the Women's Society of Christian Service of Methodist churches of the state, which opens, sessions to be held three days in the educational building of the First Methodist church, starting Tuesday.

The other convention is slated Saturday by Odd Fellows and Rebekahs of Louisiana, Arkansas and Mississippi and will be attended byy about 400 to 500 persons.

Highland school, serving Sunshine, McGuire and Splane additions in West Monroe, in a new area will be thrown open this afternoon for inspection by the public. An open house is slated from 3 to 5 p. m. and the public is cordially invited.

The building is completely modern in all details. It has already an enrollment of 400.

Of interest to junior stamp collectors is the announcement of the re-organization of the Ouachita Junior Stamp Collectors' Club, October 27th, at the Monroe Recreation Center 113½ Catalpa street. The meetings will be at 9 o'clock a. m., under the supervision of George Buckner.

Boys and girls of the Twin Cities are invited to join this club and enjoy this interesting hobby.

Harvesting of the Louisiana cotton crop is still creating the demand for a large number of workers, according to the inventory of job openings issued this week by Marvin E. Thames, administrator of the state Division of Employment Security.

Approximately 5,000 harvest hands are needed in cotton fields in the areas adjacent to Minden, Natchitoches, Shreveport, Monroe, and Tallulah.

The largest demand is in the vicinity of Tallulah, where 2,500 cotton pickers are needed.

The pickers in all cases, according to the inventory, will be provided with transportation, housing, bedding, and cooking utensils, and will be furnished fuel and water.

Average pay for the pickers is $2.00 per cwt., or the prevailing wage rate.

In south Louisiana, chiefly at Houma, New Iberia, and Gretna there is demand for approximately 600 sugar cane hands, needed for harvesting, planting, cutting and stripping cane.

The Monroe Little Theatre is now 20 years old and the membership is quite jubilant. Many of those who have been members since 1931, when it was formed by Lucyle Godwin, at the time recreation director for the city of Monroe, and her associates. They staged the first play in the old Grand Theatre at South Grand street and Forest avenue, and it is a far cry from the equipment of that time to the unique and artistic playhouse all its own that is now the home of Monroe Little Theatre.

It is quite proper that there be a celebration but no definite program or time has been set. The opening play of the season will be "Abie's Irish Rose" to be given tomorrow night and for which there has been an excellent cast secured.

C. Stocker Fontelieu, director, says that the coming year he feels assured, will be the best in the history of the organization. The advance ticket sales this year have already surpassed that of other years, but it is still possible to secure tickets through C. C. Boardman, chairman of the membership committee, or from any member of his committee. A check can be sent to the Little Theatre, P. O. Box 868, Monroe. Tickets cost $6 for the entire season. In no other similar expenditure can one receive as much pleasure for the money as when it is applied in the purchase of a season's Little Theatre ticket.

CONGRESS

making changes in it which he asked.

The $7,328,903,976 foreign aid bill passed today compared with President Truman's request for $8,500,000,000 in new money to be spent on the mutual security program in the fiscal year ending next June 30.

However, it re-appropriates $816,727,304 of carry-over funds from fiscal 1951 which ended last June 30 so that more than $8,000,000,000 will be available.

The new money in the bill is allocated as follows:

Military aid—Europe, $4,818,852,457; Near East and Africa, $396,250,000; Asia and the Pacific, $535,250,000; American Republics, $38,150,000.

Economic aid — Europe, $1,022,000,000; near east and Africa, $160,000,000; Asia and the Pacific, $237,135,866; American republics, $21,245,653.

Funds for hundreds of army, navy and air force bases around the world — some of them of a highly secret nature — were in the bill. The senate voted for $4,016,698,266, the house for $4,428,357,970.

However, the quarrel was not about money, but about press agents. The senate had put in a provision that the state, commerce and justice departments must cut their public relations and information personnel 25 per cent. House conferees wanted this taken out of the bill.

The disagreement had cropped up before. The senate put the provision in the regular appropriations bill for the three departments but it was taken out in conference at the insistence of house members.

In one of its first actions today the house overrode, 223 to 53, President Truman's veto of a bill to help certain war veterans buy automobiles. The bill now becomes law, since the senate voted to override yesterday, 55 to 10 — far more than the two thirds majority necessary.

Under the bill, the government will pay $1,600 toward the cost of a car for any World War II or Korean war veteran who has lost a leg or an arm or is blind or almost so because of his service.

Mr. Truman said he favored purchase of autos for veterans with impaired mobility because of the loss of legs, but he objected to extending the legislation to those who had lost arms or eyesight.

After acting on the veto, the house passed and sent to the senate a bill appropriating $7,328,903,976 for military and economic aid to foreign nations, to strengthen them against Russian communism. One provision in this bill allows the president to allot $100,000,000 to Spain.

Without a ripple of opposition the house passed and also sent to the senate a $1,676,246,974 supplemental bill. Among other things this contains $790,000,000 to build up the stockpile of materials vital in war, and $75,000,000 for civil defense against atomic and other attack.

These and other appropriations bring the grand total voted this year to more than $90,000,000,000, biggest figure in peacetime.

In other actions today:

1. The senate passed and sent to Mr. Truman a bill toughening penalties against narcotic drug peddlers, one of the prime targets of the senate crime committee's famous investigation. It calls for two to five years prison sentences for first offenders; five to ten for second offenses, and ten to 20 for third. It denies suspended sentences to repeat offenders.

2. The house passed a resolution to start the second session of the 82nd congress on Jan. 8 next, instead of the usual Jan. 3. The Constitution requires congress to convene on Jan. 3 unless it decides on another date. Next year Jan. 3 comes on Thursday, and leaders decided it was just as well to wait until the next Tuesday.

U. N. TANKS

ably it was two of those three that were under attack.

Southwest of Jumsong, Allied units mopped up in hilly terrain a scant two miles from Kumsong, situated 30 miles from parallel 38.

A frontline officer said thick fog prevented Allied tankers from observing full results of their Saturday raid into the rubbled town. The tankers reported several fires were started.

The raiding tanks moved unopposed to the outskirts of the road junction town. About 20 minutes later, a frontline officer reported, "everything broke loose."

Although the Chinese threw heavy mortars, artillery and anti-tank fire at the raiding armor, the tanks returned to their own lines unscathed Saturday.

B-29 Superforts Saturday night flew through bad weather to bomb troop positions and an airfield at Pyongyang, capital of North Korea.

The Allies patrolled in the west. On the rugged eastern front, tank patrols probed the enemy defenses and infantrymen brushed off a Red counterattack 50 miles deep in North Korea.

Belief grew at eighth army headquarters that the series of grinding Allied offensives had robbed the Communists of the power to mount another major drive any where in Korea.

Eighth army officers believe the Communists are badly hurt; that ceaseless air strikes at their supply lines are isolating the Red troops in the line, and that the North Koreans and Chinese really want a truce.

That, they said, is the reason why the Reds have been willing to compromise and why full-dress cease-fire negotiations may begin soon.

The weather turned bad along the front. Fog and rain limited aerial strikes to passes at enemy supplies and communications back of the front.

A pooled dispatch said two companies of Patton tanks which entered Kumsong shot up targets for more than an hour before withdrawing.

with him were not given by police.

In the second accident, a Mexican cotton picker, in Monroe for the week end, was struck by a Negro hit-and-run driver last night. The man was not injured seriously.

Police identified the man as Lorenzo Terrazo, 29, who gave his address only as Mexico.

Terrazo was crossing South Sixth street near Five Points when he was struck by a two-tone grey late model Pontiac. He was taken by a Mulhearn ambulance to the Charity hospital where attendants said he suffered only small lacerations on the left hand and a bruised knee.

An area-wide search for the driver of the automobile was being conducted last night.

BOGGS

penitentiary at Angola, the low pay in some state jobs whose holders have allegedly been asked for campaign contributions for Judge Carlos Spaht, and the care afforded mental patients as his primary targets.

"I think a governor ought to have the heart and brain and courage enough" to see that young criminals are not embittered by severe punishment and association with hardened criminals — that they will return home and be good citizens.

He challenged the practice of low pay for state jobs which requires hard work and called for firing of high salaried job holders who did nothing.

In this connection, he said, "I think it is immoral and wrong" to seek campaign contributions from the job holders. "I think the worker should be protected. I think he should have the protection of civil service."

Governor Earl Long, whose candidate for governor is Judge Spaht, has been accused of asking state employes to chip in for his campaign.

Boggs deplored the practice of sending mental patients to the hospitals where they stay "neglected and forgotten" when medical science has progressed like it has.

"Other states take care of those people," he said, "but not in Louisiana.

Rapping the Long administration for taking credit for the old age pension, Boggs stated, "The old age program wouldn't be possible if we hadn't worked it out in congress. I think it is a good program."

Under the pension plan, the federal government contributes $30 and the state $20.

C. E. "Cap" Barham, candidate for lieutenant governor on the Boggs ticket, came up with some advice to the crowd, coupled with an indirect attack on Congressman Otto Passman.

"If you don't take an interest in politics," he asserted, "you're going to have a dictatorship in this state. You watch what I tell you."

Barham told how very few good men would run for public office because the politics are too dirty.

He also said "Some legislators are doing business with the administration," and that they didn't vote independently but as somebody told them to.

Barham ridiculed Congressman Passman's "inconsistency" in criticizing the "socialist program" of Governor Long and then supporting the candidate pledged to carry out the program.

"I don't think your congressman and my congressman knows what he wants," he said.

Barham expressed hope that Passman would develop some consistency in his policies.

Senator Russell Long, who has endorsed Boggs, a second congressional district congressman, challenged the opinion of some Governor Long supporters that none of the Boggs ticket supported him in the last senatorial race. He said they did, but that "the best I can find out is that Spaht voted for Sam Jones," and claimed the man running for attorney on the Spaht ticket was leader of a "criminal parade" featuring Earl Long as a convict who shouldn't take the governor's chair in the last election.

He also answered the charge by Harwell Allen, a Spaht campaign speaker, who alleged that Boggs left a ceremony in honor of the late Huey Long. "Hale Boggs was not even there. He wasn't even invited," Senator Long said.

Other speakers at the rally were Congressman Overton Brooks, and members of the Boggs ticket.

his gun three times. Quickly Miss Hart responded. Instantly she put to good use first aid — she teaches this at college — and sucked the blood that spurted from the wound. Then she fired a gun three times and Miss Kelso responded.

"Get an ambulance as quick as you can!" said Miss Hart. Miss Kelso had to go some distance to get to a phone and it was a considerable time before the ambulance actually reached the patient. All this time, Miss Hart was giving first aid and sucking blood from the wound, getting herself badly splotched with blood meantime.

ACTION AGAINST

Miss Grace. Boggs and two committee officers — Chairman H. "Happy" Sevier of Tallulah Secretary Jesse Webb, Sr., of Baton Rouge — were named as defendants.

Judge Lindsay signed orders directing them to answer the suit within five days after receiving formal notice. A deputy sheriff served notice on Sevier and Webb in Baton Rouge. Boggs was reported campaigning north Louisiana.

Miss Grace's objections — never heard in the committee session called for that purpose — were attached to her court petition. They contend that Boggs is not a qualified candidate because:

1—He did not resign as a congressman before filing qualification papers as a candidate for governor.

2—While a Tulane University student, he joined the American Student Union, listed by the house un-American activities committee as a Communist front organization.

Boggs rejects the first charge, citing political history to show that other Louisiana congressmen have run for governor — and flatly denies ever being affiliated with communism. He says there never was a chapter of the American Student Union at Tulane.

The suit was not entirely a surprise. A broad hint that it would be filed was dropped at the tail end of the tumultuous committee meeting yesterday.

Mr. Truman said he favored purchase of autos for veterans with impaired mobility because of the loss of legs, but he objected to extending the legislation to those who had lost arms or eyesight.

After acting on the veto, the house passed and sent to the senate a bill appropriating $7,328,903,976 for military and economic aid to foreign nations, to strengthen them against Russian communism. One provision in this bill allows the president to allot $100,000,000 to Spain.

Without a ripple of opposition the house passed and also sent to the senate a $1,676,246,974 supplemental bill. Among other things this contains $790,000,000 to build up the stockpile of materials vital in war, and $75,000,000 for civil defense against atomic and other attack.

These and other appropriations bring the grand total voted this year to more than $90,000,000,000, biggest figure in peacetime.

In other actions today:

1. The senate passed and sent to Mr. Truman a bill toughening penalties against narcotic drug peddlers, one of the prime targets of the senate crime committee's famous investigation. It calls for two to five years prison sentences for first offenders; five to ten for second offenses, and ten to 20 for third. It denies suspended sentences to repeat offenders.

2. The house passed a resolution to start the second session of the 82nd congress on Jan. 8 next, instead of the usual Jan. 3. The Constitution requires congress to convene on Jan. 3 unless it decides on another date. Next year Jan. 3 comes on Thursday, and leaders decided it was just as well to wait until the next Tuesday.

U. N. TANKS

ably it was two of those three that were under attack.

Southwest of Jumsong, Allied units mopped up in hilly terrain a scant two miles from Kumsong, situated 30 miles from parallel 38.

A frontline officer said thick fog prevented Allied tankers from observing full results of their Saturday raid into the rubbled town. The tankers reported several fires were started.

The raiding tanks moved unopposed to the outskirts of the road junction town. About 20 minutes later, a frontline officer reported, "everything broke loose."

Although the Chinese threw heavy mortars, artillery and anti-tank fire at the raiding armor, the tanks returned to their own lines unscathed Saturday.

B-29 Superforts Saturday night flew through bad weather to bomb troop positions and an airfield at Pyongyang, capital of North Korea.

The Allies patrolled in the west. On the rugged eastern front, tank patrols probed the enemy defenses and infantrymen brushed off a Red counterattack 50 miles deep in North Korea.

Belief grew at eighth army headquarters that the series of grinding Allied offensives had robbed the Communists of the power to mount another major drive any where in Korea.

Eighth army officers believe the Communists are badly hurt; that ceaseless air strikes at their supply lines are isolating the Red troops in the line, and that the North Koreans and Chinese really want a truce.

That, they said, is the reason why the Reds have been willing to compromise and why full-dress cease-fire negotiations may begin soon.

The weather turned bad along the front. Fog and rain limited aerial strikes to passes at enemy supplies and communications back of the front.

A pooled dispatch said two companies of Patton tanks which entered Kumsong shot up targets for more than an hour before withdrawing.

with him were not given by police.

In the second accident, a Mexican cotton picker, in Monroe for the week end, was struck by a Negro hit-and-run driver last night. The man was not injured seriously.

Police identified the man as Lorenzo Terrazo, 29, who gave his address only as Mexico.

Terrazo was crossing South Sixth street near Five Points when he was struck by a two-tone grey late model Pontiac. He was taken by a Mulhearn ambulance to the Charity hospital where attendants said he suffered only small lacerations on the left hand and a bruised knee.

An area-wide search for the driver of the automobile was being conducted last night.

Crusade for Freedom Motorcade

(Crusade for Freedom Photo)

Shown above are the truck and station wagon forming the motorcade that will tour the state to demonstrate how the Crusade for Freedom penetrated the Iron Curtain with balloons containing messages of freedom and hope. Both rubber and plastic "pillow" balloons such as were launched in Czecho-slovakia and Poland, will be released at each stop made by the motorcade. Enrollments and proceeds of the campaign to enlist 25,000,000 members and obtain $3,500,000 in contributions will be used to expand Radio Free Europe's anti-communist propaganda operation and start a similar undertaking with Radio Free Asia.

BOGGS

penitentiary at Angola, the low pay in some state jobs whose holders have allegedly been asked for campaign contributions for Judge Carlos Spaht, and the care afforded mental patients as his primary targets.

"I think a governor ought to have the heart and brain and courage enough" to see that young criminals are not embittered by severe punishment and association with hardened criminals — that they will return home and be good citizens.

He challenged the practice of low pay for state jobs which requires hard work and called for firing of high salaried job holders who did nothing.

In this connection, he said, "I think it is immoral and wrong" to seek campaign contributions from the job holders. "I think the worker should be protected. I think he should have the protection of civil service."

Governor Earl Long, whose candidate for governor is Judge Spaht, has been accused of asking state employes to chip in for his campaign.

Boggs deplored the practice of sending mental patients to the hospitals where they stay "neglected and forgotten" when medical science has progressed like it has.

"Other states take care of those people," he said, "but not in Louisiana.

Rapping the Long administration for taking credit for the old age pension, Boggs stated, "The old age program wouldn't be possible if we hadn't worked it out in congress. I think it is a good program."

Under the pension plan, the federal government contributes $30 and the state $20.

C. E. "Cap" Barham, candidate for lieutenant governor on the Boggs ticket, came up with some advice to the crowd, coupled with an indirect attack on Congressman Otto Passman.

"If you don't take an interest in politics,' he asserted, "you're going to have a dictatorship in this state. You watch what I tell you."

Barham told how very few good men would run for public office because the politics are too dirty.

He also said "Some legislators are doing business with the administration," and that they didn't vote independently but as somebody told them to.

Barham ridiculed Congressman Passman's "inconsistency" in criticizing the "socialist program" of Governor Long and then supporting the candidate pledged to carry out the program.

"I don't think your congressman and my congressman knows what he wants," he said.

Barham expressed hope that Passman would develop some consistency in his policies.

Senator Russell Long, who has endorsed Boggs, a second congressional district congressman, challenged the opinion of some Governor Long supporters that none of the Boggs ticket supported him in the last senatorial race. He said they did, but that "the best I can find out is that Spaht voted for Sam Jones," and claimed the man running for attorney on the Spaht ticket was leader of a "criminal parade" featuring Earl Long as a convict who shouldn't take the governor's chair in the last election.

He also answered the charge by Harwell Allen, a Spaht campaign speaker, who alleged that Boggs left a ceremony in honor of the late Huey Long. "Hale Boggs was not even there. He wasn't even invited," Senator Long said.

Other speakers at the rally were Congressman Overton Brooks, and members of the Boggs ticket.

his gun three times. Quickly Miss Hart responded. Instantly she put to good use first aid — she teaches this at college — and sucked the blood that spurted from the wound. Then she fired a gun three times and Miss Kelso responded.

"Get an ambulance as quick as you can!" said Miss Hart. Miss Kelso had to go some distance to get to a phone and it was a considerable time before the ambulance actually reached the patient. All this time, Miss Hart was giving first aid and sucking blood from the wound, getting herself badly splotched with blood meantime.

Miss Myrtle Johnson Is Bride Of John Jordan Aulds

Bridal Couple Exchange Impressive Vows At Home Of Bride's Parents

In a beautiful candle light wedding, Miss Myrtle Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Dalton Johnson, became the bride of John Jordon Aulds, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Aulds, Sr. of Farmerville, La. on October 13 in the home of the bride's parents in West Monroe. The Rev. R. H. Staples, pastor of the First Methodist Church in West Monroe officiated at the impressive double-ring ceremony in the presence of relatives and a few close friends.

The living room was beautifully decorated with a background of greenery and floor standards holding cathedral tapers. Tall baskets filled with white gladioli and fern completed the wedding scene.

Jesse Heard, Jr. nephew of the bride, lighted the tapers. The bride had as her only attendant, her sister, Mrs. Herbert T. Milford. Mrs. Milford wore a button-front shantung taffeta in steel grey with navy accessories. Her corsage was of pink carnations.

The bride, escorted by her father, was lovely in a two piece blue velveteen which had a scalloped jacket with jeweled buttons and side button tabs. She wore navy velvet accessories. Her costume was complimented by a corsage of white chrysanthemums.

The bridegroom had as his best man, his brother Sgt. Neville Aulds.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Johnson was attired in a blue printed silk and wore a corsage of pink carnations. Mrs. Aulds, mother of the groom, chose navy blue with a corsage of pink carnations.

Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held in the dining room. The linen covered bride's table bore a central arrangement of white blossoms and tapers. The crystal punch bowl at one end of the table was presided over by Mrs. Edward N. Johnson who wore a black crepe dress with a corsage of yellow chrysanthemums.

The tiered wedding confection which was placed at the other end of the table was emobssed in brides of the table was embossed in brides and groom figurines and was cut by Mrs. Prentice Taylor. Mrs. Taylor wore a purple crepe with a corsage of yellow chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Jesse S. Heard, petite little Miss Hope Taylor and Coralie Heard assisted with the serving. They wore beautiful corsages in contrasting shades.

Mrs. John C. Ellis, wearing black crepe with a corsage of pink asters was in charge of the guest book.

Out-of-town guest included Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Aulds, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Prentice Taylor, Hope Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Fourth Grade Pupils Entertain At Barkdull Faulk P.-T. A. Meeting

A record number of parents and visitors attended the regular meeting of the Barkdull Faulk P.-T. A. on Thursday, October 11, where they were delightfully entertained by the fourth grade pupils of Mrs. Mae Snapp. A playlet entitled "Mother Hubbard's Cupboard" was presented which emphasized the need for vitamins and minerals in the daily diet. The Mother Goose characters were cleverly enacted by the following: Ann Andrews, Robert Auttonberry, Patsy Bailey, Norma Barnes, Nila Bloomer, Dianne Clark, Linda Cruse, Skippy Culpepper, Billie Sue Dixon, Dick Ethridge, Sammy Gentry, Bobbie Gilbert, Jerry Graves, Potter Greenlee, Jackie Johnson, Jerry Don May, Keith Nix, Kaye McDonald, Foster Poole, Wilds Ross, Jo Ben Rosatta, Betty Jean Stone, Billie Dee Taylor, David Terry, Reta Van Nassen, Fred Nugent.

Mrs. Mildred Swift was introduced by Mrs. Guy Coates as guest speaker. Mrs. Swift is well known in the Twin Cities as a competent speaker on many subjects. She chose as her topic "Democracy in Action." Mrs. Swift stated in part: "Democracy is a feeling and an attitude. It does not come from Washington down to us, but rather from us up to Washington. Why is our democracy threatened? With high prices and heavy taxes, many people are having financial difficulties, and people desert a system that does not give them what they want. They seek refuge in anything that seems better.

The health of the whole is determined by the health of the part. What each community, what each P.-T. A. does is important. Each person can help to solve problems in his own community, though he cannot solve national and international confusion.

The mere right to vote is not democracy. People must get together and express their ideas. Let each person do what he is best fitted for. The opportunity to take part in democracy is right here. Many problems eventually referred to Washington could be solved in the community if people would take enough interest in home problems. Encourage family councils. Even young children can have good ideas. Groups must work together harmoniously with no one person dominatig the group."

Mrs. Harvard S. Nix, president, presided over the business session while Mrs. John A. Peters read the minutes and gave the treasurer's report. Following the committee reports, a room count was taken and the trophy was awarded to Mrs. Mae Snapp's fourth grade for having the most parents present. The meeting was adjourned and refreshments were served in the library by mothers of the fifth grade.

Reader's Clique Plans Christmas Toy Project

Mr. Joe Spatafora Is Guest Speaker At October Meeting Held In Home Of Mrs. G. L. Morgan

Plans were formulated for the annual Christmas toy project when the Reader's Clique met recently in the home of Mrs. G. L. Morgan on Forsythe. Mrs. Ivy Jordan, president, appointed Mrs. Clay Wilson, chairman of this project.

Mrs. Edwin Crowley, program chairman, introduced the guest speaker, Mr. Joe Spatafora. Mr. Spatafora said in part:

Notice the immediate appeal of illustrative material in any magazine. Notice how the colors are immediately attractive—sensual; and see too the strong, contrasting design which cries for attention. Notice the beautiful rendering and the correct construction—then study the subject. The picture with all it's insinuations will be readily understood. It is intended so. The commercial artist is interested in illustrating a particular situation in the most legible fashion, and with an exaggerated simplicity which allows an instantaneous comprehension for the person thumbing quickly through the pages. Now here lies the basic difference between fine and commercial art. The illustration after the initial glance has no further interest; whereas, a piece of fine art carries something of a mystery. And if our subject concerns a person, it states more than a minute description of a particular instant in the person's life. The painting will rather suggest the ordeals which shaped the character which caused whatever reaction is represented in the painting.

Another thing about art education and the common remark, "But I know nothing of art," or "I just can't understand these contemporary abstractions." The jist of the matter is that unwittingly, and by way of our popular magazines, the public is automatically educated to the predominantly commercial aspect of art. Their appreciation being limited to their environmental knowledge, hence—an aversion to the paintings not realistically rendered. But then another question: "What is the modern artist trying to say?" The answer is that he is attempting to express an emotion through color and abstract lines, and this he strives to accomplish by minimizing or actually eliminating the subject which originally inspired the work in the beginning. It follows that the mystery mentioned earlier is considerably deepened, for now we're not merely intrigued with a descriptive personality, but rather with the cosmic significance of the emotional whole.

Mr. Spatafora exhibited the different types of art and told which ones leave a more lasting impression.

The following members were present: Mrs. Clay Albright, Mrs. Edwin Crowley, Mrs. Evans Ethridge, Mrs. James Harbuck, Mrs. Burl Hollis, Mrs. Mike John, Jr., Mrs. Oliver Lowery, Mrs. Ivy Jordan, Mrs. Henry Menuet, Mrs. A. G. Olcott, Mrs. Fred Parrish, Mrs. Pete Coats, Mrs. James Schonlau, Mrs. Harrell Webster, Mrs. Louis Peters, Mrs. Ray Updegraff, Mrs. Clay Wilson, Mrs. T. F. Wilson and Mrs. Raymond John.

Mid morning coffee and home-

Mid morning coffee and homecial attraction. Turkey dinners, gumbo suppers and hamburgers and hot dogs make a variety of meals to suit every person and every taste. Home made candies to be sold by the piece or by the pound are anticipated by the lovers of sweets.

Fish pond, games and fun for the children are planned. Needlework, mystery packages, pot plants, bingo games and a beautiful doll that walks (with plenty of lovely clothes) will make good entertainment for every one.

Episcopal Auxiliary In Lake Providence Elects Officers

General theme of the 1952 program for Grace Episcopal Church as outlined by the Rev. Newton Griffith, is "To promote fellowship and service throughout the parish at all age levels."

Officers elected at the Auxiliary meeting, Tuesday evening, to help carry out this program were, Mrs. J. H. Sistrunk, choir mother, Mrs. R. S. Guenard, chairman, Miss Florence Whittington, of the housekeeping committee; Mrs. J. N. Hill, Jr., head of the kitchen committee; Mrs. W. Y. Bell, and Mrs. Sam H. Houston, for the Altar Guild; Mrs. Vail Delony and Mrs. F. H. Schneider, Jr., for the Junior Alter Guild.

Mrs. J. R. Adams, United Thanks offering custodian, reported contributions to date of $28. Diocesan convention was announced for Nov. 13, 14 and 15, at St. Andrews Church, New Orleans.

Christoff Keller, Tallulah, will visit the Lake Providence congregation, Nov. 8, to start off the every member canvass. A covered dish supper will be served.

The Bishop will visit the parish on Nov. 11, when eight will be presented for confirmation and a reception is being planned to welcome the Bishop and to honor the newly received members.

Get well and good wishes cards were sent Mrs. L. L. Kilpatrick, who fell and broke her leg, and Mrs. Newton Griffith, who is in Roseland with a sister, Mrs. L. R. Kirkwood, who is critically ill.

Mrs. Arthur I. Guenard gave the first chapter of the mission book, "Chapters in Church History."

The hostesses, Mrs. J. H. Gilfoil, Jr., Mrs. W. Y. Bell, Mrs. B. R. Mitchell and Mrs. Hardy O'Steen, served punch and sandwiches, with Mrs. Mitchell presiding at the punch bowl.

HONORARY PAGE

Indianapolis, —(AP)— A Kokomo High School senior from the Western zone of Germany served as an honorary page at a recent session of the Indiana legislature.

Erich Mueller, 17-year-old son of a German dentist, was brought to the U. S. last month on a scholarship awarded by the American Field Service, a volunteer organization.

Mueller was introduced on the House floor by Rep. Earl M. Utterback of Kokomo.

Fourth Grade Pupils Entertain At Barkdull Faulk P.- T. A. Meeting

A record number of parents and visitors attended the regular meeting of the Barkdull Faulk P.-T. A. on Thursday, October 11, where they were delightfully entertained by the fourth grade pupils of Mrs. Mae Snapp. A playlet entitled "Mother Hubbard's Cupboard" was presented which emphasized the need for vitamins and minerals in the daily diet. The Mother Goose characters were cleverly enacted by the following: Ann Andrews, Robert Auttonberry, Patsy Bailey, Norma Barnes, Nila Bloomer, Dianne Clark, Linda Cruse, Skippy Culpepper, Billie Sue Dixon, Dick Ethridge, Sammy Gentry, Bobbie Gilbert, Jerry Graves, Potter Greenlee, Jackie Johnson, Jerry Don May, Keith Nix, Kaye McDonald, Foster Poole, Wilds Ross, Jo Ben Rosatta, Betty Jean Stone, Billie Dee Taylor, David Terry, Reta Van Nassen, Fred Nugent.

Mrs. Mildred Swift was introduced by Mrs. Guy Coates as guest speaker. Mrs. Swift is well known in the Twin Cities as a competent speaker on many subjects. She chose as her topic "Democracy in Action." Mrs. Swift stated in part: "Democracy is a feeling and an attitude. It does not come from Washington down to us, but rather from us up to Washington. Why is our democracy threatened? With high prices and heavy taxes, many people are having financial difficulties, and people desert a system that does not give them what they want. They seek refuge in anything that seems better.

The health of the whole is determined by the health of the part. What each community, what each P.-T. A. does is important. Each person can help to solve problems in his own community, though he cannot solve national and international confusion.

The mere right to vote is not democracy. People must get together and express their ideas. Let each person do what he is best fitted for. The opportunity to take part in democracy is right here. Many problems eventually referred to Washington could be solved in the community if people would take enough interest in home problems. Encourage family councils. Even young children can have good ideas. Groups must work together harmoniously with no one person dominatig the group."

Mrs. Harvard S. Nix, president, presided over the business session while Mrs. John A. Peters read the minutes and gave the treasurer's report. Following the committee reports, a room count was taken and the trophy was awarded to Mrs. Mae Snapp's fourth grade for having the most parents present. The meeting was adjourned and refreshments were served in the library by mothers of the fifth grade.

Reader's Clique Plans Christmas Toy Project

Mr. Joe Spatafora Is Guest Speaker At October Meeting Held In Home Of Mrs. G. L. Morgan

Plans were formulated for the annual Christmas toy project when the Reader's Clique met recently in the home of Mrs. G. L. Morgan on Forsythe. Mrs. Ivy Jordan, president, appointed Mrs. Clay Wilson, chairman of this project.

Mrs. Edwin Crowley, program chairman, introduced the guest speaker, Mr. Joe Spatafora. Mr. Spatafora said in part:

Notice the immediate appeal of illustrative material in any magazine. Notice how the colors are immediately attractive—sensual; and see too the strong, contrasting design which cries for attention. Notice the beautiful rendering and the correct construction—then study the subject. The picture with all it's insinuations will be readily understood. It is intended so. The commercial artist is interested in illustrating a particular situation in the most legible fashion, and with an exaggerated simplicity which allows an instantaneous comprehension for the person thumbing quickly through the pages. Now here lies the basic difference between fine and commercial art. The illustration after the initial glance has no further interest; whereas, a piece of fine art carries something of a mystery. And if our subject concerns a person, it states more than a minute description of a particular instant in the person's life. The painting will rather suggest the ordeals which shaped the character which caused whatever reaction is represented in the painting.

Another thing about art education and the common remark, "But I know nothing of art," or "I just can't understand these contemporary abstractions." The jist of the matter is that unwittingly, and by way of our popular magazines, the public is automatically educated to the predominantly commercial aspect of art. Their appreciation being limited to their environmental knowledge, hence—an aversion to the paintings not realistically rendered. But then another question: "What is the modern artist trying to say?" The answer is that he is attempting to express an emotion through color and abstract lines, and this he strives to accomplish by minimizing or actually eliminating the subject which originally inspired the work in the beginning. It follows that the mystery mentioned earlier is considerably deepened, for now we're not merely intrigued with a descriptive personality, but rather with the cosmic significance of the emotional whole.

Mr. Spatafora exhibited the different types of art and told which ones leave a more lasting impression.

The following members were present: Mrs. Clay Albright, Mrs. Edwin Crowley, Mrs. Evans Ethridge, Mrs. James Harbuck, Mrs. Burl Hollis, Mrs. Mike John, Jr., Mrs. Oliver Lowery, Mrs. Ivy Jordan, Mrs. Henry Menuet, Mrs. A. G. Olcott, Mrs. Fred Parrish, Mrs. Pete Coats, Mrs. James Schonlau, Mrs. Harrell Webster, Mrs. Louis Peters, Mrs. Ray Updegraff, Mrs. Clay Wilson, Mrs. T. F. Wilson and Mrs. Raymond John.

News From The Public Library

New books come to the Ouachita Parish Public Library almost every day. There are books to appeal to every interest and today I want to tell you about some of them. Gardening is a popular hobby in Ouachita parish and there are some perfectly fascinating titles in this field. J. Horace McFarland is one of the nationally recognized authorities in the field of rose culture. His books are both informative and beautiful. We have two new books by Mr. McFarland. One is called "Modern Roses, III" and the other is "How to Grow Roses." This section is known all over the south for the beauty of the camellias grown here. A new book on camellias is always in demand. Our newest title in this field is "Camellias and Common Sense" by Claude Chidamian. Flower arranging is a hobby of many interested women in the parish. A perfectly beautiful new book is "Pictures With Flowers" by Julia Clements. This is an English publication and has some new and novel arrangements. Garden clubs are especially interested in growing bulbs this year. "Bulbs For Home Gardens" by John C. Wister will be of great help to them. House plants provide much pleasure to people during the long winter months. The library has two new and most attractive books in this field. "Enjoy Your Houseplants" by Dorothy Helen Jenkins and "African Violets" by Helen Van Pelt Wilson. This is the season to be thinking about chrysanthemums. A wonderful new book in this field is "Garden and Greenhouse Chrysanthemums" by Alexander Laurie.

Cookbooks are always popular with patrons of the library. Three new ones have recently been added to the collection. They are "The New Joy of Cooking" by Rombauer, "Cook it Ahead" by Elinore Marvel and a fascinating little book containing the recipes of the United Nations called "The World's Favorite Recipes." This book should be most helpful to club women planning a program.

Of all types of non-fiction, biographies are the most popular. "Schnozzola" the biography of Jimmy Durante by Gene Fowler is as funny as the man himself. "A Man Called Peter" is the biography of Peter Marshall, written by his wife, Catherine Wood Marshall. Everyone who read and loved "Mr. Jones Meet the Master" will want to read about the man who preached those marvelous sermons. "Dizzy, the Life and Personality of Benjamin Disraeli" by Hesketh Person is an illuminating biography of one of the greatest of Englishmen. "William Faulkner" by Harry Campbell is an excellent appraisal of the man and his work. "Mrs. Ewing, Mrs. Molesworth and Mrs. Hodgson Burnett" by Marghanita Laski is a delightful account of three of the first writers for children.

This is the year when the American Library Association is striving to direct the attention of all Americans to our wonderful American heritage. We have several new books which do just that. "Liberty and Property" by Roy V. Cole gives a graphic picture of the Colonial period in American history and the events leading up to the Revolution. "This American People" by Gerald W. Johnson is a wonderful appraisal of the forces which have made America great. "The Uprooted" by Oscar Handlin is the story of the immigrants who came to this country.

There are also numerous new books of fiction being added to the library collection. Next week we will tell you about them. Be sure to use your branch of the Ouachita Parish Public Library for information and pleasure.

Millsaps P.- T. A. Plans Halloween Carnival

An enthusiastic group was present when the Millsaps P.-T. A. held its October meeting in the school lunchroom as plans for the Halloween carnival were perfected. Mr. J. A. Norris has been named carnival chairman with Mrs. R.T. Lolley as co-chairman. The date for this affair has been set for October 26, at seven o'clock. There will be plenty of fun and entertainment for young and old alike at this carnival.

Other committees and the chairmen are: cake auction — Mrs. Hazel Smith and Hugh Taylor, as auctioneer; home made candy — Mrs. J. T. Starnes, Mrs. A. W. White, and Mrs. E. C. Roberts; hot dogs — Mrs. Jo Lolley; parade — Mr. J. A. Norris and Mrs. J. F. Jones; queen contest — the entire faculty.

The president, Mrs. Clyde Jordan, presided during a short business session. The group voted to pay three cents per member as dues into the Twin City P.-T. A. council. Reports from the various committees were heard. The membership committee reported over two hundred members have paid dues to date and the unit is actively participating in the fifth district meetings of P.-T. A.

Mrs. Carl Metcalf, program speaker, Miss Kate Perkins, who chose as her subject, "Let Us Use Our Own Minds." Miss Perkins stated that the time has come when each one must think for himself and center his activities on a few important things and try to do them well instead of trying to do many things half way.

During the social hour that followed Miss Perkins' talk, the first grade mothers were hostesses and served delicious cookies and also drinks.

The room count showed the winner to be Mrs. Elmer Culpepper's first grade room.

The Home Shift

With

Mildred Swift

It was really nice working with the Parent - Teacher Group at Barkdull Faulk. I attended their meeting last Thursday night, by invitation. Mrs. Carl Stevenson, is chairman of study groups. Isn't that a wonderful opportunity for mothers to get together and study the child? Some of the subjects they are discussing are honesty, dishonesty and fear. Remember when you were a child and you misbehaved, you were told the goblins would get you if you weren't good? Mothers know now that method instills fear in the child's mind that has to be overcome in later years. These Barkdull Faulk mothers are finding that their problems with Johnnie are similar to the ones other mothers are having and are not problems at all — just natural instincts of childhood.

Two weeks ago I was telling you about St. Augustine and Centipede grass. Since then I've found that Mrs. Dansby, 1100 Forsythe has almost a complete sod of zoysia matrello. This is a beautiful dark green grass, fine textured and remarkably pest free. Like Centipede it only has to be mowed a few times a year. Don't confuse this with zoysia japonica which is a coarse textured grass. Mrs. Dansby was so nice to give me a square to show some garden club members who were interested. I'm sure she'll be glad for you to drop by and see this zoysia matrello.

Everybody who is interested is invited to the drapery demonstration at the agriculture building, Tueday morning, October 23 at 9:30 a. m. Mary McCook says she is bringing a car full. Five stores will have drapery materials on display.

Making a plan for the yard is a popular and worthwhile project in the Twin Cities. The Monroe Garden Club members are looking forward to the illustrated lecture in November to be given by Mr. Arthur S. Burger. His subject is "Design In Small Gardens." Of course the plans I work up with families are not professional but the same principles of design in landscaping are used in making all plans. I'm really looking forward to Mr. Burger's lecture to get new ideas. Mrs. B. A. Hynum, Mrs. Walter Knapp, Mrs. C. B. Moffet and Mrs. Bob McDowel are among those working on landscape plans at present. Goodby I'll see you next Sunday in this same column.

W. S. C. S. Of Stone Avenue Methodist Church Has Meeting

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of Stone avenue Methodist Church met at the church Tuesday, for the introduction of their new study, Latin-America. Mrs. M. B. Hearne, study leader, served a "What Do You Know Luncheon". The menu consisted of Arroz-con-pollo, green salad, fruit, cookies and coffee. This being a menu for a Latin-American banquet. The tables were quaint in that the flags of Mexico, Brazil, Chile, and Argentina were used as center pieces surrounded by the resources of each country.

Mrs. Blanche Crews gave the invocation.

One of the high lights of the introduction given by Mrs. Hearne was that we must "know to care and care to share".

Miss Mary Evelyn Fox gave an interesting news clipping from a paper from Venezuela sent her by an aunt residing in that country.

The luncheon was climaxed by the story "He Wears Orchids" told by Mrs. J. E. Petty.

Those priviledged to enjoy this meeting were: Mrs. J. E. Petty, Mrs. H. F. Boyd, Mrs. M. B. Hearne, Mrs. E. E. Price, Mrs. Blanche Crews, Mrs. J. E. Zufall, Mrs. Jessie Ingram, Mrs. A. N. Cobb, Mrs. Ira Waldroup, Mrs. A. A. Perkins, Mrs. J. D. Feazel, Mrs. P. A. Cox, Mrs. E. S. Roark, Miss Mary Evelyn Fox, Mrs. J. N. Homles.

Head Demonstration Club Has Meeting

The Head Demonstration Club meeting was held in the home of Mrs. C. L. Salsbury Monday.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Addie Mae Head. The club collect was read in unison.

Reports were given by project leaders, Mrs. Oledia Harper, Mrs. Laura Head and sewing hints was given by Mrs. Head.

The group will meet Wednesday, October 24 for the purpose of cleaning Henson cemetery. All who are interested are invited to come.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess to the following members: Mrs. Laura Head, Mrs. Eunice Crowill, Mrs. Oledia Harper, Mrs. Addie Mae Head and Mrs. Gillian Salsbury.

LOVELY BRIDE

Mrs. John Riley Malone, the former Rae Tatum, daughter of Mrs. Emmette Barrow Tatum and the late Mr. Tatum, of Dubach, before her marriage Sunday, October 7, in Dubach. The bridgroom is the son of Mrs. Mattie Roberts of Stamps, Ark.

MISS RAE TATUM IS OCTOBER BRIDE OF JOHN RILEY MALONE

The Dubach Baptist Church was the scene of the marriage of Miss Rae Tatum and John Riley Malone on the evening of Sunday, October 7 at five o'clock, with the Rev. A. H. Prewitt officiating. The doublering ceremony was heard following a pre-nuptial music rendition of "Always" and "Indian Love Call" whistled by Jacob P. Pearce, II, accompanied by Rex Tatum at the piano. Mrs. H. F. Delony accompanied Rex Tatum as he sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer." The traditional wedding marches were played at the beginning and end of the ceremony by Mr. Tatum.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Emmette Barrow Tatum and the late Mr. Tatum of Dubach, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Mattie Roberts of Stamps, Ark.

The scene was illuminated by the white taper twinkling among the background of green fern and foliage flanked with large baskets of bronze and yellow chrysanthemums tied with wide old gold satin ribbon bows and streamers, while a profusion of greenery formed a background of the improvised altar.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Mr. A. M. Tatum, wore a gown of white slipper satin. It was styled with a sweetheart neckline, close fitting waist, full gathered sleeves, which ended at the elbow and fitted tightly, pointing to the hand. Her fingertip veil fell gracefully from a pearl studded tiara and she carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid and cascading satin streamers.

Mrs. Douglas Naremore, cousin of the bride, served as matron of honor. She wore a gown of light blue taffeta, and her bouquet was of Talisman roses, net ruffling and satin streamers. Bridesmaids were Miss Sally Tatum, also a cousin of the bride, who wore a gown of pink taffeta, Nancy Hamilton, whose gown was light green taffeta and Donna Gail Tatum, niece of the bride, who wore a yellow taffeta gown. Their bouquets were fashioned from that of the matron of honor. Miss Margaret Ann Tatum and Mrs. Mildred May of Monroe, served as candlelighters. Their gowns were orchid taffeta.

Serving the bridegroom as best man was Ben Talbot of Magnolia, Ark. Ushers were J. W. Dickerson, also of Magnolia, Eddie Butler of Texarkana, Douglas Naremore, of Monroe, and Richard Cox of Dubach.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Tatum chose a soft, blue gray dress and a corsage of dark red roses, while the bridegroom's mother wore a black dress and black accessories and a corsage of red rose buds.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother. The table was covered with a handsome cutwork cloth, centered at one end with a three tiered wedding cake, and the table arrangement of large white chrysanthemums, white fern and fever-few. Tall lighted tapers from the center of the table blended with the artistic decorations. The mantel arrangement was of white gladioli and large white chrysanthemums satin streamers and net bows.

Assisting in the courtesies were Mrs. Hamilton B. Maxwell, Ruston, Mrs. Eddie Butler of Texarkana, Mrs. Douglas Naremore of Monroe, Mrs. A. M. Tatum, Mrs. J. P. Hamilton, and Mrs. Kenneth Rinehart of Dubach.

For her wedding trip to New Orleans and other gulf coast cities in Mississippi, the bride chose a brown suit with darker brown accessories, with the orchid from her weddinb bouquet.

Mr. and Mrs. Malone will reside at 230 West Monroe street, Magnolia, Ark.

Prominent Jonesboro Family Has Reunion

Mrs. Mary E. Fitzpatrick celebrated her 85th birthday Sunday by having all of her eight children present for the first time in several years. It was a happy day for Mrs. Fitzpatrick greeting all the many visitors of friends and neighbors, grandchildren and other relatives who came by to wish her many more such occasions. She was the recipient of many lovely gifts.

The noon day meal was enjoyed buffet style on the spacious lawn of the home of her daughter, Mrs. Josie Potts with whom Mrs. Fitzpatrick is making her home. Group pictures were made and olden times were relived when the now grown men and women wre once little boys and girls of Mrs. Fitzpatrick and gathered about her as they did Sunday.

Reed, Mr. and Mrs. William Fitzpatrick, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Potts, all of Jonesboro, La.; Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Fitzpatrick of Wyatt; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cole of Cotton Valley; Mr. and Mrs. Alvis Hall of Oak Grove; Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Fitzpatrick of Port Arthur, Tex. Grandchildren present were: Myrtis, Walton and Leonard Reed, Thelbert, May, Opal and James Fitzpatrick, Jimmie, Rodney and Joe Fitzpatrick, all of Jonesboro; Leon and Wayne Fitzpatrick of Wyatt; Leroy and Mary Cole of Cotton Valley; Cecil Hall of Oak Grove; Jerry Fitzpatrick of Port Arthur, Tex. Other relatives and friends included: Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Walsworth, Mr. Herman Walsworth, Herbert, Wesley and Virgil Ray, Mr. Lom Holsomback, Mr. Edd Williams, Mr. Dewey Anderson, Mr. Homer Watkins, Mr. and Mrs. John Savage, Mr. and Mrs. Luther LaCraze, Bobbie, Gloria, Jean and Virginia, Mr. Leon McCoy, Mr. Henry Savage, Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Fitzpatrick, Gale and Grady of Hodge, Mrs. Dalton McMillan, Cecil Eugene, Kenneth, John Hugh, Gerald Wayne, Harold Glen and Annie Louise all of Clay, Rev. and Mrs. Frank Smith and Mrs. Donnie Caroway of Calhoun.

This is an annual gathering looked forward to by all members of Mrs. Fitzpatrick's family.

COLONIAL DAMES SOCIETY ANNUONCES RELEASE OF FIRST CARNIVAL COOKBOOK

"To A King's Taste" — Louisiana's first "Carnival Cookbook" is due to roll from the presses soon. Much enthusiasm has been evidenced throughout the state over the prospects of this new cookbook, which has been planned and edited under the direction of the National Society of Colonial Dames, of which Miss Mary Tebo of New Orleans is state president. Harnett Kane has written the foreword. The cover and illustrations carrying out the carnival colors of green, gold and purple have been executed by a prominent New Orleans artist.

The book contains favorite recipes of former queens and kings of carnival. Carnival secrets and legends, some never before printed are featured—"Such as the Twelfth Night Ball, the recipe for "king's roast," directions for making Boston Club punch, tricks in serving champagne and other drinks used by various kings in toasting their queens."

Outstanding male cooks—some of them prominent in social and civic life throughout the state—have contributed their culinary secrets. Foreign consuls have added superb dishes from their native countries. There will be a chapter titled "Seafoods on Parade" and another known as "Plantation Cookery."

The book will be released to local book stores about November 15. Advance orders may be taken by contacting the local cookbook committee: Mrs. Wm. King Stubbs, Mrs. Robert Layton, and Mrs. James Conway Liner. All proceeds from the sales will be used for the restoration of Gunston Hall inWashington, D. C., the home of George Mason, author of the Bill of Rights in our Constitution.

LOVELY BRIDE

Mrs. John Riley Malone, the former Rae Tatum, daughter of Mrs. Emmette Barrow Tatum and the late Mr. Tatum, of Dubach, before her marriage Sunday, October 7, in Dubach. The bridgroom is the son of Mrs. Mattie Roberts of Stamps, Ark.

MISS RAE TATUM IS OCTOBER BRIDE OF JOHN RILEY MALONE

The Dubach Baptist Church was the scene of the marriage of Miss Rae Tatum and John Riley Malone on the evening of Sunday, October 7 at five o'clock, with the Rev. A. H. Prewitt officiating. The double-ring ceremony was heard following a pre-nuptial music rendition of "Always" and "Indian Love Call" whistled by Jacob P. Pearce, II, accompanied by Rex Tatum at the piano. Mrs. H. F. Delony accompanied Rex Tatum as he sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer." The traditional wedding marches were played at the beginning and end of the ceremony by Mr. Tatum.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Emmette Barrow Tatum and the late Mr. Tatum of Dubach, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Mattie Roberts of Stamps, Ark.

The scene was illuminated by the white taper twinkling among the background of green fern and foliage flanked with large baskets of bronze and yellow chrysanthemums tied with wide old gold satin ribbon bows and streamers, while a profusion of greenery formed a background of the improvised altar.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Mr. A. M. Tatum, wore a gown of white slipper satin. It was styled with a sweetheart neckline, close fitting waist, full gathered sleeves, which ended at the elbow and fitted tightly, pointing to the hand. Her fingertip veil fell gracefully from a pearl studded tiara and she carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid and cascading satin streamers.

Mrs. Douglas Naremore, cousin of the bride, served as matron of honor. She wore a gown of light blue taffeta, and her bouquet was of Talisman roses, net ruffling and satin streamers. Bridesmaids were Miss Sally Tatum, also a cousin of the bride, who wore a gown of pink taffeta, Nancy Hamilton, whose gown was light green taffeta and Donna Gail Tatum, niece of the bride, who wore a yellow taffeta gown. Their bouquets were fashioned from that of the matron of honor. Miss Margaret Ann Tatum and Mrs. Mildred May of Monroe, served as candlelighters. Their gowns were orchid taffeta.

Serving the bridegroom as best man was Ben Talbot of Magnolia, Ark. Ushers were J. W. Dickerson, also of Magnolia, Eddie Butler of Texarkana, Douglas Naremore, of Monroe, and Richard Cox of Dubach.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Tatum chose a soft, blue gray dress and a corsage of dark red roses, while the bridegroom's mother wore a black dress and black accessories and a corsage of red rose buds.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother. The table was covered with a handsome cutwork cloth, centered at one end with a three tiered wedding cake, and the table arrangement of large white chrysanthemums, white fern and fever-few. Tall lighted tapers from the center of the table blended with the artistic decorations. The mantel arrangement was of white gladioli and large white chrysanthemums satin streamers and net bows.

Assisting in the courtesies were Mrs. Hamilton B. Maxwell, Ruston, Mrs. Eddie Butler of Texarkana, Mrs. Douglas Naremore of Monroe, Mrs. A. M. Tatum, Mrs. J. P. Hamilton, and Mrs. Kenneth Rinehart of Dubach.

For her wedding trip to New Orleans and other gulf coast cities in Mississippi, the bride chose a brown suit with darker brown accessories, with the orchid from her weddinb bouquet.

Mr. and Mrs. Malone will reside at 230 West Monroe street, Magnolia, Ark.

Prominent Jonesboro Family Has Reunion

Mrs. Mary E. Fitzpatrick celebrated her 85th birthday Sunday by having all of her eight children present for the first time in several years. It was a happy day for Mrs. Fitzpatrick greeting all the many visitors of friends and neighbors, grandchildren and other relatives who came by to wish her many more such occasions. She was the recipient of many lovely gifts.

The noon day meal was enjoyed buffet style on the spacious lawn of the home of her daughter, Mrs. Josie Potts with whom Mrs. Fitzpatrick is making her home. COLONIAL DAMES SOCIETY ANNUONCES RELEASE OF FIRST CARNIVAL COOKBOOK

"To A King's Taste" — Louisiana's first "Carnival Cookbook" is due to roll from the presses soon. Much enthusiasm has been evidenced throughout the state over the prospects of this new cookbook, which has been planned and edited under the direction of the National Society of Colonial Dames, of which Miss Mary Tebo of New Orleans is state president. Harnett Kane has written the foreword. The cover and illustrations carrying out the carnival colors of green, gold and purple have been executed by a prominent New Orleans artist.

The book contains favorite recipes of former queens and kings of carnival. Carnival secrets and legends, some never before printed are featured—"Such as the Twelfth Night Ball, the recipe for "king's roast," directions for making Boston Club punch, tricks in serving champagne and other drinks used by various kings in toasting their queens."

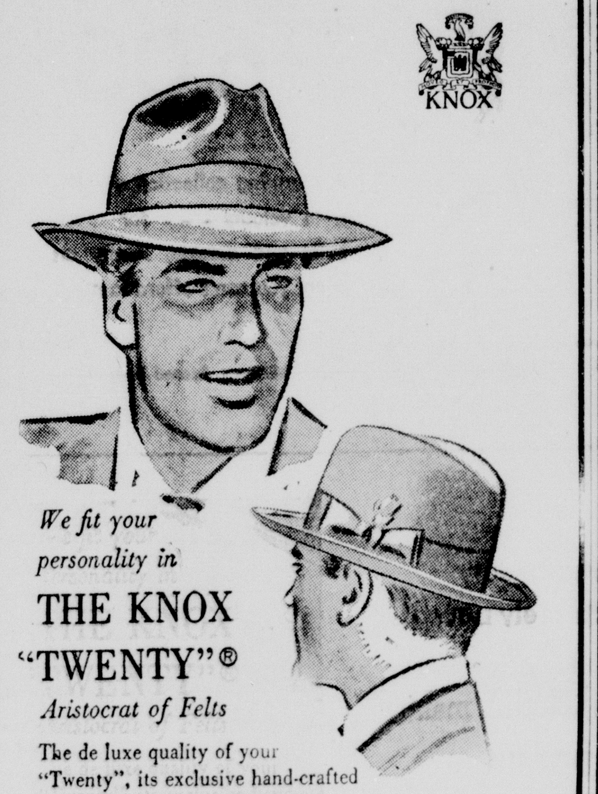

Outstanding male cooks—some of them prominent in social and civic life throughout the state—have contributed their culinary secrets. Foreign consuls have added superb dishes from their native countries. There will be a chapter titled "Seafoods on Parade" and another known as "Plantation Cookery."

The book will be released to local book stores about November 15. Advance orders may be taken by contacting the local cookbook committee: Mrs. Wm. King Stubbs, Mrs. Robert Layton, and Mrs. James Conway Liner. All proceeds from the sales will be used for the restoration of Gunston Hall inWashington, D. C., the home of George Mason, author of the Bill of Rights in our Constitution.

Mrs. Roland Waldroup Hostess At Bonhomie Club Meeting

Mrs. A. T. White, Guest Speaker, Discusses Achievements Of General Federation

The Bonhomie Club met in the home of Mrs. Roland Waldroup, 1004 Cole, with Mrs. George P. Foreman, co - hostess. Mrs. Hal Laymon, the president, opened the meeting by welcoming the two guests, Mrs. A. T. White and Mrs. W. D. MGee. The club collect was read in unison. The minutes of the previous meeting and roll call were read by the Mrs. Roland Waldroup. After the brief business session, Mrs. R. B. Pilaut, introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. A. T. White, who is L. F. W. C. education chairman and industry chairman for the fifth district.

Mrs. White discussed 60 years of achievement of general federation from 1890-1950. She said, Charles Dickens as the father of the movement, and Jennie June Croley is called the mother of the G. F. W. C. Today the F. G. W. C. has a membership of 15,000 with 770,000 per capital paying members.

Mrs. White states that club life teaches us that there are many kinds of wealth in the world—the wealth of ideas, of knowledge, of sympathy, of readiness to be put in any place and used in any way for the general good. These are given and no price is or can be put upon them, yet they enrich and enable whatever comes within their influence. The general federation building was purchasd by the general federation in 1922 s a storehouse of educational material. Over the mantel in the G. F. W. C. is written the motto "I cannot warm you if your hearts be cold."

Mrs. White discussed spearately the following eight departments:—(1) American home (2) communication (3) education (4) fine art(5) international relations (6 legislation 7 public affairs and (8) welfare. We can only give service through organization. Education has three departments (1) vocational educaton (2) adult education (3; scholarship. Louisiana is educating a Chinese girl, Miss Minn, Sam Kik, Korea. Public welfare is a major interest of federal child labor amendment is very important. Women were enabled to attain public positions by "equality of right amendment." Sex should not determine the rights to serve in public office. Women are responsible for favorable status of legislation today. Health has been sponsored by education as far back as 1896. T. B. control and national health service established by G. F. W. C. Citizenship subjects voting being practiced among youth. American home is study of Christianity in the home. International relationship has been out standing in federation work for the U. N. goodwill program since 1945.

After this most interesting program by Mrs. White the guest, Mrs. W. D. McGee, and following members, Mrs. Hal Laymon, Mrs. R. B. Pilaut, Mrs. Warren Breard, Mrs. H. V Collins, Mrs. E. L. Hoskins, Mrs. A. J. McCready, Mrs. Dusty Rhoades, Mrs. L. H. Leverette, were served delivious refreshments by the host and hostess. The next rgular meting will be at Mrs. O. Lanier, 203 Grayling Lane.

Mrs. George Temple Hostess At Miro Book Club Meeting

Mrs. Neal McHenry Reviews 'The Plymouth Adventure' At Monthly Meeting

The first meeting of the season '51-52 of Miro Book Club was held in the home of Mrs. George Temple, Edgewater Gardens. Quantities of radiant pink roses were placed at vantage points in this lovely home located on bayou's edge, thus making a perfect setting for the afternoon entertainment of eleven club members who attended and who were all eager to enter into another's year's study.

Mrs. B. L. Mulhearn, president, presided and brought a most interesting account of the fifth district board meeting which she recently enjoyed. The routine business ended, the president turned the meeting over to Mrs. C. R Tidwell, program chairman, who explained the year's study and asked the cooperation of all members to make the study of 'American Citizenship,' both interesting and worthwhile. Mrs. Tidwell expressed appreciation to the committee who had worked with her on this comprehensive background.

Mrs. Neal McHenry, being presented by Mrs. Tidwell, gave a book review of "The Plymouth Adventure" by Ernest Gebler. This is a 'Chronicle Novel of the Voyage of the Mayflower' as the subtitle tells. Those who were privileged to hear Mrs. McHenry, were delighted with the first study in citizenship. In her inimitable manner, she gave a most interesting story where were intermingled the hardships, the personal conflicts, the patience and the endurance, of these explorers. The romances on board, the landing on Plymouth, the warlike greetings from the Indians, all was brought to light, as Mrs. McHenry so ably captivated the members with one of the most dramatic accounts of history's courageous ventures to reach America and establish a colony in the New World.

Mrs. Temple served a delicious salad course, after which all members enjoyed the opportunity of exchanging their experiences and the happenings of the summer months.

One guest was Mrs. Charles Gaisser from Springhill, La.

DUTIES DEFINED

New York—(AP)—Some 200 regular Navy and Naval Reserve chaplains from New York, New Jersey and Connecticut, representing every religious faith, attended a seminar recently at the Third Naval District Headquarters.

Rear Adm. Stanton W. Salisbury, chief of Navy chaplains, told them: "In the future, service chaplains will be given every opportunity to exercise their primary function—religious leadership. Collateral duties will be confined to those that have a direct bearing on this primary function.

"You chaplains are the greatest guarantees to the homes of America that their children who put on the uniform of the Armed Forces of the U. S., will be afforded every opportunity to practice the religion of their parents."

MISSOURI PACIFIC WOMEN'S CLUB HAS OCTOBER MEETING

The Missouri Pacific Women's Club held their October meeting recently at the clubhouse. The president, Mrs. F. V. Reitzell, called the meeting to order and the chaplain, Mrs. J. R. Arthur led the group in the salute to the flag, followed by the reading of the club collect in unison.

Mrs. C. H. McAmis, recording secretary, called the roll and the following members were present: Mrs. J. R. Arthur, Mrs. R. S. Baggott, Mrs. L. M. Brinson, Mrs. C. R. Clay, Mrs. C. E. Copeland, Mrs. R. H. Dollar, Mrs. O. M. Dowdy, Mrs. R. R. Griffith, Mrs. S. W Haile, Mrs. M. R. Hausherr, Mrs. J. G. Keller, Mrs. E. A. Klein, Mrs. W. C. Lanier, Mrs. C. H. McAnis, Mrs A. F. Speer.

It was voted by the club and plans were made for a rummage sale to be held soon.

The guest speaker for the afternoon was one of the club members, Mrs. F. H. Peterson, well known in Monroe as an accomplished speaker on many subjects. Her topic for the afternoon was "I Was Born in 1900." She gave an amusing and interesting account of the struggles and changes in women since 1900.

The members were further entertained by the entertainment chairman, Mrs. R. H. Dallas, with a few games of bingo.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. C.R. Clay, Mrs. J. W. Reynolds, Mrs. M. R. Hausherr and Mrs. Laura Lacy.

Those who were privileged to hear Mrs. McHenry, were delighted with the first study in citizenship. In her inimitable manner, she gave a most interesting story where were intermingled the hardships, the personal conflicts, the patience and the endurance, of these explorers. The romances on board, the landing on Plymouth, the warlike greetings from the Indians, all was brought to light, as Mrs. McHenry so ably captivated the members with one of the most dramatic accounts of history's courageous ventures to reach America and establish a colony in the New World.

Mrs. Temple served a delicious salad course, after which all members enjoyed the opportunity of exchanging their experiences and the happenings of the summer months.

One guest was Mrs. Charles Gaisser from Springhill, La.

DUTIES DEFINED

New York—(AP)—Some 200 regular Navy and Naval Reserve chaplains from New York, New Jersey and Connecticut, representing every religious faith, attended a seminar recently at the Third Naval District Headquarters.

Rear Adm. Stanton W. Salisbury, chief of Navy chaplains, told them: "In the future, service chaplains will be given every opportunity to exercise their primary function—religious leadership. Collateral duties will be confined to those that have a direct bearing on this primary function.

"You chaplains are the greatest guarantees to the homes of America that their children who put on the uniform of the Armed Forces of the U. S., will be afforded every opportunity to practice the religion of their parents."

MISSOURI PACIFIC WOMEN'S CLUB HAS OCTOBER MEETING

The Missouri Pacific Women's Club held their October meeting recently at the clubhouse. The president, Mrs. F. V. Reitzell, called the meeting to order and the chaplain, Mrs. J. R. Arthur led the group in the salute to the flag, followed by the reading of the club collect in unison.

Mrs. C. H. McAmis, recording secretary, called the roll and the following members were present: Mrs. J. R. Arthur, Mrs. R. S. Baggott, Mrs. L. M. Brinson, Mrs. C. R. Clay, Mrs. C. E. Copeland, Mrs. R. H. Dollar, Mrs. O. M. Dowdy, Mrs. R. R. Griffith, Mrs. S. W Haile, Mrs. M. R. Hausherr, Mrs. J. G. Keller, Mrs. E. A. Klein, Mrs. W. C. Lanier, Mrs. C. H. McAnis, Mrs A. F. McMullen, Mrs. H. L. Moore, Mrs. W. L. Pearce, Mrs. F. H. Peterson, Mrs. F. V. Reitzell, Mrs. J. W. Reynolds, Mrs. B. B. Roe, Mrs. A. J. Speer, Mrs. J. W. Treadwell, Mrs. W. O. Windham and Mrs. R. E. Speer.

It was voted by the club and plans were made for a rummage sale to be held soon.

The guest speaker for the afternoon was one of the club members, Mrs. F. H. Peterson, well known in Monroe as an accomplished speaker on many subjects. Her topic for the afternoon was "I Was Born in 1900." She gave an amusing and interesting account of the struggles and changes in women since 1900.

The members were further entertained by the entertainment chairman, Mrs. R. H. Dallas, with a few games of bingo.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. C.R. Clay, Mrs. J. W. Reynolds, Mrs. M. R. Hausherr and Mrs. Laura Lacy.

EXPLORATION

Brussels—(AP)—A Belgian painter and a Dutch missionary have found traces of a silex mine near Leopoldville in the Belgian Congo.

Robert Verly, Brussels painter, and Brother R. Van Moorsel, also an archeologist, found remnants of pottery, broken human bones and stone implements in the 23 subterranean rooms they explored.

Twin City Concerts To Have Kick-Off Banquet

Miss Lily Pons Will Be A Feature Attraction Of The Newly Formed Association

The membership campaign for the Twin City Concerts, Inc., affiliated with Community Concert Service, will get underway Monday evening at the Virginia Hotel. Over 300 division chairmen, co-chairmen and workers will be the guest of the Twin City Concerts Association. This banquet will mark the beginning of the concentrated membership campaign; results will be the complete sellout of Neville High School Auditorium.

Mr. Herbert Fox, National representative of Community Concert Service and Columbia Artist Management, Inc. will be the guest speaker for the evening. He will enlighten the organization and campaign workers on the artists available for the coming concert season — also instructions to the large working group will be reviewed by Mr. Fox.

Miss Lily Pons, the famous coloratura soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Company, will be announced officially by Mr. Fox to the working organization. Miss Pons—the feature attraction of the newly formed association affiliated with community concerts — was born at Cannes, the French city of flowers on the Riviera, where music and gaiety color the daily existence of its habitants. Before she was five, she was fingering the piano in little tunes and singing for her own enjoyment. She was originally destined by her family for a career in an entirely different field of music from that in which she has won such fame, and entered the Paris Conservatoire at thirteen to study piano. After two years the gifted young girl won first prize in a class of older and more experienced contestants. Her career as a concert pianist seemed assured.

But this was not to be the pattern of her life. She was suddenly taken ill and for two unhappy years was forced to give up her studies. When she recovered, she decided, with the sympathetic enthusiasm and activity of youth, to take part in entertaining the invalided war veterans of World War I in a huge hospital where her mother was a volunteer worker.

One day after she had finished a program of piano selections, a soldier begged Mademoiselle Lily to sing for him. The girl hesitated for although she had sung and trilled always, she had never made any public appearances, nor had ever sung outside her family circle.

She began to sing an old French folk tune. When she had completed it, the soldiers broke into applause. Thus Lily Pons made her first public appearance as a singer — and the first of many conquests.

From that time on she worked at home on voice and repertoire. One day she plucked up courage and walked into the office of a famous Parisian producer, Max Dearly. He listened to her voice and the young singer walked out of his office with her first job, the ingenue role in his new show. But the little coloratura was destined for more than ingenue parts. A friend persuaded her to go to Alberti di Gorostiaga, one of the greatest vocal experts in France, who was amazed to learn that this young girl with the phenomenal voice had never had a teacher. "A voice like yours happens too seldom in musical history," he exclaimed. "Five years from now you will be singing at the Metropolitan!!"

Under di Gorostiaga's guidance, a period of gruelling hard work followed—and led to engagements with small opera companies in the provinces. With this invaluable operatic experience behind her, Lily Pons still unknown to the world, set sail for New York to audition before Tullio Serafin the Italian conductor at the Metropolitan Opera. Serafin arranged a hearing before Gatti-Casazza, the Italian conductor at the Metropolitan. The little French girl walked out on the huge, dark stage and sang the mad scene from "Lucia di Lammermoor.'

Lily Pons says that as long as she lives she will never forget that audition and the drama which suddenly transformed it from an ordeal into a triumph. She was stopped in the middle of her aria. "We have heard enough," said the famous impresario, and he signed her on the spot to a five-year contract.

The night of January 2, 1931—five years after di Gorostiaga's prediction — Lily Pons made her American debut with sensational success at the historic Metropolitan Opera house in the role of Lucy Ashton of Lammermoor. A new and great diva had won her public.

The summer following her New York debut, Miss Pons made her first tour of South America and was enthusiastically acclaimed in the Pan-American capitals. Upon her return to France, she was given the country's highest decoration, the ribbon of the Legion of Honor, in recognition of her musical accomplishments. She was later awarded the Order of the Cross of Lorraine by Gen. Charles de Gaulle, who thus honored her for her work in entertaining the servicemen of the United Nations during two world-wide USO tours.

Honors and recognitions are not unusual for the petite singer. She was decorated by King Leopold of Belgium and also received the medal of the Society of Belgian War Wounded. In praise for her work, General LeClerc's armored division, first to enter Paris, adopted her as their official daughter. Besides all her other honors, she was the first French star ever to have an American town named after her—Lilypons, Md.

Since her debut at the Metropolitan, several operas have been especially revivd for Miss Pons: "la Somnambula," "Lakm," "Linda di Chamonix," "L'Le Coq d'Or," and "The Daughter of the Regiment." It was in "Le Coq d'Or" that Miss Pons, always a graceful figure both on and off stage, proved that she could dance as well as sing. Her role in "The Daughter of the Regiment" was so popular that it launched a whole new trend in military fashions — and the 71st regiment of the U. S. army adopted her as their official daughter.

On a lovely June day in 1938, Lily Pons married Andre Kostelanetz, the famous conductor, in the sudio of her home in Silvermine, Conn. On their honeymoon trip, the famous couple made a joint tour of South America, with "Kosty," as his friends call him, providing the orchestral music and Lily the song. Miss Pons and Mr. Kostelanetz made two long trips abroad during the war to sing for Allied troops. They traveled more than 100,000 miles and visited every theatre of war except the islands of the Pacific. They gave concerts for the troops in Iran, Egypt, North Africa, Italy, India, China, Burma, Belgium, France and Germany.

By order of the commanding general of the India - Burma theatre, Miss Pons and Mr. Kostelanetz received the award of the Asiatic-Pacific campaign service ribbon, which only thirteen civilians have received. Also at the conclusion of each tour, they received the U. S. war department Citation for Meritorious Service.

Recently Miss Pons completed her fifth peace-time overseas joint concert tour with her husband, appearing at Royal Albert Hall, London, and in her beloved France. There she was made an officer of the Legion of Honor, receiving the rarely-bestowed rosette of the Legion from Vincent Auriol, president of France.

Among the leading opera houses of the world in which she has appeared are those in New York, Paris, London, Buenos Aires, Rio de Janeiro, Mexico City, San Francisco and Chicago. She has made countless records and is to be heard on both Columbia and Victor Red Seal.

Hollywood, too, has acclaimed Miss Pons. She was starred in "I Dream Too Much," for which Jerome Kern composed a special score, "That Girl From Paris" and "Hitting a New High," and "Carnegie Hall." And recently she made her television debut in a program with Bob Hope.

From the 13-year-old pianist who "fell" into singing as a career, Lily Pons is today the greatest coloratura of her time and one of the most famous artists in all of operatic history. But Lily Pons, a dynamo of energy and will, holds the admiration of the world as much for her humanity as her artistry. It is this combination of person and personality which fixes her forever in the ranks of the truly great.

FEATURE ATTRACTION

Miss Lily Pons, coloratura soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Company, will be the feature attraction of the Twin City Concerts, Inc., affiliated with the Community Concerts, to appear in Monroe during the 1950-1951 season. Marilyn Maxwell To Appear With Bob Hope In Personal Appearance

Marilyn Maxwell, the beautiful blonde on the Bob Hope Show, will appear with him in personal appearance at the Neville High School auditorim, Saturday, October 27.

Marilyn has recently completed the choice role of "Brainy Baxter", and was Bob Hope's leading lady, in Paramount's "The Lemon Drop Kid", a comedy based on one of Damon Runyon's colorful Broadway stories.

The blonde singing star was born in Clarinda, Ia. Her real name is Marvel Marilyn Maxwell. At the age of 3, Marilyn made her debut at the Brandeis Theatre in Omaha and her teacher became convinced that she had great possibilities as a dancer. For the next few years she danced in several theatres, later sang with a small band on a radio station in Ft. Wayne while attending high school. Amos Ostot, a band leader, heard her sing and offered her a job. She accepted and opened with the band in Indianapolis, Ind. Her work attracted the attention of several top orchestra leaders and within six months she was singing with Buddy Rogers' band.

Rogers and his wife, Mary Pickford, were convinced the girl had definite screen possibilities and tried to persuade her to go to Hollywood for a fling at pictures. But Marilyn wasn't interested. After Rogers disbanded his orchestra Marilyn joined the Ted Weems' band. She toured the entire U. S. with the Weems' organization the following two years, sharing the same spotlight with a male singer who also showed great promise. His name was Perry Como.

After the frequent urging by Weems to try motion pictures, Marilyn and her mother went to Hollywood and there an M-G-M talent scout saw her and she was signed to a long-term contract. She made her screen debut with Robert Taylor in "Stand By For Action" in 1942.

Other motion pictures she has appeared in include "Presenting Lily Mars", "Salute to the Marines", "Dr. Gillespie's Criminal Case" and "Swing Fever". Her favorite role was in "Champion".

Marilyn is 5 ft. 6 inches tall, weighs 120 pounds, has blonde hair and hazel eyes. Her favorite sports are horseback riding, bowling, and badminton. Her main hobby, naturally, is music, and she is an avid record collector. Her secret ambition is to write a couple of Hit Parade tunes.

Miss Aulcy Burgess Is Complimented At Tea

Mrs. Carrie Kirkland And Mrs. J. C. Anders Hostesses At Lovely Prenuptial Event

Complimentary to Miss Aulcy Burgess before her marriage Saturday to J. M. Busby, was the lovely tea given recently by Mrs. Carrie Kirkland and Mrs. J. C. Anders at the home of Mrs. Kirkland.

Miss Burgess chose for this occasion a deep blue gown of French lace over a royal blue taffeta slip. Her corsage was of sweetheart roses, a gift of the hostesses.

Mrs. Kirkland, wearing a dusty rose gown with a corsage of pink roses, and Mrs. Anders in a black lace and a corsage of pink roses, greeted the guests at the entrance. Also receiving with the hostesses and honor guest were Mrs. Mirian Burgess, mother of the bride, wearing a pink crepe blouse with black floor length skirt and a corsage of purple asters, and Mrs. J. M. Busby, mother of the bridegroom, wearing an aqua blue gown with bronze chrysanthemums.

The receiving rooms were decorated with lovely arrangements of pink roses and pink asters. Pink roses and white tuberoses were placed on the mantel and the dining table held an arrangement of pink asters. Placed at each end was the silver coffee and tea services.

Mrs. W. M. Greenwell, Mrs. Bert Gambrell, Mrs. Thomas Keller and Mrs. George Temple alternated at the tea and coffee services. Mrs. Greenwell was wearing a deep blue dinner dress with a corsage of pink asters. Mrs. Gambrell was gowned in light blue with rhinestones and complimented by a corsage of pink asters. Mrs. Keller chose a beige model with a corsage of bronze chrysanthemums, and Mrs. Temple was wearing a powder blue gown with a corsage of pink roses.

Also assisting in the serving courtesies was Mrs. Fred Bennett, wearing a black chiffon and taffeta evening gown embroidered in gold.

Over one hundred guests called between the appointed hours of four-six o'clock.

RUSSIAN TV ONLY WORDS

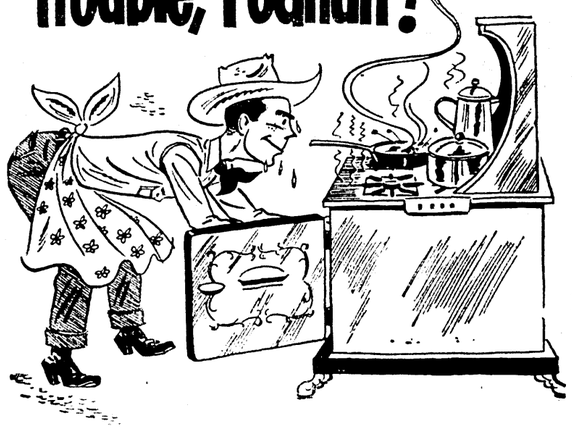

Budapest —(AP)—Latest Russian "discovery" is the art of mass production of TV sets.

The newspaper Szabad Nep declares also that Russian-made TV sets are far superior to those of the West, giving "a clear, sharp and perfect picture."

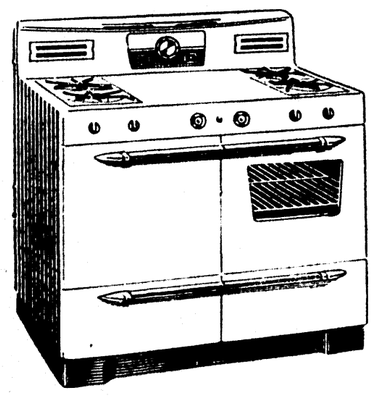

However, Hungarians have to be content with the "promise" that TV will arrive in "the near future."

The receiving rooms were decorated with lovely arrangements of pink roses and pink asters. Pink roses and white tuberoses were placed on the mantel and the dining table held an arrangement of pink asters. Placed at each end was the silver coffee and tea services.

Mrs. W. M. Greenwell, Mrs. Bert Gambrell, Mrs. Thomas Keller and Mrs. George Temple alternated at the tea and coffee services. Mrs. Greenwell was wearing a deep blue dinner dress with a corsage of pink asters. Mrs. Gambrell was gowned in light blue with rhinestones and complimented by a corsage of pink asters. Mrs. Keller chose a beige model with a corsage of bronze chrysanthemums, and Mrs. Temple was wearing a powder blue gown with a corsage of pink roses.

Also assisting in the serving courtesies was Mrs. Fred Bennett, wearing a black chiffon and taffeta evening gown embroidered in gold.

Over one hundred guests called between the appointed hours of four-six o'clock.

RUSSIAN TV ONLY WORDS

Budapest —(AP)—Latest Russian "discovery" is the art of mass production of TV sets.

The newspaper Szabad Nep declares also that Russian-made TV sets are far superior to those of the West, giving "a clear, sharp and perfect picture."

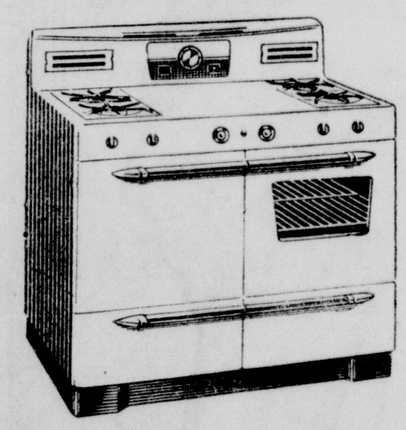

However, Hungarians have to be content with the "promise" that TV will arrive in "the near future."

YWCA Annual Meeting

On Thusday afternoon the Y. W. C. A. membership gathered together for their annual meeting. Miss Juanita Porter, president, presided at the meeting which was opened with the singing of America and then the invocation by Mrs. A. R. Holloway, chairman of the worship committee for the board. Mrs. A. R. Doughty, program chairman, presented Miss Sharp who introduced the guest speaker for the meeting, Mrs. Milton Adler, president of the New Orleans Y. W. C. A. Mrs. Adler spoke on "Membership in the Y. W. C. A. . . . What It Can Mean To You, To The Y. W. C. A,, And What It Can Mean To The Community." One of the Y-Teens, Betty Spurlock sang, "If I Could Tell You" by Idabelle Firestone and was accompanied at the piano by Geraldine Weir. During the business meeting, Miss Nona Martin gave the financial report. The following board members were elected for a three-year term: Mrs. E. P. Cudd, Mrs. Francis Faulk, Mrs. John Lewis, Miss Nona Martin, Mrs. B. L. Mulhern, Mrs. T. H. Scott, Mrs. H. G. Thompson, Mrs. A. D. Tisdale and Mrs. H. K. Touchstone. After the program and business a "social hour" was enjoyed by the members. Miss Pat Hall, one of the YRG girls, served as a guide for those who wanted to see the Y Building and residence.

Y-Teens

The Blue Triangle Club of Lenwil School met on Wednesday with Glenda Owens, president, presiding. The meeting was opened with the Y-Teen song. Eyvonne Greer, gave the devotional: A poem. One new member, Carol Satterfield, was presented to the group by the membership chairman. The program was a trio: Katherine Funderburk, Mildred Haley, and Barbara Sue Crain, singing: "Down On My Knees." During the business meeting the group discussed having a Halloween party and the social committee, composed of Katherine Funderburk, Ruth Coates, Katherine Rawls, and Eyvonne Greer, will present the plans at the next meeting. Betty Bennett, treasurer, gave a financial report. The meeting was closed with the Y-Teen motto.

Y-Wives

On Wednesday morning a group met at the Y. W. C. A. to reorganize their group of young matrons. Mrs. Dora Lee Kilpatrick acted as the chairman for the meeting. Those who were present were: Dora Lee Kilpatrick, Lucille Potter, Dorothy Romero, Bonnie Lane, Mary Eason, Dorothy Perkins, LaRue Davis, Lillian Smith, Shirley Mosely, and Betty Orange. The group will meet again on Wednesday, October 25th, and extends a welcome to young matrons and homemakers to be present. The program will be an exchange of ideas for "gifts easy to make" for Christmas. Programs of: flower arranging classes, hatmaking, interior decorating, ceramics, figurine painting, a discussion on laws pertaining to women's ownership of property and the transaction of business, were suggested as the things the group wanted for their club meetings. A short social hour was enjoyed by the group.

TWIN CITY COUNCIL OF CHURCH WOMEN PLANS WORLD COMMUNITY DAY

World Community Day will be observed on Friday, Novembr 2 at 2:30 p. m. in the First Presbyterian Church. The local observance is planned by the Twin City Council of Church Women which joins councils of church women of over eighty Protestant denominations in all parts of the United States in worship services and outgrowing activities on three special days each year. The first Friday in November is designated World Community Day, the first Friday in Lent World Day of Prayer and the first Friday in May is known as May Fellowship Day.

Mrs. J. N. Riddle is chairman of the World Christian Relations Committee of the Twin City Council which has the responsibility for World Community Day services. Members of the committee are Mrs. R. O. Ware, Mrs. C. H. Chisholm, Mrs. D. C. Metcalf and Mrs. George Hemphill.

The committee has secured as the speaker for the afternoon program Mrs. H. D. Haberyan of Shreveport, president of the Louisiana Council of Church Women.

The general department for united church women of the National Churches of Christ in the United States sponsors the day and outlines the theme as well as the projects. This year's theme, "Live Thy Faith", is a call to church women to renew their faith and translate that renewed faith into increased effort for a more Christian world order.

The projects this year are: Ecumenisal scholarship funds and aid for the homeless of the world. The contribution for ecumenical scholarships will make it possible for young peoples from many lands to obtain specialized training in preparation for more effective leadership in their homeland churches and communities.

For the homeless overseas church women in approximately 1,800 councils will collect lightweight blankets (cotton, wool or both), afghans and knitted, crocheted or sewed squares of material. In addition, the women are sending pennies for shipping and processing.

The call to join in this day of demonstrating a living faith is issued to all church women of this area.

TWIN CITY COUNCIL OF CHURCH WOMEN PLANS WORLD COMMUNITY DAY

World Community Day will be observed on Friday, Novembr 2 at 2:30 p. m. in the First Presbyterian Church. The local observance is planned by the Twin City Council of Church Women which joins councils of church women of over eighty Protestant denominations in all parts of the United States in worship services and outgrowing activities on three special days each year. The first Friday in November is designated World Community Day, the first Friday in Lent World Day of Prayer and the first Friday in May is known as May Fellowship Day.

Mrs. J. N. Riddle is chairman of the World Christian Relations Committee of the Twin City Council which has the responsibility for World Community Day services. Members of the committee are Mrs. R. O. Ware, Mrs. C. H. Chisholm, Mrs. D. C. Metcalf and Mrs. George Hemphill.

The committee has secured as the speaker for the afternoon program Mrs. H. D. Haberyan of Shreveport, president of the Louisiana Council of Church Women.

The general department for united church women of the National Churches of Christ in the United States sponsors the day and outlines the theme as well as the projects. This year's theme, "Live Thy Faith", is a call to church women to renew their faith and translate that renewed faith into increased effort for a more Christian world order.

The projects this year are: Ecumenisal scholarship funds and aid for the homeless of the world. The contribution for ecumenical scholarships will make it possible for young peoples from many lands to obtain specialized training in preparation for more effective leadership in their homeland churches and communities.

For the homeless overseas church women in approximately 1,800 councils will collect lightweight blankets (cotton, wool or both), afghans and knitted, crocheted or sewed squares of material. In addition, the women are sending pennies for shipping and processing.

The call to join in this day of demonstrating a living faith is issued to all church women ot this area.

New Sparkle for Bedtime Designs

By Galle Dugas

(NEA Woman's Editor)

New York — (NEA) — Bedtime fashions that glow with color have been given added glamor this fall with touches of nylon embroidery, tiny rhinestone studs, velvet ribbons and frothy nylon laces.

Frequently, these gowns are pretty enough to go to a party. Colors are soft blue, deep coral, shell pink, sand, foam white and aqua. Most gowns have matching robes or brief boudoir jackets.

A pegnoir, for instance, in sand nylon tricot (left) is worn over a matching gown. Chantilly lace is used for yoke, cuff and pocket details in this ensemble by Colura. Tiny rhinestone studs glitter a finishing touch to the luxury of this robe.

A gown that's practically a party dress (right) is a sheath of pink nylon tricot topped by a gown of pale blue nylon net. Over this goes a little bed - jacket of sky - blue rabbit fur. The Empire - influenced jacket has a deep U neckline, elbow length sleeves and is fastened frontwise by a trio of rhinestone stick - pins. Imagine how pretty you'd look if the house burned down!

Key Play Was The Discarded Heart

By Oswald Jacoby

The Mid-South Championships, one of the most important tournaments of the year, will be in full swing at New Orleans a week from today. A combination of players from New Orleans and Texas who won last year's team championship will make a strong bid to keep the trophy for another year.

The hand shown today was played by Dr. Richard Greene, of New Orleans, in last year's team event. The hand makes it easy to see why his team won the championship.

When the hand was played first, in the other room, dummy took the opening lead with the ace of diamonds, and declarer drew three rounds of trumps before beginning the clubs. East won the first club and returned a diamond, forcing South to ruff. East then won the second round of clubs and again returned a diamond, leaving South with one trump while West had two trumps.

The contract was now hopeless. West could ruff the fourth club or the second heart, whichever declarer tried to lead. West could then lead back his last diamond to force out declarer's last trump; and then West was sure of a second trump trick. Two trumps and two clubs were enough, of course, to defeat the contract.

When Dr. Greene played the hand, he discarded a heart on dummy's ace of diamonds at the first trick and then drew only one round of trumps. As soon as the bad trump situation showed up, Dr. Greene abondoned the trumps in order to develop the clubs.

East took the jack of clubs with the queen to lead a diamond, and South ruffed. East then took the king of clubs with the ace to lead another diamond, and South ruffed again. The big difference was that dummy still had a trump.

Declarer next cashed the ten of clubs and followed with the nine of clubs. Dummy discarded the last diamond on this card, and West could ruff or discard—as he pleased.

West saw he could not gain by ruffing, so he discarded his singleton heart. Dr. Greene then led a heart. West had to ruff this time, but still could not defeat the contract. If he returned a diamond, dummy could ruff, and South's high trumps would then win the rest. If West returned a trump, South could draw trumps safely and take a top heart.

The key play, of course, was to leave a trump in dummy to stop the diamonds eventually.

Today's Question

The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spades Q-10-4, Hearts K-3, Diamonds A-J-7-5-2, Clubs 9-8-6. What do you do?

Answer Monday

CARD Sense

Q—With East-West vulnerable, the bidding has been:

East, 1 Heart; South, Pass; West Pass; North, Double.

East, Pass; South ?.

You, South, hold: Spades 10-4, Hearts 6-3, Diamonds A-Q-7-5-2, Clubs K-J-9-8. What do you do?

A—Bid two diamonds. This is about as good a h ans daoycanu about as good a hand as you can have, considering the fact that you could not bid over one heart. Nevertheless it is wise to bid with restraint. If your partner has only a mediocre hand (quite possible), you will still be safe. If he has a good hand, he will bid again and then you can take strong action.

Girl Scout News

Next Sunday, remember, is Girl Scout Sunday. We hope to hear of many troops that attend church in uniform and in a body on that day. Good idea to see that uniforms are freshly laundered for this week so girls will look as spic and span as they ought when appearing in uniform.

Leaders of Troop 28 tell us that their troop is completely outfitted with the new teen-age uniform and that the girls look cute as pie in them. We hear that this troop is busy planning their observance of church day in Girl Scout week and a boy and girl Halloween party for another day. Under the leadership of Mrs. Tom Davenport and Mrs. Henry Hinkle these girls do their own planning with a minimum of guidance — just the true Girl Scout way of doing.

Wonder what other troops are planning. Seems we heard that troop 35 under the leadership of Mrs. J. C. Dickerson is planning a court of awards for next week to present badges earned during the spring and summer. The girls plan to make the occasion a family affair with parents and friends having a chance to learn more about the Girl Scout program. Sounds nice!

We've heard an inkling too of citizenship projects but we just don't know enough details to tell you. Monday in Girl Scout week is homemaking day; Tuesday is citizenship; Wednesday, health and safety; Thursday, International Friendship Day; Friday, arts crafts and Saturday, out of doors day. In many cases, troops will observe the day on which they meet. Speaking of international friendship, the Leader Magazine for October has some excellent suggestions for troop program in the international friendship field.

Camp committee of the council has invited our troops and parents and friends to visit our troop camp site on next Sunday afternoon, October 28 and again on the afternoon of November 4. They hope that many families will come to see the recent improvements and to see how pretty the woods are in the fall.

The road is no longer dusty nor full of mud holes, but just right. There are several ways to go, the shortest being to follow Girl Scout signs from a point about a half mile from the end of the Sterlington bridge. Shall we see you next Sunday?

TO GIVE CONCERT

John McDonald Lyon, organ virtuoso, of Seattle, Wash., will be presented at the First Methodist Church auditorium in Lake Providence, November 15, at eight p. m. Mr. Lyon is being sponsored by the church choir.

3 Quartets Will Give Program Thursday

Much interest is being shown throughout north Louisiana of the gospel concert to be held at Neville auditorium Thursday night, Oct. 25th when three of the nations leading quartets, the Statesmen Quartet, the Rangers Quartet and the Blackwood Brothers Quartet move into Monroe for their first appearance together west of the Mississippi river.

This will be the first appearance of the Rangers Quartet here since they had the bad automobile wreck near Shreveport where one member of the quartet was killed and another member, Arnold Hyls was injured so badly that he is still a patient in a Shreveport hospital. The Blackwood Brothers will have R. W. Blackwood back singing baritone with them on this appearance. R. W. has been laid up with a throat ailment and Doyle Blackwood has been singing in his place and was with the quartet in their last two appearances here.

Radio In Japan To Broadcast Religion

For the first time in history the message of Christianity will be broadcast over radio stations in Japan through the Lutheran Hour. This milestone in the forward march of Christianity in this former enemy country was announced in a cablegram from Dr. Eugene R. Bertermann, director of the world's most wide-spread broadcast.

Dr. Bertermann was recently on a tour of the Orient to complete arrangements for broadcasting the Lutheran Hour over various stations in the Far East. Last month he delivered the dedicatory address at the Lutheran Center in Tokyo, and preached in the chapel attended by Gen. Matthew Ridgeway.

What is probably the first contract ever ot be signed between a Christian program and a Japanese radio station has been negotiated with the new 10,000 wat station FOAR in Nagoya, operating on a frequency of 1090 kilocycles. Contracts with other stations, including Station JOOR in Osaka, are pending, Dr. Bertermann noted in his cablegram.

Arrangements were also made for airing the Lutheran Hour on November 4 over the entire 120-station Japanese network, a government operated chain which until now has been the only broadcasting organization in Japan.

"This historic occasion marks a new era in the expansion of Christianity and the Lutheran Hour," commented Paul Friedrich, executive director of the Lutheran Laymen's League, sponsors of the global broadcast, "and we certainly appreciate the brilliant efforts of Dr. Bertermann in his successful negotiations to expand the Lutheran Hour."

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D. S.

Answer To Question No. 1

1. Yes, apparently, if each man is matched with a woman of equal mental ability and training in English. In fact, girls and teenagers from the first grade through college do better on the average in languages than boys and young men. Just why the famous spellers, linguists, dictionary makers and writers are nearly all men is not known. Our booklet, "How To Increase Your Vocabulary, Think Better and Spell Perfectly," sent at cost 15 cents (coin only) plus self - addressed, stamped envelope.

Answer To Question No. 2

2. It is doubtful that men in the mass have ever learned anything especially how to get along with each other. The late biologist Frederick Adams Woods, in his book "Is War Diminishing?", showed that the number of war years have increased and the peace years decreased through the ages. We've learned a little about physics, chemistry, agriculture and breeding better animals, but nothing about breeding better human beings. A few learn a little, but the masses don't — and probably can't.

Answer To Question No. 3

3. Yes. The late psychologist E. L. Thorndike had four right-handers and four left - handers, age 34 to 41, try writing with the opposite hand. In 15 hours practice, with rest periods, they progressed as much as nine - year-olds do after more than 100 hours of practice since starting school. Again he had 33 right-handers, 25 to 35 years old, learn with the left hand. The results were the same.

Increase Your Word Power!

DELHI

A birthday dinner and bridge party honoring Mrs. Charles Brown was given Tuesday night by Mrs. Roy Hammett in her lovely home. The reception rooms were beautiful with their arrangements of roses, mums, greenery and candles. Mrs. Brown was presented with many useful gifts from the hostess and guests.

After a delicious feast of barbecue chicken and all the trimmings, games of bridge were enjoyed. High score was won by Mrs. Brown, consolation went to Mrs. Eva Holt of Lake Providence. Traveling prize being captured by Mrs. V. P. Dalrymple. Other guests present were Mrs. Wilbur Farmer, Mrs. Florence Holt, of Lake Providence, Mrs. Frank McKay, Mrs. J. J. Cuthbert, Jr. and the hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank McKay and children, Frank, Jr., Brenda and Bobby and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brown and sons, Dick and Jim spent the day in Tallulah Wednesday where they attended the Louisiana Delta fair.

Mrs. Carl Harley and children accompanied by Mrs. C. H. Hartley left Tuesday for Delmont, Pa., to join Mr. Hartley who is employed there by Ford, Bacon, and Davis. Mrs. Hartley will return home by plane.

Children in many homes of colonial America were not allowed to sit at the dinner table, but stood during the entire meal.

TO GIVE CONCERT

John McDonald Lyon, organ virtuoso, of Seattle, Wash., will be presented at the First Methodist Church auditorium in Lake Providence, November 15, at eight p. m. Mr. Lyon is being sponsored by the church choir.

3 Quartets Will Give Program Thursday

Much interest is being shown throughout north Louisiana of the gospel concert to be held at Neville auditorium Thursday night, Oct. 25th when three of the nations leading quartets, the Statesmen Quartet, the Rangers Quartet and the Blackwood Brothers Quartet move into Monroe for their first appearance together west of the Mississippi river.

This will be the first appearance of the Rangers Quartet here since they had the bad automobile wreck near Shreveport where one member of the quartet was killed and another member, Arnold Hyls was injured so badly that he is still a patient in a Shreveport hospital. The Blackwood Brothers will have R. W. Blackwood back singing baritone with them on this appearance. R. W. has been laid up with a throat ailment and Doyle Blackwood has been singing in his place and was with the quartet in their last two appearances here.

Radio In Japan To Broadcast Religion

For the first time in history the message of Christianity will be broadcast over radio stations in Japan through the Lutheran Hour. This milestone in the forward march of Christianity in this former enemy country was announced in a cablegram from Dr. Eugene R. Bertermann, director of the world's most wide-spread broadcast.

Dr. Bertermann was recently on a tour of the Orient to complete arrangements for broadcasting the Lutheran Hour over various stations in the Far East. Last month he delivered the dedicatory address at the Lutheran Center in Tokyo, and preached in the chapel attended by Gen. Matthew Ridgeway.

What is probably the first contract ever ot be signed between a Christian program and a Japanese radio station has been negotiated with the new 10,000 wat station FOAR in Nagoya, operating on a frequency of 1090 kilocycles. Contracts with other stations, including Station JOOR in Osaka, are pending, Dr. Bertermann noted in his cablegram.

Arrangements were also made for airing the Lutheran Hour on November 4 over the entire 120-station Japanese network, a government operated chain which until now has been the only broadcasting organization in Japan.

"This historic occasion marks a new era in the expansion of Christianity and the Lutheran Hour," commented Paul Friedrich, executive director of the Lutheran Laymen's League, sponsors of the global broadcast, "and we certainly appreciate the brilliant efforts of Dr. Bertermann in his successful negotiations to expand the Lutheran Hour."

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D. S.

Answer To Question No. 1

1. Yes, apparently, if each man is matched with a woman of equal mental ability and training in English. In fact, girls and teenagers from the first grade through college do better on the average in languages than boys and young men. Just why the famous spellers, linguists, dictionary makers and writers are nearly all men is not known. Our booklet, "How To Increase Your Vocabulary, Think Better and Spell Perfectly," sent at cost 15 cents (coin only) plus self - addressed, stamped envelope.

Answer To Question No. 2

2. It is doubtful that men in the mass have ever learned anything especially how to get along with each other. The late biologist Frederick Adams Woods, in his book "Is War Diminishing?", showed that the number of war years have increased and the peace years decreased through the ages. We've learned a little about physics, chemistry, agriculture and breeding better animals, but nothing about breeding better human beings. A few learn a little, but the masses don't — and probably can't.

Answer To Question No. 3

3. Yes. The late psychologist E. L. Thorndike had four right-handers and four left - handers, age 34 to 41, try writing with the opposite hand. In 15 hours practice, with rest periods, they progressed as much as nine - year-olds do after more than 100 hours of practice since starting school. Again he had 33 right-handers, 25 to 35 years old, learn with the left hand. The results were the same.

Increase Your Word Power!

Words make a great deal of difference in how you impress people. Therefore, you can improve yourself and create a more favorable impression if you read our instructive new booklet "How To Increase Your Word Power, Think Better and Spell Perfectly, with Vocabulary Test of Intelligence."

A birthday dinner and bridge party honoring Mrs. Charles Brown was given Tuesday night by Mrs. Roy Hammett in her lovely home. The reception rooms were beautiful with their arrangements of roses, mums, greenery and candles. Mrs. Brown was presented with many useful gifts from the hostess and guests.

After a delicious feast of barbecue chicken and all the trimmings, games of bridge were enjoyed. High score was won by Mrs. Brown, consolation went to Mrs. Eva Holt of Lake Providence. Traveling prize being captured by Mrs. V. P. Dalrymple. Other guests present were Mrs. Wilbur Farmer, Mrs. Florence Holt, of Lake Providence, Mrs. Frank McKay, Mrs. J. J. Cuthbert, Jr. and the hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank McKay and children, Frank, Jr., Brenda and Bobby and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brown and sons, Dick and Jim spent the day in Tallulah Wednesday where they attended the Louisiana Delta fair.

Mrs. Carl Harley and children accompanied by Mrs. C. H. Hartley left Tuesday for Delmont, Pa., to join Mr. Hartley who is employed there by Ford, Bacon, and Davis. Mrs. Hartley will return home by plane.

Children in many homes of colonial America were not allowed to sit at the dinner table, but stood during the entire meal.

KEY CLUB FORMS TOPIC OF TALK

Joe Milner, Former District Governor, Tells Work Of Group

The Monroe Kiwanis Club was privileged to hear a most inspiring talk by Joe Milner, former Ouachita Parish High School student and past district governor of the Key Club. Mr. Milner, who is now a student at Northeast Louisiana State College, told the club what Key Clubs mean to boys and how it aids the community and the boys themselves. Key Clubs throughout the United States and Canada are sponsored by Kiwanis Clubs. Mr. Milner stated that Key Clubs were service clubs and is open to any boy who has good character, leadership, and scholastic standing.

Key Clubs derive their name in that the boys in the clubs are key students in their particular high schools. They develop iniative and leadership in boys and enable them to improve themselves and at the same time do worthwhile projects for their school, community and nation.

Mr. Milner told of a true case concerning a boy who was shy and had moved to Monroe from another state. Though he wanted to take an interest in extra curricular activities, his shyness prevented it. He was taken into the Key Club and there learned to lose his shyness in the process of serving the Key Club. That boy was the speaker.

In his very interesting and entertaining speech, Mr. Milner told the club that Key Clubs are good investments. The interest rate is tremendous in that the youth of the community are taught leadership and character. He praised the Kiwanis Club as being "bankers of youth" by their sponsorship of Key Clubs.

Bill Funderburk, president of the O. P. H. S. Key Club, introduced Mr. Milner to the club. It was a thrilling experience to each Kiwanian at the meeting to hear such an excellent talk from one of the boys who was a member of the Kiwanis sponsored Key Club at Ouachita Parish High School.

DOROTHY DIX

Bachelor's Problem

Should He Marry If He's Happy Living At Home?

DOROTHY DIX

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a young man, the youngest of six children. My brothers and sisters are all married and I live with my parents. I have been extremely fortunate in that I have lived in a well-adjusted home and have received more than my share of love and attention. But I am not completely happy. I feel a definite lack in my life.

My parents have no ties on me; they are aged, it is true, but independent. I believe my solution to real happiness rests in getting married. On the whole, I enjoy being with people of the opposite sex but I have never had a desire to marry, have never fallen genuinely in love, and children in general "get on my nerves."

Sometimes I feel a certain envy when I am around a happily married couple. Then too, I realize that this present arrangement of living with parents, while convenient and wonderful, cannot last forever. That is what worries me, and makes me feel I should do something about it. Have you any suggestions? C. F.

ANSWER: Marriage and the propagation of the race are the natural destinies of man, and unless these purposes are fulfilled there is bound to be a sense of futility in life. However, no existence, married or unmarried, is perfect; sometimes the unmarried achieve a larger sense of happiness and contentment than is ever experienced by those whose matrimonial experiences have been horrible failures.

MARRIAGE IS A GAMBLE

At present, you are surrounded by love, security and harmony. Marriage insures none of these. You, therefore, are confronted with a choice of sticking to the blessings you have or flying to those "ye wot not of."

Bachelorhood has its advantages, and you do well to consider them carefully before venturing into the uncertainties of wedded bliss (or misery).

Now all these little homilies sound very well, but the crux of your whole position lies in the fact that you have not yet met the girl with whom you can fall in love. And you most assuredly will! It happens to everyone! When she comes along, you'll forget all the advantages of living home with the folks, all your forebodings about marriage, and even children will suddenly all blossom into little angels whose company you adore.

I don't think you are at all in need of psychiatric care. You simple haven't found what you want. Continue to enjoy the company of girls and you'll soon find one whose smile chases all your doubts away.

DEAR MISS DIX: My 22-year-old daughter was engaged for nine months to a very nice, sociable boy who loves her very much. She, however, is very moody and always wants her own way. She is constantly picking arguments with him. Now she has told me she doesn't love him, and he wants me to intercede for him. I feel very bad about this as he is a nice boy and she has been very mean to him. Should she return his ring and gifts? D. M.

ANSWER: There's nothing you can do to win your daughter back to her boy friend, but since she doesn't love him, and hasn't treated him too well, I should think he's better off without her. Since he has chosen you for his confidante, try to make him see the situation in this light. He's better off learning these things now than if he had married, then found out your daughter was spoiled.

The ring must be returned, gifts may be kept or returned, depending upon their value and the occasions for which they were given. A birthday or Christmas gift, not too costly, may be retained.

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a girl of 15 with a talent for music. I play the guitar and sing. Someday I hope to sing over the radio. My problem is bashfulness. Even though I have sung in public a few times, I get so self-conscious I'm afraid I'll never realize my ambition. How can I overcome this fault? BROWNIE

ANSWER: No one with your accomplishments should be self-conscious. When you are singing, think only of your audience, and not of yourself. After all, putting all thoughts of self in the background is the only way to appear at ease in public. I hope you'll get the chance you want and will be successful in your career.

JACOBY ON CANASTA

By Oswald Jacoby

Samba Is Similar To Canasta

This is the third and last of a series of articles describing Samba (three-pack Canasta), the new and light-hearted form of Canasta that has become so popular in the last year.

We have just noted the way of taking the discard pile for a sequence. For an ordinary meld, you may take the previous discard to add to a meld that was on the table before your turn began provided that the pack is not frozen and that your meld is not already a canasta.

For example, the player at your right discards a king, and you have three to six kings on the table. If the pack is not frozen, you may pick up that king and add it to your meld. That naturally entitles you to the rest of the discard pile.

If you want to take the discard pile for a new meld, you must have a natural pair in your hand. You are never allowed to take the pile with one matching card and one wild card. The fact that your side has already made its initial meld makes no difference.

You are allowed to make more than one meld in the same rank. For example, you may meld three queens and then start another meld of queens. This is a poor idea, of course, but you often make a canasta of queens and then start a new meld of queens.

Wild cards have only a limited value in Samba. You may use two at most in any meld (and none at all in a sequence). When a canasta is complete, you may add natural cards to it from your hand, but you are not allowed to add wild cards to it even if the canasta contains fewer than the limit of two wild cards.

In order to go out, you need two canastas. For this purpose a samba counts as a canasta. You may have two sambas, two canastas, or one of each. The bonus for going out is 200 points. There is no extra bonus for going out concealed.

There are six black threes, used as stop cards, as in Canasta. When you meld out, you may meld three or more black threes — but no wild card with them.

There are six red threes, worth 200 points each. All six count 1,000 points (but four are only 400, and five are only 500 points). Red threes count in your favor only after you have melded two canastas; up to that time they count against you.

All other rules are the same as ordinary Canasta.

Mr. Jacoby is unable to answer individual questions on Canasta from readers. However, he will include the most frequently asked questions in his column.

NATIONAL GUARD

Cpl. Gene O. Greer, the "flagpole sitter" of the Big Eye, that is Company "I" Louisiana National Guard descended from his lofty perch 25 feet above the armory on South Grant st., last Tuesday morning after a successful tour of recruiting. The unique stunt to enlarge the local units of the National Guard was very successful according to Lt. James L. Roberts, commanding officer of Company "I". Cpl. Greer was a very weary and experienced guardsman when he descended from the weathery boudoir 100 ft. above the rest of the Twin Cities and he was highly commended by Lt. Roberts for his fruitful efforts.

The local officers of the National Guard, members of the 199th Infantry regiment, commanded by Col. George W. Trousdale, will assemble at Camp Livingston, Sunday to participate in a scheduled simulated retrograde movement in the field. This is one of the many scheduled problems to keep these local officers informed of new tactics and movements learned from officers just back from Korea.

This is necessary for the proper training of an efficient National Guard. These officers donate their own time for these extra conferences. This column urges the hundreds of young men who were reclassified as 1-A last week by the local board to contact the local National Guard units at 218 S. Grand St., and the unit in Bastrop and Ruston and learn how they may remain at home and train with the "guard". Many choice openings are available for qualified young men.

KEY CLUB FORMS TOPIC OF TALK

Joe Milner, Former District Governor, Tells Work Of Group

The Monroe Kiwanis Club was privileged to hear a most inspiring talk by Joe Milner, former Ouachita Parish High School student and past district governor of the Key Club. Mr. Milner, who is now a student at Northeast Louisiana State College, told the club what Key Clubs mean to boys and how it aids the community and the boys themselves. Key Clubs throughout the United States and Canada are sponsored by Kiwanis Clubs. Mr. Milner stated that Key Clubs were service clubs and is open to any boy who has good character, leadership, and scholastic standing.

Key Clubs derive their name in that the boys in the clubs are key students in their particular high schools. They develop iniative and leadership in boys and enable them to improve themselves and at the same time do worthwhile projects for their school, community and nation.

Mr. Milner told of a true case concerning a boy who was shy and had moved to Monroe from another state. Though he wanted to take an interest in extra curricular activities, his shyness prevented it. He was taken into the Key Club and there learned to lose his shyness in the process of serving the Key Club. That boy was the speaker.

In his very interesting and entertaining speech, Mr. Milner told the club that Key Clubs are good investments. The interest rate is tremendous in that the youth of the community are taught leadership and character. He praised the Kiwanis Club as being "bankers of youth" by their sponsorship of Key Clubs.

Bill Funderburk, president of the O. P. H. S. Key Club, introduced Mr. Milner to the club. It was a thrilling experience to each Kiwanian at the meeting to hear such an excellent talk from one of the boys who was a member of the Kiwanis sponsored Key Club at Ouachita Parish High School.

DOROTHY DIX

Bachelor's Problem

Should He Marry If He's Happy Living At Home?

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a young man, the youngest of six children. My brothers and sisters are all married and I live with my parents. I have been extremely fortunate in that I have lived in a well-adjusted home and have received more than my share of love and attention. But I am not completely happy. I feel a definite lack in my life.

My parents have no ties on me; they are aged, it is true, but independent. I believe my solution to real happiness rests in getting married. On the whole, I enjoy being with people of the opposite sex but I have never had a desire to marry, have never fallen genuinely in love, and children in general "get on my nerves."

DOROTHY DIX

Sometimes I feel a certain envy when I am around a happily married couple. Then too, I realize that this present arrangement of living with parents, while convenient and wonderful, cannot last forever. Answer to Previous Puzzle

JACOBY ON CANASTA

By Oswald Jacoby

Samba Is Similar To Canasta

This is the third and last of a series of articles describing Samba (three-pack Canasta), the new and light-hearted form of Canasta that has become so popular in the last year.

We have just noted the way of taking the discard pile for a sequence. For an ordinary meld, you may take the previous discard to add to a meld that was on the table before your turn began provided that the pack is not frozen and that your meld is not already a canasta.

For example, the player at your right discards a king, and you have three to six kings on the table. If the pack is not frozen, you may pick up that king and add it to your meld. That naturally entitles you to the rest of the discard pile.

If you want to take the discard pile for a new meld, you must have a natural pair in your hand. You are never allowed to take the pile with one matching card and one wild card. The fact that your side has already made its initial meld makes no difference.

You are allowed to make more than one meld in the same rank. For example, you may meld three queens and then start another meld of queens. This is a poor idea, of course, but you often make a canasta of queens and then start a new meld of queens.

Wild cards have only a limited value in Samba. You may use two at most in any meld (and none at all in a sequence). When a canasta is complete, you may add natural cards to it from your hand, but you are not allowed to add wild cards to it even if the canasta contains fewer than the limit of two wild cards.

In order to go out, you need two canastas. For this purpose a samba counts as a canasta. You may have two sambas, two canastas, or one of each. The bonus for going out is 200 points. There is no extra bonus for going out concealed.

There are six black threes, used as stop cards, as in Canasta. When you meld out, you may meld three or more black threes — but no wild card with them.

There are six red threes, worth 200 points each. All six count 1,000 points (but four are only 400, and five are only 500 points). Red threes count in your favor only after you have melded two canastas; up to that time they count against you.

All other rules are the same as ordinary Canasta.

Mr. Jacoby is unable to answer individual questions on Canasta from readers. However, he will include the most frequently asked questions in his column.

Trousdale, will assemble at Camp Livingston, Sunday to participate in a scheduled simulated retrograde movement in the field. This is one of the many scheduled problems to keep these local officers informed of new tactics and movements learned from officers just back from Korea.

This is necessary for the proper training of an efficient National Guard. These officers donate their own time for these extra conferences. This column urges the hundreds of young men who were reclassified as 1-A last week by the local board to contact the local National Guard units at 218 S. Grand St., and the unit in Bastrop and Ruston and learn how they may remain at home and train with the "guard". Many choice openings are available for qualified young men.

BOOK FESTIVAL IS SCHEDULED

Those For Adults As Well As Children To Be In Limelight

Baton Rouge, La., Oct. 20.—Books for adults will share the limelight with books for children and young people at the state library's Book Festival in Baton Rouge Oct. 25-27.

Ouachita parish will be represented at the festival by Miss Frances Flanders, librarian of the Ouachita parish public library; Miss Lucy Moore, librarian of the West Monroe branch and Mrs. J. B. Landreaux, bookmobile librarian.

Planned to encourage interest in reading, the festival program will include talks by book specialists, followed by group discussions, film showings, and special exhibits of books for examination. Featured throughout will be the American Library associaton's 75th anniversary theme, "Heritage of the USA in Time of Crisis."

All meetings will be in Pleasant Hall on the L. S. U. campus.

Elizabeth Riley, children's editor of Crowell publishers, New York, will be the first speaker at 2:30 p. m. Oct. 25, following a morning business session for librarians. She will discuss "Books That Interpret the American Heritage to Young People." Her second talk, scheduled for 9 a.m. Oct. 27, will be on books for young adults.

Two talks will be given by Walter Watkins of Laurel, Miss., author and former L. S. U. professor. He will speak at 8 p. m. Oct. 25 on "Trends in Contemporary Fiction with Emphasis on William Faulkner." His talk at 9 o'clock Friday morning, Oct. 26, will be on "Reassessment of the American Tradition."

Frank Wardlaw, director of the University of Texas press, will be speaker at the Oct. 26 evening meeting.

Special showings of 16 mm films on American heritage are scheduled for Oct. 25, 4:30 to 5:30 p.m.; Oct. 26, 11 a. m. to 12 noon, and 4 to 5:30 p. m.

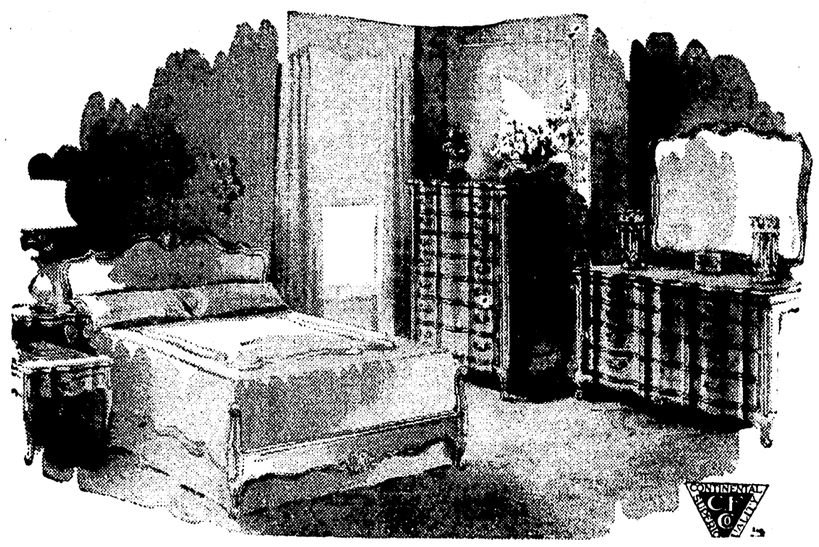

The public is cordially invited to the Book Festival, State Librarian Essae M. Culver has announced. Although planned for librarians, the programs are open to any interested individual, she said. The L. S. U. library school is cooperating with the state library in sponsoring the event. Sallie Farrell, state library field representative, is general chairman.

CONCERTS WEEK IS PROCLAIMED

Campaign Is Being Conducted For Bringing Artist Here

The following proclamation has been issued by Mayor John E. Coon of Monroe and Mayor C. C. Bell, Jr., of West Monroe:

The Twin Cities Concerts, Inc., affiliated with Community Concerts Service, is holding its annual campaign for members for the purpose of assuring a series of concerts by world - famous artists during the coming season.

Every community is improved by the advantages of schools, churches, libraries and all organizations of a cultural nature. The availability of fine music presented by authoritative musicians is another advantage which will be of inestimable benefit to those making their homes in this area.

Such cultural advantages become even more important to thoughtful people in times of stress and world crisis as among the more valuable elements of our national heritage. These things are sustained by the work and effort of such citizens as the officers and workers of Twin Cities Concerts, Inc.

Therefore, as mayors of Monroe and West Monroe, we proclaim this week of October 22 to 27 officially as Twin Cities Concerts Week.

John E. Coon, Mayor of Monroe.
C. C. Bell, Jr., Mayor of West Monroe.

Taking Applications For Scientific Posts

Applications for federal civil service appointments to entrance level professional and scientific positions in all branches of engineering, physics, chemistry, and electronics are being accepted by the tenth U. S. civil service regional office, federal office building, New Orleans, La., according to a statement issued today by A. J. Leach, regional director.

Entrance salaries for these jobs which are located in various federal agencies in Louisiana and Mississippi are $3,100 and $3,825 a year. Probational appointments conferring permanent career civil service status will be made to meet positions. Excellent promotional opportunities, liberal vacation leave, and an attractive retirement system are among the inducements offered.

Applicants will not be required to take a written examination, but they must meet the educational or experience requirements established for the position for which they apply. Applications will also be accepted from senior students in colleges and universities who expect to complete all courses required to qualify by June 30, 1952.

CENTRAL P.-T. A. IN MONTHLY MEET

Reports Rendered Of 5th District Program And Fall Workshop

On Thursday afternoon after school, October 18, the regular monthly meeting of the Central Grammar P.- T. A. was held in the school auditorium. Following an opening prayer led by Mrs. Brannan, and the pledge to the flag, the children of the two second grade rooms presented the program. Under the leadership of Mrs. Edna Andrews and Mrs. Eulalia McCoy the children, wearing appropriate costumes, sang songs and gave readings in keeping with the Halloween season.

During the business session which followed, Mr. Boggs praised the organization for its growth this year, and introduced Mrs. Shurr, the new teacher of one of the fifth grades. Mrs. Melton reported on the school of instruction and the fifth district meeting in Columbia. Mrs. Virgil Crawford told about the P.-T. A. Workshop held at L. S. U. during the summer. Mrs. Mattie Rogers then read the 1951 budget and a discussion followed in which various projects for the year were mentioned, including the buying of primary playground equipment, additional drinking fountains, and welfare for needy children. It was announced that beginning with next month's meeting, a nursery for small children will be kept in the kindergarten room during the time of the meeting. It was also announced that a contest is to be held to see which room can get most mothers to join P.-T. A. by next month.

Following the business session delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. J. T. Horton, Mrs. Clifford La France, Mrs. J. E. Brennon, Mrs. C. E. Gibson, Mrs. A. B. Worley, and Mrs. James Davis.

CENTRAL P.-T. A. IN MONTHLY MEET

Reports Rendered Of 5th District Program And Fall Workshop

On Thursday afternoon after school, October 18, the regular monthly meeting of the Central Grammar P.- T. A. was held in the school auditorium. Following an opening prayer led by Mrs. Brannan, and the pledge to the flag, the children of the two second grade rooms presented the program. Under the leadership of Mrs. Edna Andrews and Mrs. Eulalia McCoy the children, wearing appropriate costumes, sang songs and gave readings in keeping with the Halloween season.

During the business session which followed, Mr. Boggs praised the organization for its growth this year, and introduced Mrs. Shurr, the new teacher of one of the fifth grades. Mrs. Melton reported on the school of instruction and the fifth district meeting in Columbia. Mrs. Virgil Crawford told about the P.-T. A. Workshop held at L. S. U. during the summer. Mrs. Mattie Rogers then read the 1952 budget and a discussion followed in which various projects for the year were mentioned, including the buying of primary playground equipment, additional drinking fountains, and welfare for needy children. It was announced that beginning with next month's meeting, a nursery for small children will be kept in the kindergarten room during the time of the meeting. It was also announced that a contest is to be held to see which room can get most mothers to join P.-T. A. by next month.

Following the business session delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. J. T. Horton, Mrs. Clifford La France, Mrs. J. E. Brennon, Mrs. C. E. Gibson, Mrs. A. B. Worley, and Mrs. James Davis.

LOCAL TEACHERS AT CONVENTION

St. Matthew's Instructors Attend Convention In Natchitoches

Northwestern College, Natchitoches, was host Saturday to the teachers of English in Louisiana. Sister M. Bridget, D. C., and Sister M. Dorothea, D. C., of St. Matthew's grade and high school, were among delegates attending the convention in Louisiana's oldest city. The sisters arrived at the college campus about 9:00 that morning, and after registering were favored with observing demonstrations in the teaching of English both on the elementary level, and on that of the high school. Mrs. Genie Livingston of Natchitoches Elementary School, and Miss Mary Robson, of the Natchitoches High School presented the demonstrations. The climax of the day's convention came with the address of Mr. Paul Farmer, president of the national council of teachers of English. . .Louisiana State University also has been host this week to a group of Louisiana's teachers. The Louisiana Library Association was in session on the state university grounds from Thursday, October 18 through Friday, October 19. Sister Magdalen, D. C., librarian of St. Matthew's School was among the teacher - guests in attendance.

Activities are proceeding at a maximum rate at St. Matthew's. Those that seem to be attracting immediate attention are football, with an out-of-state game scheduled between the Fighting Irish and the Dragons of Junction City, Arkansas. . .Then the newly organized accordion band players seem to be making fast progress in their field. Numbers rendered over KNOE in the school broadcast by Evy Lee Ritter and Anna Marie Danna gave clear evidence that the progress is going by leaps and bounds. . .Sodality members are up for a word of praise with the initiation of the Block Rosary and their plans for other great projects in the near future.

LIVESTOCK TOPS FAIR EXHIBITS

Concordia Parish Makes Unusually Fine Showing Of Stock

Ferriday, La., Oct. 20.—(Special)—Among the outstanding features of the Concordia parish fair held Monday through Saturday at Ferriday, the limelight was taken on Thursday and Friday by the livestock show, judging of all exhibits and the baby show Friday afternoon.

The fair was held for the second time in Ferriday. Officers of the Concordia Fair Association are Hartwell Bairnsfather, president; T. A. Reeves, first vice-president; R. W. Kemp, secretary-treasurer; all of Monterey and Henry Godchaux, third vice-president and Mrs. Jules C. Glanton, assistant secretary and treasurer of Ferriday.

The classes and those in charge of each class were: corn, T. A. Reeves; hay, forage crops and sugar cane, Lester May Thompson; fruits and nuts, Bruce Thompson, root and vegetable crops; W. P. Cross, poultry and eggs, livestock.

Women's division: canned fruits and vegetables, Mrs. Mary Jane Cross; pickles, Mrs. C. A. Campbell; preserves, Mrs. George Loomis; jellies, jams and cakes, Mrs. J. Francis.

Textile: Mrs. W. J. Wilson, flowers; Mrs. U. B. Evans, FFA or 4-H exhibits; Alex Langford.

The better babies contest was held Friday. First and second prizes were given in six classes: boy, six to 12 months; boy 12 to 24 months; boy 24 to 36 months; girl six to 12 months; girl 12 to 24 months; girl 24 to 36 months. The livestock show was held in the auction barn on Friday with judging at 10 a. m. by E. E. Johnson, Harrisonburg, Catahoula parish county agent.

The exposition was well attended and as result the association realized a neat sum from the shows on the midway and other attractions.

Hunting Season For Waterfowl Disclosed

The state department of wild life and fisheries recently announced the time schedule for hunting migratory waterfowl in Louisiana. This law applies to ducks, geese, coots, rails, and gallinules.

The legal shooting hours for 1951-52 are one half hour before sunrise to one hour before sunset.

The open season on ducks, geese, and coots will be November 2 to December 16 inclusive. Dove season will begin December 1 and end December 30. Open season on rails and gallinules began September 1 and will close October 30. Woodcock open season will begin December 22 to January 20.

GAVEL FROM CALIFORNIA

Singapore —(AP)— The lord president of Singapore's city council is wielding a new gavel.

It is a gift from Mayor Elmer E. Robinson, of San Francisco.

The gavel, made from the wood of a 2,000 year-old California giant redwood tree, was flown here and handed over by U. S. Vice-consul Oscar Armstrong to T. P. F. McNeice.

NO ONE INDICTED

Jonesville, Oct. 20.—(Special)—The Catahoula parish grand jury considered three bills of information when it met this week, but no indictments were returned.

Here is an excerpt from a letter written by a Louisiana Cotton Farmer which describes our present cotton situation.

" . . . The 1951 crop is by far the most expensive in history and yet cotton is selling today from fifty to sixty dollars per bale under the ceiling prices at which it was selling when this crop was planted.

At that time, the South was urged to raise a sixteen-million bale crop, as this was the very minimum needed for domestic consumption and export to friendly nations. It was emphasized that this amount would leave no surplus and shouldn't depress the market. The market did hold at or near ceiling prices until the crop was planted and until the merchants had disposed of 1950 holdings.

Textiles then and now are selling on a basis of at least 50c raw cotton. If you doubt it, see the prices the farmer is paying for cotton-picking sacks . . . "

WILL IT HAPPEN AGAIN?

There are a number of very sound reasons why higher prices should prevail later on. We advise you to place your cotton in the Mid-South Loan and hold on for awhile. Those who have patronized Mid-South's Loan and Marketing program during the past years, have benefited by using it.

We no longer advise farmers to sell above the loan (floor), but to sell as near ceiling prices (top) as possible.

What is the age of GLAMOUR?

The age of glamour is any age at which a woman's beauty and charm make her most fascinating! She's seldom under "30"...she's usually in her "40's" or older...and she invariably devotes time and care to keep her skin naturally lovely and youthful looking . . . without the use of "cover-up" cosmetics.

For over 15 years, thousands of women have achieved this naturally youthful look with Endocreme . . . because Endocreme, with its exclusive hormone ingredient "Activol" actually regenerates ageing skin cells and tissue for most women . . . smooths out lines and wrinkles . . . firms up the skin . . . makes it look more youthful. Isn't it worth finding out for yourself? A full month's supply only $3.50 plus tax.

LOCAL TEACHERS AT CONVENTION

St. Matthew's Instructors Attend Convention In Natchitoches

Northwestern College, Natchitoches, was host Saturday to the teachers of English in Louisiana. Sister M. Bridget, D. C., and Sister M. Dorothea, D. C., of St. Matthew's grade and high school, were among delegates attending the convention in Louisiana's oldest city. The sisters arrived at the college campus about 9:00 that morning, and after registering were favored with observing demonstrations in the teaching of English both on the elementary level, and on that of the high school. Mrs. Genie Livingston of Natchitoches Elementary School, and Miss Mary Robson, of the Natchitoches High School presented the demonstrations. The climax of the day's convention came with the address of Mr. Paul Farmer, president of the national council of teachers of English. . .Louisiana State University also has been host this week to a group of Louisiana's teachers. The Louisiana Library Association was in session on the state university grounds from Thursday, October 18 through Friday, October 19. Sister Magdalen, D. C., librarian of St. Matthew's School was among the teacher - guests in attendance.

Activities are proceeding at a maximum rate at St. Matthew's. Those that seem to be attracting immediate attention are football, with an out-of-state game scheduled between the Fighting Irish and the Dragons of Junction City, Arkansas. . .Then the newly organized accordion band players seem to be making fast progress in their field. Numbers rendered over KNOE in the school broadcast by Evy Lee Ritter and Anna Marie Danna gave clear evidence that the progress is going by leaps and bounds. . .Sodality members are up for a word of praise with the initiation of the Block Rosary and their plans for other great projects in the near future.

LIVESTOCK TOPS FAIR EXHIBITS

Concordia Parish Makes Unusually Fine Showing Of Stock

Ferriday, La., Oct. 20.—(Special)—Among the outstanding features of the Concordia parish fair held Monday through Saturday at Ferriday, the limelight was taken on Thursday and Friday by the livestock show, judging of all exhibits and the baby show Friday afternoon.

The fair was held for the second time in Ferriday. Officers of the Concordia Fair Association are Hartwell Bairnsfather, president; T. A. Reeves, first vice-president; R. W. Kemp, secretary-treasurer; all of Monterey and Henry Godchaux, third vice-president and Mrs. Jules C. Glanton, assistant secretary and treasurer of Ferriday.

The classes and those in charge of each class were: corn, T. A. Reeves; hay, forage crops and sugar cane, Lester May Thompson; fruits and nuts, Bruce Thompson, root and vegetable crops; W. P. Cross, poultry and eggs, livestock.

Women's division: canned fruits and vegetables, Mrs. Mary Jane Cross; pickles, Mrs. C. A. Campbell; preserves, Mrs. George Loomis; jellies, jams and cakes, Mrs. J. Francis.

Textile: Mrs. W. J. Wilson, flowers; Mrs. U. B. Evans, FFA or 4-H exhibits; Alex Langford.

The better babies contest was held Friday. First and second prizes were given in six classes: boy, six to 12 months; boy 12 to 24 months; boy 24 to 36 months; girl six to 12 months; girl 12 to 24 months; girl 24 to 36 months. The livestock show was held in the auction barn on Friday with judging at 10 a. m. by E. E. Johnson, Harrisonburg, Catahoula parish county agent.

The exposition was well attended and as result the association realized a neat sum from the shows on the midway and other attractions.

Hunting Season For Waterfowl Disclosed

The state department of wild life and fisheries recently announced the time schedule for hunting migratory waterfowl in Louisiana. This law applies to ducks, geese, coots, rails, and gallinules.

The legal shooting hours for 1951-52 are one half hour before sunrise to one hour before sunset.

The open season on ducks, geese, and coots will be November 2 to December 16 inclusive. Dove season will begin December 1 and end December 30. Open season on rails and gallinules began September 1 and will close October 30. Woodcock open season will begin December 22 to January 20.

GAVEL FROM CALIFORNIA

Singapore —(AP)— The lord president of Singapore's city council is wielding a new gavel.

It is a gift from Mayor Elmer E. Robinson, of San Francisco.

The gavel, made from the wood of a 2,000 year-old California giant redwood tree, was flown here and handed over by U. S. Vice-consul Oscar Armstrong to T. P. F. McNeice.

NO ONE INDICTED

Jonesville, Oct. 20.—(Special)—The Catahoula parish grand jury considered three bills of information when it met this week, but no indictments were returned.

REV. ROBERTS IS TO VISIT MONROE

Will Arrive Monday To Aid In Sunday School Campaign

Rev. L. Mark Roberts, Sunday School state secretary for Louisiana Baptist, ill arrive Monday to guide Baptist churches of Ouachita parish in a Sunday School enlargement campaign. The dates for the campaign are October 22-26.

The following are the churches known to be participating: Bosco, Calvary, Center Point, Oak Grove, Cleft Rock, College Place, Edgewood, Fairbanks, Fair Parks, Faith, Good Hope, Locharbor, Memorial Park, Monroe First, Parkview, Peniel, Swartz, Temple Trinity, West Monroe First. Others possibly will join the campaign. The aim is to add 15 Sunday School scholars for every 100 resident church members.

Some of the leaders in the various churches are: Miss Doris Cutrer at Calvary, Mrs. W. G. Rutledge at Oak Grove, Center Point, Clark Springs, Homer Coleman of Cleft Rock, Delbert Norvel at College Place, E. L. Averette at Edgewood, Mrs. A. L. New at Fairbanks, Ralph Stultz at Fair Park, R. B. Kitchingham at Faith, R. L. Ross at Memorial Park, Irby Cox with First Monroe, L. Mark Roberts at Parkview, Leon Ivey at Peniel, H. N. Roach at Swartz, E. W. Edwards at Temple, Alfred Schwab at Trinity, and Roland Crowder at first West Monroe.

The workers will meet daily beginning Tuesday in the First Baptist Church of Monroe for reports and conferences about the enlargement campaign.

The Baptist Sunday Schools of the parish showed a net gain of 13 per cent in the associational year just closed. The Ouachita Parish Associational Sunday School leads all others in Louisiana.

Here is an excerpt from a letter written by a Louisiana Cotton Farmer which describes our present cotton situation.

" . . . The 1951 crop is by far the most expensive in history and yet cotton is selling today from fifty to sixty dollars per bale under the ceiling prices at which it was selling when this crop was planted.

At that time, the South was urged to raise a sixteen-million bale crop, as this was the very minimum needed for domestic consumption and export to friendly nations. It was emphasized that this amount would leave no surplus and shouldn't depress the market. The market did hold at or near ceiling prices until the crop was planted and until the merchants had disposed of 1950 holdings.

Textiles then and now are selling on a basis of at least 50c raw cotton. If you doubt it, see the prices the farmer is paying for cotton-picking sacks . . . "

WILL IT HAPPEN AGAIN?

There are a number of very sound reasons why higher prices should prevail later on. We advise you to place your cotton in the Mid-South Loan and hold on for awhile. Those who have patronized Mid-South's Loan and Marketing program during the past years, have benefited by using it.

We no longer advise farmers to sell above the loan (floor), but to sell as near ceiling prices (top) as possible.

What is the age of GLAMOUR?

The age of glamour is any age at which a woman's beauty and charm make her most fascinating! She's seldom under "30"...she's usually in her "40's" or older...and she invariably devotes time and care to keep her skin naturally lovely and youthful looking... without the use of "cover-up" cosmetics.

For over 15 years, thousands of women have achieved this naturally youthful look with Endocreme . . . because Endocreme, with its exclusive hormone ingredient "Activol" actually regenerates ageing skin cells and tissue for most women... smooths out lines and wrinkles... firms up the skin ...makes it look more youthful. Isn't it worth finding out for yourself? A full month's supply only $3.50 plus tax.

Dwight L. Moody once wrote: "I prayed for faith, and thought that some day faith would come down and strike me like lightning. But faith did not seem to come. One day I read the tenth chapter of Romans, "Now faith comes by hearing, and hearing by the word of God.' I had closed my Bible and prayed for faith. I now opened my Bible and began to study, and faith has been growing ever since."

ASK POWER LINE TO CROSS RIVER

Concordia Cooperative Wants Aerial Crossing At Monterey

Ferriday, La., Oct. 20.—(Special)—The Vicksburg district corps of engineers is considering the application of the Concordia Electric Cooperative, Inc., Vidalia, for approval of plans for the construction of a temporary aerial power line crossing of the Black river at a point about 1½ miles northeast of Monterey and 39.7 miles above the mouth of the river.

Plans submitted by the applicant show a two - line crossing spaced horizontally consisting of one 7,620 volt-single phase circuit. The channel span will have a horizontal clearance of 1,040 feet and will be supported on crossarms attached to wooden poles rising about 93 feet above the top banks of the stream. The channel span will have a minimum vertical clearance of 70 feet above high water elevation of 61.4 feet, M. S. L.

The purposed installation is for the purpose of continuing electric service to the Smithland Point area during the construction of the Smithland Neck Cut-off. The aerial river crossing will be removed after the completion of the cut-off and new levee.

Plans may be seen at the office of the Vicksburg district corps of engineers, post office building, Vicksburg, Miss.; the Vidalia area office, Vicksburg district corps of engineers, Vidalia, La.; or at the office of the applicant at Vidalia, La.

All interested parties are invited to communicate with the district engineer, Vicksburg, district, at the above address, expressing any objections to the proposed work or suggesting any change that may be considered desired, particularly as to navigation. It is requested that such communications be forwarded so as to reach the district office not later than Nov. 15.

Singing Meet Will Be Held In Winnsboro

Winnsboro, La., Oct. 20.—(Special)—The Louisiana State Singing Convention will be held in the high school auditorium at Winnsboro Saturday night November 3rd, and all day Sunday, November 4. According to J. E. Richardson, president of the Franklin parish singing convention, this state convention is sponsored by the Franklin parish singing convention, all the singing groups in the parish and all those throughout the parish who appreciate good singing and like to hear new songs. Everyone is invited.

On Thursday night November 1, there will be a doubleheader concert at the Winnsboro High School auditorium. This concert will feature good singing, light comedy and clean fun for young and old. Presenting the concert will be Joe Roper's Stamps-Baxter Melody Boys from radio station KARK and Joe Roper — the pianist who never smiles — with Allen Brothers-Stamps quartette from KALB Alexandria.

ST. MATTHEW'S GIVING TEST

First Six Weeks Of New Year Ending; Many Projects Planned

With the completion of tests for the first six weeks' term the school goes into another stretch of effort and endeavor. Students who perhaps have not come up to their highest expectations thus far in academic grades, are going forward anew with even more zest and enthusiasm to reap a victory.

Plans are being drawn by the St. Matthew's Debating club to enter soon into word conflicts with teams of other schools. Clinics and other aids to students are in the offing, and all persons concerned seem to be right on the mark to go ahead and bring back the laurels to their school.

On Friday, October 19, the staff of the Matthuan, the school Yearbook entertained with a Jackson street jamboree featuring skating and dancing on the newly paved court yard. All proceeds realized will be applied to publishing the school's annual. The editor, Miss Rosina Lisotta, '52, was in charge of the program and social.

St. Matthew's P.-T. A. met with their president, Mrs. Albert Theriot on Friday, October 19, in the gymnasium meeting room, and went on record as voting to change from P.-T. A. to Mothers' club. The ladies feel that thus organized they will be able to retain greater funds for immediate use in the school.

Mildred is My Name is the one-act comedy title that the speech class is presently interested in, in an effort to improve their stage abilities, and likewise to raise a bit of money to send delegates to a meeting to be held in the near future in Ruston. BAPTISTS PLAN ON NEW CENTER

Propose To Erect Student Building; Churches To Be Asked To Aid

Baptist churches of Ouachita parish in their annual associational meeting last week launched a new campaign for funds to build a Baptist student center at Northeast Louisiana College.

The site at College avenue and DeSiard street has already been purchased, payments are being made and the association voted to continue the campaign until completed.

Rev. C. S. Cadwallader, Jr., is chairman of the steering committee to carry forward the plans to secure funds. Sunday November 18, has been approved by the churches as Baptist students Sunday when all churches will take up an offering for the building.

Baptist churches in the entire area are to be asked to aid in the financing of the project.

H. K. Litton, Monroe businessman and Baptist leader, will serve as treasurer for the campaign.

PRICE SUPPORT ON OATS

Ferriday, La., Oct. 20.—(Special)—The department of agriculture has announced price support on 1952 crop oats at seventy-eight cents per bushel for Grade No. Three or better, according to Marie Saxe, parish administrative officer of Concordia parish PMA. The price in 1952 will be supported by the commodity credit corporation through farm storage loans, warehouse storage, loans and purchase agreements will be available through the offices of PMA county committees from time of harvest through January 31, 1953, she said.

Where else can you buy so much for $1285?

Nothing equals the thrill of creating your own music. On the Spinet Model Hammond Organ, with its wonderful full big-organ tones, you have at your command the countless voices of music—from the triumphant surge of the brasses to the soft whisper of strings.

Nothing else that you could buy will give you so much pleasure, so much relaxation, year after year.

You needn't know music. In fact, you need never have had any musical training at all. You can learn to play lovely music on the Spinet Model in less than a month. Thousands have already done so.

The Spinet Model Hammond Organ is a complete two-manual-and-pedal organ, with tone equipment built right in. You just plug in and start to play. Operating and maintenance costs are negligible. Why not stop in and see it soon? No obligation.

ASK POWER LINE TO CROSS RIVER

Concordia Cooperative Wants Aerial Crossing At Monterey

Ferriday, La., Oct. 20.—(Special)—The Vicksburg district corps of engineers is considering the application of the Concordia Electric Cooperative, Inc., Vidalia, for approval of plans for the construction of a temporary aerial power line crossing of the Black river at a point about 1½ miles northeast of Monterey and 39.7 miles above the mouth of the river.

Plans submitted by the applicant show a two - line crossing spaced horizontally consisting of one 7,620 volt-single phase circuit. The channel span will have a horizontal clearance of 1,040 feet and will be supported on crossarms attached to wooden poles rising about 93 feet above the top banks of the stream. The channel span will have a minimum vertical clearance of 70 feet above high water elevation of 61.4 feet, M. S. L.

The purposed installation is for the purpose of continuing electric service to the Smithland Point area during the construction of the Smithland Neck Cut-off. The aerial river crossing will be removed after the completion of the cut-off and new levee.

Plans may be seen at the office of the Vicksburg district corps of engineers, post office building, Vicksburg, Miss.; the Vidalia area office, Vicksburg district corps of engineers, Vidalia, La.; or at the office of the applicant at Vidalia, La.

All interested parties are invited to communicate with the district engineer, Vicksburg, district, at the above address, expressing any objections to the proposed work or suggesting any change that may be considered desired, particularly as to navigation. It is requested that such communications be forwarded so as to reach the district office not later than Nov. 15.

Singing Meet Will Be Held In Winnsboro

Winnsboro, La., Oct. 20.—(Special)—The Louisiana State Singing Convention will be held in the high school auditorium at Winnsboro Saturday night November 3rd, and all day Sunday, November 4. According to J. E. Richardson, president of the Franklin parish singing convention, this state convention is sponsored by the Franklin parish singing convention, all the singing groups in the parish and all those throughout the parish who appreciate good singing and like to hear new songs. Everyone is invited.

On Thursday night November 1, there will be a doubleheader concert at the Winnsboro High School auditorium. This concert will feature good singing, light comedy and clean fun for young and old. Presenting the concert will be Joe Roper's Stamps-Baxter Melody Boys from radio station KARK and Joe Roper — the pianist who never smiles — with Allen Brothers-Stamps quartette from KALB Alexandria.

ST. MATTHEW'S GIVING TEST

First Six Weeks Of New Year Ending; Many Projects Planned

With the completion of tests for the first six weeks' term the school goes into another stretch of effort and endeavor. Students who perhaps have not come up to their highest expectations thus far in academic grades, are going forward anew with even more zest and enthusiasm to reap a victory.

Plans are being drawn by the St. Matthew's Debating club to enter soon into word conflicts with teams of other schools. Clinics and other aids to students are in the offing, and all persons concerned seem to be right on the mark to go ahead and bring back the laurels to their school.

On Friday, October 19, the staff of the Matthuan, the school Yearbook entertained with a Jackson street jamboree featuring skating and dancing on the newly paved court yard. All proceeds realized will be applied to publishing the school's annual. The editor, Miss Rosina Lisotta, '52, was in charge of the program and social.

St. Matthew's P.-T. A. met with their president, Mrs. Albert Theriot on Friday, October 19, in the gymnasium meeting room, and went on record as voting to change from P.-T. A. to Mothers' club. The ladies feel that thus organized they will be able to retain greater funds for immediate use in the school.

Mildred is My Name is the one-act comedy title that the speech class is presently interested in, in an effort to improve their stage abilities, and likewise to raise a bit of money to send delegates to a meeting to be held in the near future in Ruston. More and more power to all the leaders at St. Matthew's and to all workers there.

BAPTISTS PLAN ON NEW CENTER

Propose To Erect Student Building; Churches To Be Asked To Aid

Baptist churches of Ouachita parish in their annual associational meeting last week launched a new campaign for funds to build a Baptist student center at Northeast Louisiana College.

The site at College avenue and DeSiard street has already been purchased, payments are being made and the association voted to continue the campaign until completed.

Rev. C. S. Cadwallader, Jr., is chairman of the steering committee to carry forward the plans to secure funds. Sunday November 18, has been approved by the churches as Baptist students Sunday when all churches will take up an offering for the building.

Baptist churches in the entire area are to be asked to aid in the financing of the project.

H. K. Litton, Monroe businessman and Baptist leader, will serve as treasurer for the campaign.

PRICE SUPPORT ON OATS

Ferriday, La., Oct. 20.—(Special)—The department of agriculture has announced price support on 1952 crop oats at seventy-eight cents per bushel for Grade No. Three or better, according to Marie Saxe, parish administrative officer of Concordia parish PMA. The price in 1952 will be supported by the commodity credit corporation through farm storage loans, warehouse storage, loans and purchase agreements will be available through the offices of PMA county committees from time of harvest through January 31, 1953, she said.

Where else can you buy so much for $1285?

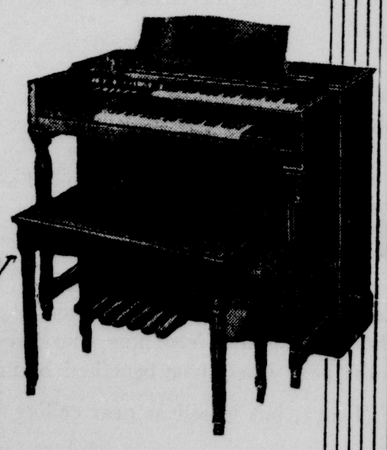

Nothing equals the thrill of creating your own music. On the Spinet Model Hammond Organ, with its wonderful full big-organ tones, you have at your command the countless voices of music—from the triumphant surge of the brasses to the soft whisper of strings.

Nothing else that you could buy will give you so much pleasure, so much relaxation, year after year.

You needn't know music. In fact, you need never have had any musical training at all. You can learn to play lovely music on the Spinet Model in less than a month. Thousands have already done so.

The Spinet Model Hammond Organ is a complete two-manual-and-pedal organ, with tone equipment built right in. You just plug in and start to play. Operating and maintenance costs are negligible. Why not stop in and see it soon? No obligation.

The very thought of hell is awakening. To be lost means more than a ship lost at sea without a compass; more than a child lost in a desert on the darkest night; more than a person lost in a trackless wilderness or pathless forest; more than a man in an unexplored cavern with its unseen pitfalls and fetid gorges. To be lost in hell means separation from God for ever and ever. There everyone will hear the deafening roar of hellish agonies through all the ageless aeons, the guttural sound of eternal doom of hell's unmuffled thunders, and the indescribable shrieks of the damned. "Bind him hand and foot, . . . and cast him into outer darkness; there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth." It is never ending. Every demon, every damned soul mutters, "Eternal death"! It is engraved upon every bolt and bar, "Eternal death"! There is the impassable gulf! Oh, eternal death!

"Is there a hell?" one asks....

If there is not, the powerful preachers of the ages have preached a colossal hoax. Jonathan Edwards pictured hell with convincing argument. Christ has given the most horrible picture of hell that has ever been drawn. Read Luke 16:19-31.

Justice makes the doctrine of hell a necessity. The one who claims hell is unjust would not want all the criminals turned loose on society. People believe that crime should be punished. Every city has its garbage dump, every nation has its laws.

If there is no hell, Christ's death on Calvary is the highest price ever paid for folly.

What is hell?

It is a place of eternal separation from God, a place of everlasting punishment. "But . . . the abominable, and murderers, and whoremongers, and sorcerers, and idolaters, and all liars shall have their part in the lake which burneth with fire and brimstone." The rich man cried, "I am tormented in this flame." It is "a bottomless pit," "everlasting burning."

You can trust Jesus and be saved....

We are free moral agents. We choose our destiny. Before us are good and evil. Christ died for our sins. If we trust him, we will be saved. If we fail to trust him, we will be lost. "If thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt believe in thine heart that God hath raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved." To trust Jesus means to choose life eternal; to reject him means to choose eternal separation from God-hell. This is no light matter. It settles one's eternal destiny.

"The places that now know us will soon know us no more forever." Life is short. It comes and goes. Eternity is near. God warns and beckons, "Come."

Is There a "HELL?"

Is there such a place? Eternal separation from God? How may we know? What is hell?

The very thought of hell is awakening. To be lost means more than a ship lost at sea without a compass; more than a child lost in a desert on the darkest night; more than a person lost in a trackless wilderness or pathless forest; more than a man in an unexplored cavern with its unseen pitfalls and fetid gorges. To be lost in hell means separation from God for ever and ever. There everyone will hear the deafening roar of hellish agonies through all the ageless aeons, the guttural sound of eternal doom of hell's unmuffled thunders, and the indescribable shrieks of the damned. "Bind him hand and foot, . . . and cast him into outer darkness; there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth." It is never ending. Every demon, every damned soul mutters, "Eternal death"! It is engraved upon every bolt and bar, "Eternal death"! There is the impassable gulf! Oh, eternal death!

"Is there a hell?" one asks....

If there is not, the powerful preachers of the ages have preached a colossal hoax. Jonathan Edwards pictured hell with convincing argument. Christ has given the most horrible picture of hell that has ever been drawn. Read Luke 16:19-31.

Justice makes the doctrine of hell a necessity. The one who claims hell is unjust would not want all the criminals turned loose on society. People believe that crime should be punished. Every city has its garbage dump, every nation has its laws.

If there is no hell, Christ's death on Calvary is the highest price ever paid for folly.

What is hell?

It is a place of eternal separation from God, a place of everlasting punishment. "But . . . the abominable, and murderers, and whoremongers, and sorcerers, and idolaters, and all liars shall have their part in the lake which burneth with fire and brimstone." The rich man cried, "I am tormented in this flame." It is "a bottomless pit," "everlasting burning."

You can trust Jesus and be saved....

We are free moral agents. We choose our destiny. Before us are good and evil. Christ died for our sins. If we trust him, we will be saved. If we fail to trust him, we will be lost. "If thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt believe in thine heart that God hath raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved." To trust Jesus means to choose life eternal; to reject him means to choose eternal separation from God-hell. This is no light matter. It settles one's eternal destiny.

"The places that now know us will soon know us no more forever." Life is short. It comes and goes. Eternity is near. God warns and beckons, "Come."

'CYRANO' AT TEM TODAY

The poignant balcony scene from Stanley Kramer's magnificent production of Rostand's "Cyrano de Bergerac," with Jose Ferrer as Cyrano, William Prince as Christian and Mala Powers as Roxane. The picture opens its first popular price engagement at the Tem Theatre today through United Artists release. Ferrer won the coveted Academy Award for his superb performance in the title role, while the picture was still being road-shown. It was in this sequence that Cyrano spoke the impassioned lines of love that Christian whispered to Roxane to win her hand in marriage.

CLAIBORNE CLUB HOLDS MEETING

Reports Rendered And Members And Guest Served Refreshments

The Claiborne Home Demonstration club held its first meeting of the year in the home of Mrs. W. J. Dunn, highway 80, the past week. As president of the group, Mrs. Dunn called the meeting to order with the singing of "Onward Christian Soldiers," and the thought for the month was given as "Happiness is the legitimate frutiage of love and service." Mrs. Eley read a poem, "What I Call Living."

Mrs. A. I. Albright gave an interesting report on the council meeting; and home management chairman, Mrs. E. C. Gaskin, reported on the proper building of a kitchen cabinet.

Mrs. M. E. Robinson, in the absence of the garden chairman, reported on that line while Mrs. C. D. Henderson reported on food preparation. Mrs. Dunn discussed poultry. Furniture arrangement was discussed by Mrs. Euna Spielman.

Members present were: Mrs. A. I. Albright, J. R. Frantom, E. C. Gaskin, C. D. Henderson, Myrtle Hattaway, M. E. Robinson, L. C. Willett, H. O. Eley, M. M. Bayles, L. A. Maloy, O. L. Lebo, and Mrs. William Norris Jr., was guest.

Delicious refreshments were served.

Millsaps Busy In Electing Its Queen

Students at Millsaps School are busily engaged in choosing a queen to preside over the P.-T. A. Halloween carnival which has become an annual tradition at the school and will be held this year on Friday night, October 26, beginning at six thirty.

The crowning of the queen will take place immediately following the parade of costumed children. The contest for queen will close at three o'clock in the afternoon of Wednesday, Oct. 24.

Each class room in school has named a candidate. They are as follows: Jan Shepherd, Kathryn Metcalf, Dolores Everritt, Julia Wilhite, Sharon Ary, Martha Norriss, Pamela Hearne, Ja Nell Gentry, Glenda Griffin, Coralie Heard, June Parker, Judy Lee, Mattie Holcomb, Peggy Traxler, Jonnie Marie Avery, Barbara Ann Alexander and Gayle Roark.

Misses Mary Wallace and Betty Green were week-end visitors in Lake Charles and Port Arthur, Tex. last week end.

Mrs. Gladys Drane, Mrs. Louis Jones and children, Bob and Ann, spent Saturday in Monroe.

Warner Film Traces Career of Sports Hero

Another great film biography comes to the local screen on Wed. when "Jim Thorpe—All American," starring Burt Lancaster in the title role, opens at the Paramount Theatre. A tender love story, a thrilling sportsman's saga, a story of an American Indian who became one of the most widely acclaimed heroes of his day, the real life story of Jim Thorpe packs more interest and drama than half a dozen fictional pieces.

"World's Greatest Athlete"

Phyllis Thaxter plays the girl for whom Jim turned from track to the glamorous sport of football to become the nation's number one star. He apparently impressed her, a fellow student at Carlisle Indian School, for they were married when Thorpe returned from Europe where he performed the prodigious feat of winning both decathlon and pentathlon events in the 1912 Olympics. It was in Stockholm that the King of Sweden crowned him champ and said, "You, sir, are the greatest athlete in the world."

Thorpe Still Active

Much drama followed, however, and life held many more battles for the fleet Indian boy. Thorpe is today alive and well and living in California where he engages in youth athletic work, a lifelong desire. Last year he was acclaimed by the sportswriters of America in a nationwide vote, "the greatest athlete of the first half of the twentieth century."

Charles Bickford essays the role of "Pop" Warner, the coach and friend of Thorpe. Steve Cochran, Jack Big Head and Suni Warcloud are also in the cast of "Jim Thorpe—All American," for Warners.

Annual Meet Of Baptists Is Set

Jonesville, Oct. 20.—(Special)—The annual meeting of the Ouachita Baptist Association will be held Tuesday, October 30, at the New Era Baptist Church in Concordia parish. Approximately 300 persons are expected to attend the all-day program.

The Ouachita Association is composed of 20 Baptist churches in Catahoula parish and in parts of LaSalle and Concordia parishes. R J. O. McNair, pastor of the Jonesville First Baptist Church, is moderator.

The uarsees of India, for many years, have disposed of their dead by placing the bodies on towers where vultures eat them.

The president of the United States receives his salary in semi-monthly installments.

COMING TO PARAMOUNT

Burt Lancaster and Phyllis Thaxter, shown above, are starred in "Jim Thorpe, All-American," the life story of one of the most world popular athletes of all time. "Jim Thorpe" starts a four-day engagement at the Paramount Theatre Wednesday.

PALACE PLANS FASHION SHOW

Will Be Staged In Connection With Bob Hope Appearance

The Palace is completing plans this week for a special fashion show to be given in connection with the Bob Hope show Saturday afternoon, Oct. 27, at Neville High School auditorium.

Bob Hope, the nation's top comedian, will be master of ceremony at the style show. He will introduce the models, describe their costumes and give a brief sketch of each in addition to his scores of jokes.

Music for the show will be provided by Les Brown and his famous orchestra.

Ten of the Twin Cities most attractive young ladies will model the fashions all of which have been described as the very latest styles and truly high fashions.

The fashion review is being tied in with the Bob Hope show and will be presented during the show.

Marylyn Maxwell will also be with the Bob Hope caravan.

Local models selected to model fashions for the Palace at the style show include: Sue Ann Windes, Dolores Wallace, Mary Lou Young, Gloria Sunderland, Sue Madison, Mrs. Janice Kitchingham.

Other model's names will be announced later in the week.

Fashions to be modeled will include three suits, three dresses, three evening gowns and one coat.

For many centuries, the Chinese kept the secret of silk. They made the outside world believe it was combed from trees.

There are 80,000 miles of steel wire in the two main load-supporting cables of the Golden Gate bridge.

Pleated Rayon Crepe

Rayon crepe of Avisco yarn is making news this fall in many new-looking weaves. This smartly pleated basic dress is made with one of the most popular of these — a smooth crisp finish with a springy hand. It will stand up to years of wear and cleaning. A pretty color-coordinated jacket adds extra appeal to this style.

"Shortcut" Ice Cream Cake Roll

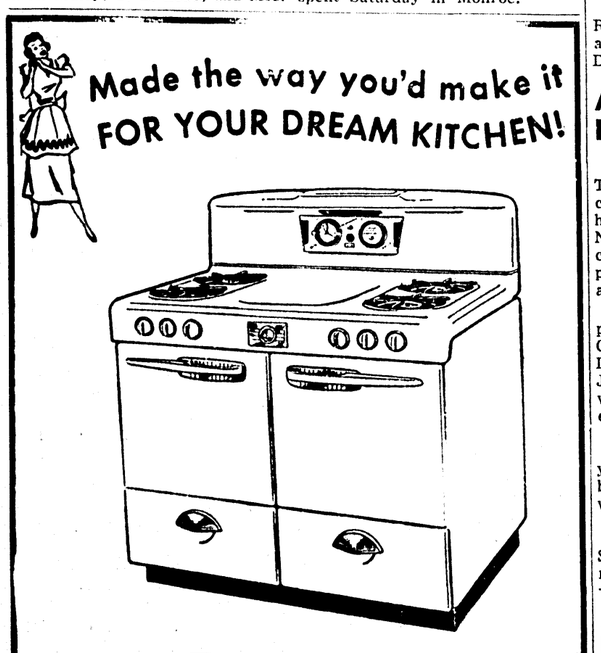

HERE'S a luscious ice cream dessert with a "homemade" air about it — but no long hours of preparation behind it! Get a store-bought jelly roll and a pint of your favorite ice cream. Unroll the jelly roll. Spread it generously with slightly softened ice cream and re-roll it. Finally, wrap the roll snugly in moisture-proof Sylvania Cellophane, seal the edges with cellophane tape, and freeze firmly. You'll find the film will not stick to the cake during freezing, and can be removed easily without distorting the roll. Slice and serve with whipped cream and a cherry.

New Rayon Suit

There's good news for men in this fall's handsome rayon suits of Avisco rayon. Aside from their budget price and comfortable weight for winter weather, they feature special spot-resistant finishes that are a real boon. Any water-borne stain such as coffee, milk, rain or fruit juice will leave no mark if wiped off quickly with a damp cloth — wives as well as husbands appreciate this easy-to-care-for feature!

'CYRANO' AT TEM TODAY

The poignant balcony scene from Stanley Kramer's magnificent production of Rostand's "Cyrano de Bergerac," with Jose Ferrer as Cyrano, William Prince as Christian and Mala Powers as Roxane. The picture opens its first popular price engagement at the Tem Theatre today through United Artists release. Ferrer won the coveted Academy Award for his superb performance in the title role, while the picture was still being road-shown. It was in this sequence that Cyrano spoke the impassioned lines of love that Christian whispered to Roxane to win her hand in marriage.

CLAIBORNE CLUB HOLDS MEETING

Reports Rendered And Members And Guest Served Refreshments

The Claiborne Home Demonstration club held its first meeting of the year in the home of Mrs. W. J. Dunn, highway 80, the past week. As president of the group, Mrs. Dunn called the meeting to order with the singing of "Onward Christian Soldiers," and the thought for the month was given as "Happiness is the legitimate frutiage of love and service." Mrs. Eley read a poem, "What I Call Living."

Mrs. A. I. Albright gave an interesting report on the council meeting; and home management chairman, Mrs. E. C. Gaskin, reported on the proper building of a kitchen cabinet.

Mrs. M. E. Robinson, in the absence of the garden chairman, reported on that line while Mrs. C. D. Henderson reported on food preparation. Mrs. Dunn discussed poultry. Furniture arrangement was discussed by Mrs. Euna Spielman.

Misses Mary Wallace and Betty Green were week-end visitors in Lake Charles and Port Arthur, Tex. last week end.

Mrs. Gladys Drane, Mrs. Louis Jones and children, Bob and Ann, spent Saturday in Monroe.

Warner Film Traces Career of Sports Hero

Another great film biography comes to the local screen on Wed. when "Jim Thorpe—All American," starring Burt Lancaster in the title role, opens at the Paramount Theatre. A tender love story, a thrilling sportsman's saga, a story of an American Indian who became one of the most widely acclaimed heroes of his day, the real life story of Jim Thorpe packs more interest and drama than half a dozen fictional pieces.

"World's Greatest Athlete"

Phyllis Thaxter plays the girl for whom Jim turned from track to the glamorous sport of football to become the nation's number one star. He apparently impressed her, a fellow student at Carlisle Indian School, for they were married when Thorpe returned from Europe where he performed the prodigious feat of winning both decathlon and pentathlon events in the 1912 Olympics. It was in Stockholm that the King of Sweden crowned him champ and said, "You, sir, are the greatest athlete in the world."

Thorpe Still Active

Much drama followed, however, and life held many more battles for the fleet Indian boy. Thorpe is today alive and well and living in California where he engages in youth athletic work, a lifelong desire. Last year he was acclaimed by the sportswriters of America in a nationwide vote, "the greatest athlete of the first half of the twentieth century."

Charles Bickford essays the role of "Pop" Warner, the coach and friend of Thorpe. Steve Cochran, Jack Big Head and Suni Warcloud are also in the cast of "Jim Thorpe —All American," for Warners.

Progressive Men's Club Is Destroyed

The Progressive Men's club, located at Selman Field, was completely destroyed by fire early Saturday, according to Monroe firemen.

Firemen, who answered the alarm at 4:02 a. m. Saturday, stated that the fire was well under way when they arrived. Cause of the destructive fire was undetermined and damages had not been fixed late Saturday.

Engines 111, 105, and 103 answered the call. The building, which belongs to a private club, was one bought from the United States government, after the closing of Selman field.

'Adventures Of Captain Fabian' At Paramount

Republic's new dramatic adventure-romance, "Adventures of Captain Fabian," which begins its run at the Paramount Theater today, with Errol Flynn and lovely Micheline Prelle in the co-starring roles, reputedly had one of the longest production schedules for any American picture produced in Europe with the exception of "Quo Vadis."

According to William Marshall, who produced and directed the new film, a total of 10 months was spent in Europe for both pre-production preparation and actual filming. This included the establishing of locations in France, extensive and elaborate costuming, casting of the picture with native talent and the numerous other detailed features of production.

The actual time that cameras were grinding on the thrilling drama totaled five months.

STARTS THURSDAY AT JOY

'Anne Of The Indies' Plays At The Joy Theater Thursday

In the best Hollywood traditions of lavish picture - making, "Anne of the Indies," starting Thursday at the Joy Theater, is alive with action, studded with spectacle and tantalizing in Technicolor. Recounting the legendary exploits of Captain Providence, last of the colorful corsairs to prowl the Caribbean in search of fat merchantmen prizes, it gains its real distinction from the fact its "pirate king" is a woman. To put it bluntly, this Anne of the Indies, otherwise Captain Providence, is no lady, a figure to be set with Long John Silver, Henry Morgan and Jean La Fitte—only far prettier, as enacted by Jean Peters.

It is Miss Peters who fills the diverse and demanding leading role to complete satisfaction. Whether swashbuckling her way through fistfights, taking the upper hand in making love to French sea captain Louis Jourdan, brandishing a lively sword in play with her pirate mentor, Blackbeard, mercilessly ordering men to walk a mean plank, or lashing lovely Debra Paget to the mast, Miss Peters cuts an athletic and romantic figure with vigor and ability.

Co - stars Jourdan and Miss Paget, though often at the wrong end of a bullwhip or being led through the slave market to suit Miss Peters' whims, make out all right in the end, which is also part of the tradition upheld gloriously and persuasively by "Anne of the Indies." Bloody brawls, sword duels, pistol scrapes and the committing of general movie mayhem, none of it commonplace and all of it radiantly Technicolored, are the film's highlights, and by the time the sighted happy ending comes around you know you've enjoyed a full, rounded and immensely entertaining film adventure.

It would be difficult to suppose anyone better endowed to steer the course of "Anne of the Indies" than Miss Peters. She is gifted in all ways, and all her gifts are thoughtfully shown off by the cameras. Running her strong competition are co-stars Jourdan and Miss Paget, who shape up as a romantic team of unusual appeal.

Herbert Marshall figures importantly in the cast as a rum-soaked doctor on board, and Thomas Gomez scores as the massive master pirate Blackbeard, James Robertson Justice is on hand to do a memorable first mate impersonation in the logbook of "Anne of the Indies" credits.

With an eye on rugged action at all times, Director Jacques Tourneur has weathered a stormy but rewarding course under the charter provided by Producer George Jessel. In the new Philip Dunner and Arthur Caesar screen play, based on a story by Herbert Ravenel Sass, Twentieth Century - Fox has brought forth a lusty and healthy screen baby. Audiences of all ages will find it exciting, eye-filling and magnificently mounted in every way.

Progressive Men's Club Is Destroyed

The Progressive Men's club, located at Selman Field, was completely destroyed by fire early Saturday, according to Monroe firemen.

Firemen, who answered the alarm at 4:02 a. m. Saturday, stated that the fire was well under way when they arrived. Cause of the destructive fire was undetermined and damages had not been fixed late Saturday.

Engines 111, 105, and 103 answered the call. The building, which belongs to a private club, was one bought from the United States government, after the closing of Selman field.

The world produces nearly $2,000,000,000 pounds of tea annually.

'Adventures Of Captain Fabian' At Paramount

Republic's new dramatic adventure-romance. "Adventures of Captain Fabian," which begins its run at the Paramount Theater today, with Errol Flynn and lovely Micheline Prelle in the co-starring roles, reputedly had one of the longest production schedules for any American picture produced in Europe with the exception of "Quo Vadis."

According to William Marshall, who produced and directed the new film, a total of 10 months was spent in Europe for both pre-production preparation and actual filming. This included the establishing of locations in France, extensive and elaborate costuming, casting of the picture with native talent and the numerous other detailed features of production.

The actual time that cameras were grinding on the thrilling drama totaled five months.

Featured in highly specialized characterizations with the dashing Flynn and lovely Micheline are Vincent Price, noted character actor of stage and screen. Agnes Moorehead and Victor Francen.

Marshall, himself a former Hollywood star, makes his debut as producer-director on the picture.

New FAB washes clothes WHITER WITH NO BLEACHING!

FAB CUTS DISHWASHING TIME IN HALF! Just soak dishes, glasses, pots and pans in Fab suds. If a bit of food clings, whisk it away with your dishcloth. Fab gives you shiny-clean dishes with no washing! No hard scouring! No wiping!

A COLGATE-PALMOLIVE-PEET PRODUCT

YES, WHITER AND CLEANER THAN ANY SOAP WITH BLEACHING!

IT'S AMAZING—BUT TRUE! New Fab washes clothes whiter without bleaching — keeps washable colors looking brighter! Yes, Fab washes whiter without bleaching than any soap, any other "no-rinse" suds or any washing product known with bleach in the wash water.

And, freshly rinsed Fab clothes are cleaner than any soap can get them! Fab washes out grimy dirt, leaves no dulling soap film in the hardest water. Whites get whiter and whiter . . . colors get brighter . . . and Fab gives you the world's sweetest-smelling wash!

SAVE WORK! Fab immediately loosens dirt. No soaking is needed! Fab keeps dirt floating in the wash water. Wring out your clothes and the dirt wrings out! You can stop rinsing and save half your work!

SAVE CLOTHES! Fab—all by itself—washes dazzling white. You don't need bleach! So clothes last longer with no bleach to weaken fabrics . . . and no bleach to fade those pretty washable colors you love!

SAVE HANDS! New Fab is wonderfully mild to hands. In fact, you'll find mild, new Fab is safe to use on baby's clothes. What's more, Fab is kind to your own pretty washable clothes.

AND, YOU CAN STOP RINSING! Fab gives you the cleanest possible, sweetest-smelling "no-rinse" wash!

The PHANTOM

By LEE FALK and WILSON McCOY

I WONDER IF GRANDPA HAD TO FIGHT ONE THIS BIG?

HUH-NO NEED CLUB WITH LITTLE MAN! USE BARE HANDS, TOO!

THE LAST TEST TO PROVE HE IS THE PHANTOM: A FIGHT TO THE DEATH WITH THE JUNGLE CHAMPION-THE HERMIT GIANT!

UH!!

THE PHANTOM MOVES IN FAST, LANDING A HARD BLOW ON THE MIGHTY JAW!

HUH! NEED CLUB!

FURIOUS, THE GIANT SNATCHES UP HIS CLUB AGAIN-- BEFORE THE PHANTOM CAN REACH IT-

WOW! IF HE LANDS, HE'LL KNOCK ME A MILE! I'VE GOT TO RISK CLOSING IN ON HIM--!

THE WATCHING CROWD GASPS AT THE MIGHTY SWING-

TO AVOID THE CLUB, THE PHANTOM RUSHES IN-THE GIANT ROARS WITH LAUGHTER-THIS IS WHAT HE WANTS!

WILSON McCOY 10-21

OF ALL PLACES FOR YOU TO GET UPPY WITH THE DRIVER AND GET US TOSSED OFF A BUS!

BELIEVE ME, THAT BUS COMPANY WILL NEVER GET ANOTHER DIME'S WORTH OF MY BUSINESS. I'LL WALK FIRST!

MY FEET FEEL IN NO MOOD FOR WALKING.

MOON ONCE HID BEHIND A TREE WHILE A GIRL HE WAS WITH FLAGGED DOWN A LIMOUSINE AND GOT THEM A RIDE... I COULD DO THAT.

YAS-BUT SHE WAS A PRETTY GIRL, MY DEAR.

GO CALL US A CAB.

IT SEEMS SORTA SILLY TRAVELING WAY OUT TO A ONE-HORSE TOWN JUST TO MOOCH A FEW PUNK MEALS OFF A RELATIVE.

WELL, DID YOU FIND A PHONE ON THAT FARM?

YES, THE TAXI PEOPLE SAID THEY'D SEND A CAB OUT FOR US.

HERE IT COMES NOW.

WHY DIDN'T YOU SAY SO BEFORE I SAT DOWN?

HOLD YOUR HORSES, DRIVER. MR. MULLINS HAS LOST HIS WALLET.

LET'S GO, MAMIE. WE CAN PAY THE MAN WITH A CHECK.

OH, NO, YOU CAN'T!

TAXI

I SUPPOSE YOUR RELATIVES HAVE ABOUT GIVEN US UP BY NOW, MAMIE.

OH, THEY DON'T KNOW WE'RE COMING. I WANT TO SURPRISE THEM.

WELL, HERE WE ARE. I HOPE AUNT EFFIE HAS SOMETHING IN TH' ICEBOX. I'M STARVED.

SO AM I, BUT I CAN'T EAT IN MY SLEEP.

NO USE OF YOU PEOPLE POUNDIN' ON THAT DOOR ALL NIGHT. THERE'S NOBODY HOME.

COL. INDEX—OUR DIFFERENCES CAN WAIT! — WHAT IS THAT SOUND—LIKE RUSHING WATER?

I-I DON'T KNOW, CANYON—THERE'S A WATER STORAGE TANK ON THE ROOF OF THIS HOUSE — IT---

THAT'S IT! THE REDS DUG A SPUR TUNNEL UNDER YOUR HOUSE SO IT WILL CONNECT WITH THAT TANK— THEN THEY CAN FLOOD A SECTION AT WILL! MRS. INDEX MUST HAVE DISAPPEARED INTO THAT PASSAGE!

M-MAYBE THEY'RE DROWNING DELTA!

THEY COULD SHOOT HER QUICKER! I THINK THE FLOODING IS BUYING US TIME—IF WE CAN FIND THAT TUNNEL ENTRANCE IN YOUR CELLAR!

MEANWHILE...

HURRY, SUKI SUSIE! THE YANKEES KNOW OF OUR TUNNEL!

I MUST TELL MRS. INDEX HOW TO STAY ALIVE AS THE WATER RISES!

WHEN THE WATER REACHES YOUR FACE, FLOAT UNTIL IT LIFTS YOU TO THE CEILING! IT WILL STOP JUST SHORT OF THE ROOF... YOU THEN GRASP THE WIRE TO SAVE YOURSELF FROM DROWNING...

...OF COURSE THE WIRE IS THE DETONATOR FOR THE EXPLOSIVES WE HAVE PLANTED UNDER EVERY KEY UNIT OF THE YANKEE AIR FORCE BASE! ...YOU SHALL HAVE THE HONOR OF SETTING OFF THE CHARGE TO SAVE YOURSELF!

...IT WILL BE SOME TIME BEFORE YOU FLOAT TO THE ROOF!..ENOUGH TIME FOR ME TO BE LONG GONE FROM EEL ISLAND! ENJOY YOUR DIP, SLEEK YANKEE CAT!

MR. BUCKET, MAYBE WE SHOULD HAVE TAKEN SUKI SUSIE UP ON HER INVITATION TO DINNER IN HER PRIVATE DINING ROOM! FROM HERE WE SEE NOTHING!

BUT NOTICE ONE THING, MR. FITCH, -THE PATRONS ARE YELLING FOR SERVICE, BUT SUKI SUSIE AND ALL THE WAITERS HAVE DISAPPEARED! LET'S GO!

THEY'RE RUNNING LIKE RATS LEAVING A SINKING SHIP—TOWARD THE FISHING BOAT ANCHORAGE! SOMETHING'S UP! COME ON!

HOW WILL MY FUTURE CHILDREN EXPLAIN THAT POP GOT A PURPLE HEART FOR BEING HIT OVER THE HEAD WITH A RED HERRING?

I'M TIRED TONIGHT... IT'LL BE GOOD TO GET HOME AND INTO MY SLIPPERS

DAGWOOD--GOOD NEWS! MRS. WOODLEY HAS INVITED US TO THE WONDERFUL DINNER-DANCE HER CLUB IS GIVING TONIGHT... IT'S FORMAL

I REFUSE TO PUT ON A TUXEDO

I'LL GIVE YOU EACH A QUARTER IF YOU HELP ME GET DADDY INTO HIS TUXEDO

OH, GOODY!

SURE--WE'LL HELP

YOU CAN'T MAKE ME... I REFUSE!

I'LL TACKLE HIM WHEN HE COMES AROUND HERE

KEEP HOLDING---I'VE ALMOST GOT HIS TROUSERS ON HIM

YOU CAN'T DO THIS TO ME... THIS IS A FREE COUNTRY

NOW, HOLD HIM WHILE I TIE HIS BOW TIE

NOW THAT YOU'RE ALL DRESSED UP SO PRETTY, DON'T YOU FEEL GOOD?

I FEEL TERRIBLE!

HERE COMES MRS. WOODLEY AND SHE'S CRYING

OH, BOO-HOO... HERBERT REFUSES TO PUT ON HIS TUXEDO FOR THE DANCE--HE SAYS HE'LL DIE FIRST

WHAT? AFTER MAKING ME GET DRESSED?

IT WAS HIS OWN WIFE WHO GOT ME INTO THIS MESS AND NOW HE'S NOT GOING TO GET OUT OF IT

PUT THESE PANTS ON

YOU CAN'T MAKE ME!

NO USE FIGHTING IT-- YOU'RE GOING TO GET DRESSED

OVER MY DEAD BODY!

OKAY, GIRLS-- WE'RE READY TO GO TO THE DINNER-DANCE

SEE THAT YOU CARRY OUT MY INSTRUCTIONS TO THE MOVERS-I'LL GO AHEAD TO OUR NEW HOME-ARE YOU LISTENING?

I'VE BEEN LISTENIN' EVER SINCE WE'VE BEEN MARRIED!

WELL-IF IT ISN'T O'HEALY! SINCE WHEN DID YOU GIT IN THE MOVING BUSINESS?

EVER SINCE I LEFT TH' WRECKING BUSINESS!

WELL-WHEN DO WE START?

CAREFUL-WHAT DO WE DO NEXT?

I WISH THE GUYS THAT PLAY PIANOS HAD TO MOVE 'EM!

BOYS! BE CAREFUL NOT TO SCRATCH IT!

I DON'T CARE IF YOU BREAK IT-

AH! ALL SET!!

WELL-WHAT DO WE DO NEXT?

PUT THIS ON TOP OF THE FISH-BOWL!!

I THINK WE'LL HAVE TO BEND THE STOVE TO GET THIS IN-

THAT'S A GOOD QUESTION-I'LL ASK JIGGS!

YEH-WHAT WILL WE DO NOW?

WOW!! I'VE FORGOTTEN TH' ADDRESS!

WELL-WHERE TO?

REKUM MOVING

WE'RE GITTIN' TO TH' OUTSKIRTS OF THE CITY--

WELL-WHAT'LL WE DO NOW?

WE'D BETTER UNPACK AN' START OUT IN TH' MORNIN'-

AN' IT'S MIDNIGHT-

WHERE TO NOW? I'M GITTIN' TIRED OF DRIVIN'-WE'VE BEEN ALL OVER TOWN!!

REKUM MOVING

WELL-BOYS-WE GOTTA HAVE SOMETHIN' TO EAT BEFORE WE HIT TH' HAY!

I SHOULD PHONE ME WIFE-SHE'LL WONDER WHERE I AM!

OH-ME-THIS IS GOING TO BE DIFFICULT TO EXPLAIN TO MAGGIE WHEN WE DO FIND OUT WHERE I LIVE!!

YOU SHOULD HAVE A COP GO WITH YOU!

WE'D BETTER MAKE CAMP HERE, LADS... IN THE MORNING WE'LL PROCEED THROUGH THE CANYON TO MALO THE VOLCANO...

AND LOCATE THE SOURCE OF THE RARE RADIANT ORE, WE HOPE!

TURN IN, BOYS, AND GET A GOOD SLEEP! IT'LL BE TOUGHER TOMORROW WHEN WE CLIMB THE VOLCANO!

BOY, I'M SURE TIRED! IT WAS A LONG HIKE TODAY!

SNOWBALL, WHAT DID YOU WAKE ME FOR?

TIM! TIM! ARE YOU AWAKE? LISTEN!

IT SOUNDS LIKE AN EAGLE SCREAMING!

IT SURE IS A SCARY SOUND!

COME NOW, LADS... AN EAGLE IS NOT GOING TO HARM ANYONE... WE'D BETTER GET SOME SLEEP!

DAWN:

WE'LL GET THINGS PACKED AND BE ON OUR WAY!

I'LL GET SNOWBALL!

S-SNOWBALL'S DISAPPEARED, MR. DUNEDIN! I-I CAN'T FIND HIM ANYWHERE!

THAT'S TOO BAD, TIM... IT MEANS WE'LL HAVE TO LEAVE THE HEAVY STUFF HERE!...

GOSH! THIS TRAIL SURE IS NARROW!

I WAS WONDERING IF YOU HAVE NOTICED HOW WELL-WORN IT IS, TIM... IT HAS BEEN USED FOR MANY, MANY YEARS, WHICH MIGHT PROVE THAT MALO IS AN EXTINCT VOLCANO...

ONE THING CERTAIN... THE PEOPLE WHO USED IT WEREN'T OVERWEIGHT! IT'S A TIGHT SQUEEZE!

I CAN SEE THE TRAIL WIDENS AHEAD OF US!
